

Sight Red Ship Departing Cuba With Bombers

Soviets Have Now Withdrawn 18 Planes From Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Russian ship carrying about 15 IL-28 bombers has been sighted outward bound from Cuba, it was learned today.

This brings to at least 18 the number of the nuclear-capable bombers the Russians have withdrawn from Cuba on the demand of the United States.

Last Monday, the Defense Department announced that the Soviet ship Okhotsk had been photographed with three IL-28 fuselages on the deck. The Pentagon released pictures showing the three plane bodies. The pictures were taken by U.S. naval patrol bombers assigned to watching for the withdrawal of the nuclear-capable bombers.

40 Planes Russian diplomatic authorities were understood to have notified the United States that a total of more than 40 of the 750-mile range bombers would be coming out.

And informed sources said the removal is at a pace that could have all the bombers off the island within a few days.

At the White House, the general situation was under review at a meeting this morning of the executive committee of the National Security Council.

UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and John J. McCloy, Cuban policy coordinator, came to Washington for the meeting.

No Development White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy had decided to call the meeting Wednesday night, but insisted it was not prompted by any specific development.

Salinger said the subject up for discussion was the continuing talks with Soviet representatives in New York on the Cuban situation.

Informants said the Soviets have taken a hard stand in New York negotiations against forcing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to accept international inspection which President Kennedy seeks to make certain Cuba stays free of atomic weapons.

Air Surveys Continue The United States appears prepared to continue aerial surveillance as a safeguard and let the diplomatic contest melt into the background — perhaps with a statement by each side explaining its position to the U.N. Security Council.

This would set the stage for a new and uncertain phase in East-West relations. The United States is expected to talk with the Soviets on a number of cold war issues.

The IL-28 jet bombers, along with 42 missiles pulled out of Cuba earlier, were the nuclear-capable long-range arms whose removal Kennedy demanded, terming them offensive weapons.

Engineer Sees Missile Fired

Told About Success Of Atlas During 5,000-Mile Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Karel J. Bossart, Belgium-born aeronautical engineer, watched proudly from atop a missile hanger as a great silvery projectile labored from its launching pad.

The 135-ton monster slowly picked up speed as its tons of fuel were consumed by three thirsty engines. Gradually it pitched over on a southeast heading and sped from sight.

Bossart, known as the "father" of the Atlas intercontinental range missile, received word minutes later that this Atlas was well on its way to a target 5,000 miles down the Atlantic tracing range.

The launching Wednesday was the last test for America's premier ICBM, closing out a flight program which began 5½ years ago on the same launching pad.

Bossart recalled that Atlas originally was conceived as a much larger vehicle, with five main engines and takeoff thrust of nearly 700,000 pounds, compared with 389,000 pounds for the most powerful breed of present day Atlas.

19 Planning to Climb Everest, 2 Other Peaks

First Time All Three Will be Challenged at Once

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of 19 Americans preparing for the first U.S. assault on the "roof of the world" — towering Mt. Everest and two sister peaks — figures the climb will be "95 per cent sheer hell, 5 per cent beauty."

"But in such things, we remember only the 5 per cent of beauty when it's over," remarked Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, the expedition's 44-year-old chief.

He and some of his companions outlined their plans Wednesday at a news conference staged by the National Geographic Society, a sponsor of the $326,000 venture scheduled for this spring.

Six of the Americans will climb Mt. Everest, at 29,028 feet the world's highest mountain. Two other teams of two men each will have a go at Everest's sister peaks in the Himalayas — Lhotse, 27,923 feet, and Mt. Nuptse, 25,726 feet.

First of Kind It will be, they said, the first time a single expedition has attempted to scale three peaks in a single season, although each has been conquered before by climbers.

Dyhrenfurth, of Santa Monica Canyon, Calif., said if the Americans reach the top of Everest, they will be the third expedition to pull off the trick.

The British, who were first, and the Swiss have done it. The Red Chinese claim they climbed Everest in 1960 and left as proof a bust of Mao Tse-tung.

Their claim has been challenged. "If the bust of Mao Tse-tung is there, we'll send them a congratulatory telegram," said Dyhrenfurth.

One thing the expedition won't look for, he said, is the elusive "Abominable Snowman," which legend holds lives amid the snow and ice on Everest's slopes.

Legislators Get Notification of Session Dec. 27

MADISON (AP) — Official notification that the 1961 Legislature will reconvene Dec. 27 was sent to all state lawmakers by registered mail Wednesday by Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles.

Knowles, who presides over the State Senate, said the session is expected to clear up all pending business before the 1963 session opens on Jan. 9.

The lieutenant governor, who withdrew from the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination when he failed to get the endorsement of the GOP state convention, said party members, holding majorities in both the Senate and Assembly, will attempt to make short work of the 1963 session.

Republican majorities, he said, "are determined to carry out their pre-election promise of the shortest possible session consistent with developing practical and equitable solutions to major problems of state government."

Air Force Vet Balks 2 Men in Bank Robbery

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Robert Dischler was not about to let two bank robbers get away with $1,600 the 24-year-old Air Force veteran had just deposited.

When two armed robbers entered the Bayway branch of the National State Bank of Elizabeth Wednesday, six customers and 12 bank employees looked on stunned and unmoving as one of the gunmen passed from teller to teller, stuffing $52,000 into a satchel.

Dischler swung into action. He jumped the bandit with the loot and wrestled the gun from him. At close range, Dischler fired a shot and the robber doubled up clutching at his stomach.

The second gunman advanced, spraying bullets. Dischler returned the fire until both robbers fled.

"I'd do it all again if I had to," Dischler said. "I was worried about a $1,600 deposit I had just made."

Ex-Nazi Arrested As War Criminal

Higher-Up Official May be Detained, Report in Chile

BY JOSE M. ORLANDO SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The arrest of a higher ex-Nazi on war crimes charges may follow the detention here of a former SS colonel accused of ordering the gassing of 90,000 Jews in World War II.

Patrick Weichman, head of the international police organization, Interpol in Chile, said last night "an even higher Nazi war criminal" was believed to be in this country and his arrest may follow soon.

He made the statement after former SS Col. Walter Herman Julius Rauff appeared before the supreme court and declared his innocence of the war crimes for which West Germany is seeking his extradition.

Weichman refused to name the second man whose arrest is expected.

Last March Martin Bormann, Adolf Hitler's deputy party chief, was reported located in Chile, but the suspect turned out to be another man. Bormann was reported to have met death in attempting to escape from Berlin in 1945 and was declared legally dead eight years ago by a West German court. Rumors that he is alive keep cropping up.

Eichman Colleague Rauff was an office colleague of Adolf Eichmann who was executed in Israel last May 31 for complicity in the death of six million Jews. Rauff was arrested Tuesday.

Woman's Death In Oneida County Termed Murder

RHINELANDER (AP) — "Definitely murder," Oneida County authorities said as they continued their investigation into the death of Miss Edna Mae Mount, 23, who had been missing from her home for six months.

Portions of the victim's skeleton were found Tuesday scattered over a large portion of a wilderness area seven miles west of here.

Dist. Atty. Lee R. Krueger said three men who admitted being with Miss Mount on June 2, the night she disappeared, were questioned Wednesday. One man told of taking her home at 11:30 p.m. and making a date for the next day. He said she never kept it.

Krueger said the other two agreed to take her detector tests. Krueger made his "definitely murder" pronouncement after visiting a shallow grave in which were found additional parts of the skeleton. He said the grave apparently was dug with sticks and covered by tree limbs and underbrush. Officials said the grave on being the head of a common marks to an American military apparently was opened and the wealth which has no political structure or unity or strongly critical decisions affecting the

Hoffa Lawyers Plan to File Mistrial Move

Air Pistol Attack In Federal Court Given as Reason

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa's attorneys said today they would file formal notice for a mistrial as a result of the air pistol attack Wednesday on the Teamsters Union president.

The defense gave notice of its intention as the $1 million conspiracy trial resumed in a subdued atmosphere before a security-conscious U.S. district judge. U.S. marshals guarded entrances to the courtroom.

Daniel Maher, a Hoffa attorney, sought to move for a mistrial but Judge William E. Miller told him to put the motion in writing and number of smashed cars made submit it to the clerk. Miller said he would give it consideration but did not want to waste time hearing defense arguments.

No Ill Effects Hoffa said he suffered no ill effects from the pellets, which bounced off his body.

A government attorney announced that he had a motion, not connected with the shooting incident, which he wanted to make with the press and spectators out of the courtroom. Over the courtroom cleared and deputy marshals placed newspapers over the glass panels in the courtroom doors.

The shots were fired at Hoffa Wednesday by a man identified as Warren Swanson, 28, of Washington, D.C. Hoffa ducked, then lunged at the man, knocking him to the floor.

Needs 14 Stitches Swanson required 14 stitches to repair head wounds. A deputy U.S. marshal struck him on the back of the head with a pistol and a Hoffa bodyguard got in a few kicks before the bleeding man was led from court in handcuffs.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller ordered Swanson committed to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo., for observation.

Miller ordered six additional armed marshals for courtroom duty and directed that henceforth everyone entering the court be searched.

Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act, by accepting undercover payments from a transport firm in return for labor peace. The trial is in its seventh week.

The jury was out of the court.

Resentment in England

ACHESON TELLS WEST POINT CADETS BRITISH POWER ROLE ALMOST ENDED

BY WILLIAM H. STONEMAN Chicago Daily News Service

LONDON — Mixed amazement and indignation have greeted the attack on Britain's position made by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a speech yesterday at West Point.

Acheson's remark that Britain's "independent role as a power was about played out" was given first rate prominence by the British Broadcasting Corp. and four big papers. The London Times, the Guardian, the Daily Mail and the mass circulation tabloid the Daily Mirror, which generally takes a pro-American line.

Lashes at Other Nations "Britain has lost an empire and has not yet found a role," Acheson said.

"The attempt to play a role apart from Europe, a role based on a 'special relationship' with official status, should have been covered by free limbs and underbrush. Officials said the grave on being the head of a common marks to an American military apparently was opened and the wealth which has no political structure or unity or strongly critical decisions affecting the

67 Dead, 738 Taken to Hospitals; Dozens of Cars Wrecked Outside of City

LONDON (AP) — A dense lethal smog settled down on London again tonight, with the death toll already 67 and another 738 victims of the sulphurous fumes in city hospitals.

The choking pall thickened with the early darkness for the fourth consecutive night.

A government weather bureau spokesman said: "It's a repeat performance of the previous nights — just as intense and thickening at the same time. The rest of the country is now comparatively clear, but there is no relief in sight for London and the lower Thames River areas until tomorrow, at the earliest."

Outside London, dozens of automobile accidents occurred on icy roads and another transportation freeze was predicted for England and Wales during the night hours.

Many Wrecked Cars A spokesman of the British Automobile Association said the number of smashed cars made some stretches of highway look like battlefields.

Air tests in central London showed the midday smoke content to be 2½ times the average for a comparative December day. But worse still, the concentration of the combustion byproduct — sulphur dioxide — was seven times average. That was blamed for the bulk of the deaths.

Most of the victims were elderly or were already suffering from respiratory ailments when the pall descended. Some of them dropped dead on London streets. Others died soon after arrival in hospitals.

London commuter train schedules were in chaos. Thousands who normally travel by bus went to the subway stations as the smog immobilized or slowed to half the city's distinctive big red double-deckers.

"This looks like another 1952 no letup, and 200 hospitals were alerted for a major disaster. Nearly 400 beds were taken Wednesday night by emergency cases."

A London County Council official said hundreds of people who were due to go into hospital for operations were told to stay at home.

"They could afford to wait, he said. 'Smog victims cannot'."

Hundreds of miles of roads remained icebound and 20 automobiles were involved in a multiple collision on a highway south of London. Seven persons were injured, none seriously.

Petrillo Out As President Of Musicians

CHICAGO (AP) — A dance band leader who has never held union office took over today as president of Chicago's musicians, ending James C. Petrillo's stormy 40-year reign as a labor boss.

Bernard "Barney" Richards, 57, led a rebel ticket which defeated Petrillo and most of his aides Wednesday in an election they had expected to win. Petrillo lost by 95 votes.

Petrillo, 70, apparently played his own swan song by taking the challenge too lightly. He had had no competition for the office of president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians since 1933.

Union officials announced vote totals of 1,690 for Richards and 1,595 for Petrillo. About one-third of the union's reported eligible members voted. Two candidates for minor posts said they will enter official protests and ask for a recount.

Petrillo was not available for comment.

President Declares Faith in Stevenson

Kennedy's Letter Made Public In Effort to Stem Talk That Adlai May be on Way Out

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hopes his public declaration of "fullest confidence" in Adlai Stevenson will put an end to speculation that the U.N. ambassador may be on his way out.

A "Dear Adlai" letter from Kennedy to Stevenson was made public by the White House Wednesday night. Officials said the decision to give it out was prompted by the President's determination to try to remove any uncertainty about Stevenson's future.

The speculation stemmed from publication of a Saturday Evening Post article written by two Washington reporters, Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, a close friend of the President.

The article quoted anonymous officials as saying that at the outset of the Cuban crisis Stevenson dissented from Kennedy's decision to throw a naval blockade around Cuba and advocated a softer approach.

Jump Noted in Jobless Rate Among Teens

Labor Department Says Unemployment Up Over October

BY NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Labor said today it is investigating why 150,000 extra teen-agers suddenly turned up as unemployed in November to throw the nation's job picture out of kilter.

The increase among job-hunting teens aggravated an expected increase in unemployment to boost the national idle rate from 5.5 per cent in October to 5.8 per cent in November, the 1962 high.

One explanation may be that the November count came toward the end of the month and perhaps caught some of the seasonal unemployment rise usual in December when many youngsters, as well as adults, look for holiday jobs.

Show Increase

The over-all figures showed unemployment increased by 507,000 to 3.8 million. Employment declined by about 912,000 but showed a record for the month at nearly 68 million.

The unemployment increase was somewhat higher than expected because of the teen-agers. Most of the other additional unemployment had been anticipated because of reduced outdoor activity due to colder weather, principally in farming. Nearly 400,000 withdrew from the labor force.

Weymouth, Maine, labor department manpower director, said the new job figures do not reflect worsening economic conditions. He conceded that employment is not rising fast enough to absorb unemployment.

Compared with a year earlier, employment in November was up by 630,000 and unemployment was down by less than 200,000.

The 5.8 per cent idle rate was first reached last January and, after a decline, climbed again in September. It means that 58 out of every 1,000 workers in the work force are jobless. The rate is seasonally adjusted.

Wolfheim said the labor department is investigating to determine whether the increased teenage unemployment indicates more students are quitting school, or merely that many are seeking after-class work.

to speculation that the U.N. ambassador may be on his way out.

A "Dear Adlai" letter from Kennedy to Stevenson was made public by the White House Wednesday night. Officials said the decision to give it out was prompted by the President's determination to try to remove any uncertainty about Stevenson's future.

The speculation stemmed from publication of a Saturday Evening Post article written by two Washington reporters, Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, a close friend of the President.

The article quoted anonymous officials as saying that at the outset of the Cuban crisis Stevenson dissented from Kennedy's decision to throw a naval blockade around Cuba and advocated a softer approach.

Personal Action
Denials by the White House and by Stevenson, coupled with statements that Stevenson had in fact supported the blockade decision, failed to quiet the speculation. Officials decided the tempest could be stilled only by personal action by Kennedy.

The letter, read to newsmen by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, made two major points:

1. That Kennedy has the "fullest confidence" in Stevenson and has valued his advice "very highly."
2. That Stevenson will continue as ambassador at the United Nations.

The letter also showed that Kennedy is satisfied the Soviet Union's withdrawing of missiles and bombers from Cuba has effectively ended the nuclear threat to U.S. security. The President said without qualification "We have eliminated the nuclear menace from Cuba."

He cited that point in his letter to Stevenson as evidence of "the prudence of our policy and its execution, in which you played such an active part."

The White House said Kennedy's letter reached Stevenson at the United Nations about noon Wednesday. But there were indications Stevenson had been satisfied after a Monday conference with Kennedy that he had the President's backing in spite of the implication in the article that someone in the administration might be trying to put an end to his U.N. career.

Would Resign
Associates said Tuesday that if Stevenson had not been satisfied about the President's position he would have resigned already.

Kennedy wrote Stevenson that "this is just a note to tell you again how deeply I regret the unfortunate stir which has arisen over the statements contained in the Saturday Evening Post article."

"I think you know how greatly we have all admired your performance at the United Nations in general and during the Security Council discussions and private negotiations connected with the Cuban crisis in particular," he continued.

"I have, of course, valued your advice very highly. That we have eliminated the nuclear menace from Cuba is the best evidence of the prudence of our policy and its execution, in which you played such an active part. Our government has many important challenges in the days ahead, and your continued work at the United Nations will be of inestimable value. Meanwhile, it goes without saying that you have my fullest confidence and best wishes."

U. S. Seeks End To Arab, Israel Refugee Block

Congress Weary at Lack of Progress In Present Program

BY MILT FREUDENHEIM
Chicago Daily News Foreign Service
UNITED NATIONS — President Kennedy is determined to force a shake-up in the 14-year-old Arab-Israel stalemate over refugees of the 1948 war.

American diplomats are making this clear in private talks here with Arab and Israel diplomats during the annual debate on the U.N. relief agency for the refugees.

Despite all his other major problems ranging from Cuba and Berlin to challenges over his fondness for U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, the President has taken time out to attend several high-level meetings on Mideast policy.

U.S. strategy as outlined to interested diplomats here looks toward the following moves:

- Preventive action now in the 110-nation U.N. assembly to prevent either Israel or the Arab nations from putting through measures giving either side an advantage.
- Pressure after the assembly ends this month to get "action" on the American-backed Johnson plan for changing the status of the refugees.
- Washington pays 70 per cent of the U.N. relief budget, which helps support over a million Arab refugees. Congress is weary at the lack of progress in this program that has cost the U.S. $300,000,000, diplomats here have been told.
- Plans are being studied to put an end to the relief agency by transferring this U.S. aid directly to the governments of Jordan, United Arab Republic, Syria and Lebanon.
- Such action would lessen U.N. and American responsibility for the refugees without depriving them of food and shelter.

Plan Confirmed
The Johnson plan which was confirmed by a State Department spokesman after its first disclosure in the Chicago Daily News (Oct. 1), provides for U.N. officials to canvass the refugees and determine which still wish to return to former homes in Israel. The United States and other interested countries would help Israel compensate other refugees who choose to resettle in Arab countries.

Both Israel and Arab officials have rejected the plan. Author Joseph E. Johnson, representing the U.N. Palestine Conciliation Commission, has kept the proposal fluid by withholding official publication of his ideas.

At the U.N., American diplomats are exerting what pressure they can to keep Israel and the Arab nations from taking official stands here against the plan.

Israel insists results of the U.N. canvass would be an overpowering demand by Arab refugee "security risks" for return, that is, "infiltration" into Israel.

Arab leaders say the plan is a

McGovern's ascendancy to the Senate was confirmed Wednesday when Republican Sen. Joe Bottom conceded the Democratic victory after a month-long recount.

McGovern held a 50-vote margin as he moved up to give the Democrats a 67-33 Senate majority starting next month.

The senator-elect became a Democrat in 1945 because he said he felt that party was "more on the side of the average American." He shies at the label of liberal, saying: "The longer I stay in politics, the less comfortable I feel wearing a label. I vote on either side, depending on the issue."

McGovern is the son of a Methodist minister. He attended public schools, then went to Dakota Wesleyan University, where he later taught government and history.

McGovern already has come up with some firm philosophies. Such as, "Bad politics are caused by good people who don't take their political responsibility seriously."

He generally sums things up by commenting that, "If our political life is not what it should be, who

Convalescing Pontiff Says Mass Today

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII, convalescing from a stomach disorder and anemia, celebrated Mass today in his private chapel.

Apparently it was the first time he had said Mass since becoming pope nine days ago.

There had been reports that he had celebrated Mass before in that period but until today, no Vatican source confirmed that he had. Today's information about the Mass was published in the Vatican paper, L'Osservatore Romano.

L'Osservatore and other Vatican sources gave no report on his condition. But the news that he had celebrated Mass—requiring him to be on his feet at least 30 minutes—was considered evidence of the continued improvement of his condition.

Delaware Truck Firm Seeks Tax Exemption

MADISON (AP) — A Delaware trucking firm has gone into court seeking an exemption from Wisconsin's withholding tax law, claiming it would cost the company $150,000 yearly to collect the tax from non-resident drivers traveling in the state.

Consolidated Freightways Corp. said in a suit filed Tuesday the withholding law violates interstate commerce provisions "by taking property for public use without due process of the law...or just compensations."

Consolidated, which employs a minimum of 200 persons in Wisconsin, operates in 45 states. Circuit Judge Edwin Wilkie has not yet set a date for the hearing.

Stellar Formation

A star is formed, according to the most common theory, from a cloud of interstellar dust and gas reacting to pressure from nearby stars. After the clouds reach a certain density, gravitational attraction pulls the particles still closer.

In voting in the 110-nation assembly special political committee, the United States will try to block any effort by Israel to demand direct peace talks with the Arabs. The Americans also will block Arab efforts to set up a "custodian" for Arab property in Israel.

The American goal, as explained here, is for a simple renewal of the U.N. refugee relief budget for one year. After that, the pressure moves to get action on the Johnson plan would begin, diplomatic sources assert.

Minnesota Elected a Governor but Who He Is Remains in Doubt

Andersen Certified as Winner But Opponent Wants Recount

BY GEORGE MOSES
ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Minnesota elected a governor more than a month ago but still isn't sure who he is. And it may be weeks, possibly months, before the answer comes.

Legally, at the moment, the winner in the closest race in the state's history is the man now occupying the governor's chair, Republican Elmer L. Andersen, a St. Paul businessman.

The Minnesota Canvassing Board finally certified Andersen the winner over Democrat Karl Rolvaag, currently the lieutenant governor, by 142 votes.

This is about two one-hundredths of one per cent of the 1,267,502 ballots cast.

The canvassing board named Andersen the winner only after the State Supreme Court had told it to.

Board Split
The board originally had split on whether to name Andersen or Rolvaag. At issue were 10 counties in which the original canvassed vote was changed after errors were discovered. Most of the changes were in Andersen's favor.

If the 10 altered county totals had not been accepted, Rolvaag would have been the winner by 58 votes. But the high court told the board to accept them.

To no one's surprise, Rolvaag immediately launched the legal preliminaries for a recount. He did so under Minnesota law by filing a petition in a district court, choosing a county in heavily Republican southern Minnesota for his petition.

Gov. Andersen then moved for a change of venue to the home county of both men, Ramsey, where the capitol is located.

Sets Hearing
The State Supreme Court has set a hearing for next Monday on which district court should take jurisdiction of the recount petition.

The race is so close that the question of disputed ballots in individual counties may well end up in court, too.

Few Minnesotans would hazard a bet that when the "new" governor addresses the 1963 legislature early in January it won't be Gov. Andersen—speaking as a holdover who stays in office until his successor under Minnesota law is duly elected and qualified.

Pessimists are talking of a July 4th inauguration.

Seeks to End Records Check

Official Asserts Practice Cost State $111,317 in 1961

MADISON (AP) — The head of the Motor Vehicle Department says he plans to seek authority to terminate a practice which allowed department employees to earn $111,317 in 1961 by checking agency records for insurance companies.

The money was in addition to state salaries and ran as high as $2,400 yearly for some individuals.

It was paid for checking state records of individual drivers for details the insurance firms wanted in determining rates and deciding the status of policies.

A report by the State Bureau of Management in October said department employees working on their lunch hours and after work made 318,049 checks in 1961 and were paid 35 cents each.

"Under the present system," department administrator James Karns said Wednesday, "money is going to employees in excess of their salaries. In addition, because of lack of personnel, we have trained employees of credit associations to do the checking. We have people working in our files who are not under our control."

Karns said he will ask the Board of Government Operations for authority to hire additional personnel to make the checks. He said it would cost the state $25,000 to hire the clerks, but the state would collect the fees.

Another Election Looms

It appears the City of Appleton is going to have an interesting spring primary election in 1963.

On the first day for taking out nomination papers for 10 common council, 11 county board and 3 school board posts last week, the city clerk reported that business was "brisk."

This is a good sign.

Too often in this day and age there are not enough people interested in devoting time and energy to the problems of their municipal governments.

Anyone interested in becoming an alderman, county supervisor or school commissioner can go to the clerk's office on the first floor of the city hall and take out his or her nomination papers. The circulating of nomination papers is a relatively easy task and any questions a prospective candidate might have will be answered by the clerk.

Appleton residents should be encouraged to seek public office and serve their community. The deadline for filing nomination papers is Jan. 29 at 5 p.m.

But, the time for taking out papers is now. The more candidates—the better the choice when Appletonians go to the polls next April.

How to Handle the Russians

The election of U Thant as Secretary General of the United Nations without a single vote of opposition is another lesson for those of us who would fight Communism and its adherents on many levels.

The Soviet Union has several times proposed a troika secretariat with three members, one each from the Communist bloc, the free nations and the neutralists. Such a system would obviously be completely unworkable except through the threat of force by either of the aligned representatives to the third. Russia would expect to be able to exploit that use of force.

The last time Dag Hammarskjold came up for re-election, the Russian representatives blocked the voting for days by the demand for the troika plan. A few months later, after Hammarskjold's death in a plane crash, the Russians again made a big fuss. They finally agreed that U Thant could finish out Hammarskjold's unexpired term but they refused to accede to his election as other than "acting" Secretary General. The implied threat was that they would never agree again to the election of anything except a three-man secretariat.

But last week U Thant was approved as Secretary General for four years. The Soviet representatives mildly expressed the opinion that they preferred the troika arrangements but "in view of the realities of the situation" they offered no objection.

There may be suspicions that the Russians were so very amenable because U Thant seeks to appease them. He took a trip to Moscow last summer reportedly to win support for his position. He has seldom spoken out against the evils of Communism. In his acceptance speech last week he emphasized that "when the future of mankind is at stake, no country or interest group can afford to take a rigid stand, or claim that its position is the only right one, and that others must take it or leave it." Thant appeared to be impotent in gaining any sort of real agreement in the tense days following our demand that the Russians get their missiles out of Cuba.

And yet we doubt that the Soviet acceptance of U Thant at this time is because he has been attempting to take a neutral point of view. Whatever the hopes of the non-aligned peoples—and Thant's homeland of Burma attempts to remain neutral on the edge of a smoldering Red China—when faced with the truth they can clearly see that the best hope for mankind is the way of the free nations up to and including the possibility of nuclear warfare.

The real "realities" which changed the minds of the Soviet representatives about opposing Thant at this time were the attitudes of all except Communists when the missiles in Cuba were revealed. And that most definitely includes the attitude of the United States when it demanded—and got—the removal of the missiles.

But it was not only that Russia at this time doesn't want to bring down any more wrath upon itself from the people in the new countries that it hopes to influence. Our own firm stand, and its effect upon Latin America, may indicate to Russia that two can play at this game of threatening to loose nuclear terror upon the world. Perhaps a troika secretariat wouldn't play into Russian hands after all—or so it may appear to them at the moment.

We have had all sorts of indications that the Soviet Union reacts to firmness and a clear intent by backing down. This does not mean unnecessary provocation and we must always be on our guard against pressing so hard that an angry Russian leader might plunge the world into war rather than retreat any further. But it was firm resolve and a steady hand on the trigger that saved the world from disaster in October. We hope our leaders—and U Thant—remember that when the next crisis looms.

B-Girls and Equal Rights

An interesting test case which could go all the way to the United States Supreme Court is underway in Wisconsin. A Milwaukee ordinance which forbids female employees of taverns from sitting with customers is being challenged as violating the United States Constitution.

The intent of the law is obviously to discourage "B-girls" from promoting drinks at outrageous prices from male customers as well as to hinder prostitution. But the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution includes the statement that "nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." The test case defense argues that an ordinance which forbids female but not male employees from something is not equal protection.

Of course the ordinance could be changed to include male employees without upsetting many tavern procedures. But the case may go further in raising doubts about other laws which separate women and men. The age requirements for marriage, with or without parental permission, for instance, vary presumably because girls mature earlier in general than do boys. Employment age requirements also differ. How far can the law go in recognizing that there is a difference between men and women without discrimination under the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment?

Looking Backward

Capt. Conkey in Cavalry Skirmish

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 4, 1862.

Fort Scott correspondence of the Leavenworth Conservative mentions a sharp skirmish at the town of Lamar, near Fort Scott, Kan. Five hundred rebels under Quantrell attacked the town, which had a garrison of only 80 men.

They resisted for some time and sent word to Fort Scott for help. Capt. Theodore Conkey, Appleton, of our Third Cavalry immediately set out with 125 men but was too late to save the town, which was partly burned.

He, however, overtook a large portion of the rebel force, several of whom he killed, scattering the rest. He also saved a large train from capture. The correspondent says in conclusion

"The forces belonging to the Post are kept on the move all the while, and Capt. Conkey, commanding the cavalry, is earning a good name for himself among the loyal people. The 'secesh' are very bitter and very much afraid of him. He has taught his troops to fight in the brush quite well and reliable Union men tell me that his name is known and feared as far down as the Arkansas line."

25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Melvin Knoke was elected president of the Mt. Olive Ladies Aid Society, Appleton. Other officers included Mrs. Roland Bleick, vice president, Mrs. Ray Spangenberg, secretary, and Mrs. Alfred Giese, treasurer.

Committee members for the public Christmas program at Outacame County Rural Training School included Miss Dorothy Altt, White Lake, chairman, Harrison Larson, Bernice Smith, Vera Mielke and Janet Ort, all of Appleton; Jane Gorges, Georgine Handschke and Louella Pettit, all of New London; Lucille Van Vreede and Arnold Van Hout, Freedom; Russell Coe and Edith Main, Shiocton; Mary Baul and Florian McCabe, Wrightstown; Irene Martell, Stockbridge; Elda Bloy and Lorraine Plutz, Kaukauna; Emma Kugel, Clintonville; Rosemary Schmidt, Little Chute, and Phyllis Van Dyke, Kimberly.

patron; Mrs. Shirley Hurst, conductress; Mrs. Mayme Grathwell, associate conductress, and W. P. Hagman, trustee.

Mrs. Howard Manney was elected president of the St. Agnes Guild of St. Mark Episcopal Church, Waupaca. She succeeded Mrs. Gordon Wickman in the office.

Archie Koerner, Menasha, and Al Laffin, Neenah, were co-chairmen of the Christmas dinner-dance to be held by the Neenah and Menasha Lions Clubs.

New officers of the area Ladies Auxiliary to the Patriarchs Militant were Mrs. Reinhold Ganzer, Neenah, president; Mrs. Emmett Baxter, Menasha, vice president; Mrs. Max Bower, Omro, secretary, and Mrs. Walter Nissen, Appleton, treasurer.

Terry Zaug, New London, was advanced to the rank of Life Scout during a court of honor ceremony of Boy Scout Troop 7. Three other scouts who advanced to Second Class ratings were Jon Steingraber, Gary Barrington and Garry Stern.

Hat Catches Burglar

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Frank D. Yanez, 33, liked his new hat so much he seldom took it off.

As a result, he was arrested on a burglary charge.

A motorist spotted the hat apparently suspended in mid-air as Yanez crouched behind a market counter long after the store was closed.

Sen. Lorge Suggests Way Out Of Chilton School Bus Problem

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I read with great concern your news item in the Dec. 2 edition of the Post-Crescent regarding the dilemma of the parents of the majority of the pupils in the Chilton school district. These parents, whose children attended the parochial schools, were not allowed to ride on busses supplied by the school district at public expense in accordance with the opinion of the Attorney General in 38 Atty. Gen. 582 (1947).

Your article suggests that these parents face the prospect of establishing car pools to convey their children to school. I would like to suggest that an alternative exists which is far more expedient than such a cumbersome proposal. Section 40.53 of the Statutes which sets forth how transportation may be provided does not require that every public school district own and operate its own school busses. In fact, it provides five alternative ways of providing such transportation. One of the ways is by contracting with a private carrier. As a matter of fact almost two-thirds of the school busses in operation in this state today are supplied by private operators under contract. The 1961-62 report on transportation reveals that in the past six years the proportion of busses owned by private carriers has gradually increased.

Year	% of Busses Provided Privately
1957-58	61.6
1959-60	62.8
1961-62	63.8

It should also be noted that a contract between a school district and a school bus operator does not prohibit the operator from hauling nonpublic pupils on the same bus as long as the public route is adhered to and each group pays for its transportation. Thus, the Chilton district could solve its problem by contracting with a private operator to transport its public school pupils. Such an operator could also contract with the parents to haul pupils to the parochial schools in the same busses if the route was not affected and if each paid for its portion of the costs.

Chapter 648, Laws of 1961, known as the school bus transportation law, which would have allowed the parochial school students public transportation was declared unconstitutional by the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

The decision of the court makes it virtually impossible to evolve any statutory language which would permit the public transportation of nonpublic school pupils. It is therefore very probable that a constitutional amendment is necessary, and I commend your editorial pointing out the need for such a move. Only through this process of seeking an amendment to the Constitution can we remove all doubt regarding the desire of Wisconsin's citizens to guarantee to all its youngsters equal protection and a safety on the highways through public transportation to the school of their choice.

Patrons Miss End of 'Lolita' Film

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Dozens of patrons at a Phoenix drive-in theater say they got gyped.

It was late and the film, "Lolita," had one reel to go.

The projectionist didn't realize it, however. He closed up shop, climbed into his car and drove home.

Samaritan Gives Couple Gasoline

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — John E. Lindsay and his girl friend were returning from a late dance when their car ran out of gasoline.

The streets were deserted and all of the service stations appeared to be closed.

Finally an auto appeared, stopped and out jumped an elderly man. He discovered Lindsay's problem, returned to his own car and brought back a two-gallon can. The man poured the gasoline into the stalled auto, but refused to accept any money or give his name. He merely said:

"I carry gasoline all the time for stranded motorists. I wish others would do this and maybe we could spread some human brotherhood."

Pachyderm Shipped

DENVER (AP) — Timbo ate himself out of his happy home at the City Park Zoo.

At 3½ years of age, Timbo was 3,000 pounds of elephant with an enormous appetite who in time should stand 11 feet tall and hit the scales at 10,000 pounds.

So he was shipped to the Cheyenne Mountain zoo near Colorado Springs, which has ample quarters for the largest pachyderms.

Dog Sat Quietly

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Poundmaster Luke Wilkerson vows he is going to give his neighbor, Johnnie Clark, a barking watchdog. Clark's home was entered by a burglar who took $304 from a billfold. Wilkerson said the burglar practically had to step over Clark's dog.

Wisconsin Report

Sales Tax, Bonding Power Surely Coming Budget Tour Proves

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — An unfortunate result of the publicity attending Gov.-Elect Reynolds' institution tour, coupled with the state-house pressures for multi-million dollar building funds, is the public impression that the state has been niggardly in financing new institution construction and in refurbishing its older institutional facilities.

Wyngaard

How much the state should have done in the last decade in this field is a matter of taste and judgment. But it is useful to remember that the state treasury has taxed and borrowed something like $200 millions during the last decade and a half to accommodate its schools, colleges, prisons, hospitals and many other institutions to changing demands upon them and the growth of the state population.

The fact is not always remembered in Madison, where much of this construction is out of sight and out of mind, and where the emphasis is upon additional funds, rather than what has been appropriated and spent.

THE SIGHT

Yet an inspection of the outlying properties of the state such as the new governor is now making brings the point forcefully home. The new construction has been immense. Some of the institutions have been literally transformed.

It has not been enough. One of the nagging problems confronting the new governor, as it disturbed retiring Gov. Nelson and his immediate predecessors, is that the demonstrated need so far exceeds the probable ability of the state to meet. The other day the state building commission in an urgent resolution endorsed a $113,000,000 program of construction at a variety of institutions for the next two years.

Without attempting to disparage the judgment of the members of the commission, that budget is absurd under the circumstances that prevail.

There is no slightest chance that the next legislature will be able to grant it — given the already straitened condition of the state treasury and the even more urgent demands for huge increases in almost every operating fund and especially the big ones involving education and welfare.

What then will the state do to meet its plain responsibilities — to find the money that even the most conservative citizen would probably concede is needed?

CLUES

There were some asides during the new governor's budget review travels last week that provide hints.

"When I see this I lose some of my objections to the sales tax," said one of the governor's political friends — who will remain anonymous here — as he emerged from one of the cruelly over-crowded wings of the northern colony for mentally retarded at Chippewa Falls.

"This shows the importance of the bonding power," said the new governor after he had expressed astonishment at the physical quality of the newly remodeled Eau Claire county hospital and contrasted it with the run-down, drab, decrepit buildings at the colony operated by the state a few miles away.

These impulsive observations of public policy makers in unguarded moments almost surely provide the clues to the ultimate solution of accommodating the state's fiscal problems which will grow worse before they improve.

The movement toward the sales tax as the only practicable method of tax revision and the production of significantly increased gross tax revenues has been impeded by the recent election, but only temporarily. The cumulative effect of the building pressures will also contribute to a relaxation of the historic resistance to straight-out bonding for long-term public improvements. The decisions will be difficult; the path will be strewn with noisy obstacles. But the decisions will be made.

Strictly Personal

Badly Dressed Women Confuse Fashion, Style

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices: We speak of going from the sublime to the ridiculous as if it were a vast leap across an abyss, when in reality it is a thin line that we cross and re-cross without taking a deep breath; a flip through the pages of Wordsworth's poetry will clearly reveal how the sublime and the ridiculous meet and often merge.

Emotions may be roughly divided into those that are arrows and those that are boomerangs — straight emotions go directly to their object, but crooked emotions (like hat and envy) return to their wielder and injure only him.

One of the most tolerant and understanding of observations about the aged was made by Conrad, when he wrote, "It is unjust to think old people selfish; if they think only of themselves, it is because they have lost all who once loved them."

The reason so many women dress badly is that they don't know the difference between "fashion" and "style." Fashions change, and not all fashions look good on all women. But style, being a permanent esthetic quality, does not change, and a woman who knows her style will always dress with appropriate distinction.

Watching a famous and glamorous symphony conductor knock himself out on the podium, I was reminded of Helen Wills Moody's remark many years ago, "If you see a tennis player who looks as if he is working very hard, then that means he isn't very good."

One of the most accurate gauges of a person's intelligence is his susceptibility to oratory; the world may very well be said to be divided into those who examine speeches and those who merely react to them — and as long as the latter class is by far the most numerous, we can hope for little advancement in public affairs.

Outside of a handful of large cities in America, a small town that contains a good college with a bad football team is the best place to live.

Speaking of places to live, when will communities learn that putting censorship in the hands of policemen is as dangerously absurd as putting professors of literature on the homicide squad?

Is there a wife who doesn't believe, either secretly or overtly, that her husband had terrible taste in women — until he met her?

Unlike men, by the way, most women have two "telephone voices"—the first is an artificial one that is used in answering the phone, and the second depends on who the caller is.

When Kennedy and MacMillan meet this month, they'll be singing that old Yuletide favorite. "I'm dreaming of a nice Khrushchev."

New rugs in the New York State Assembly were made in Hong Kong. It's the motif of those legislators who are saying Gov. Rockefeller doesn't have a Chinaman's chance of being President.

One taxpayer says money is sure circulating. Kennedy gives his money to charity — and he gives his money to Kennedy.

Conferences with Russia's Mikoyan were friendly enough. Kennedy asked about inspection of weapons in Cuba — and Mikoyan agreed that Caroline and John, Jr., were lovely children.

Kennedy Will Visit Los Alamos Test Station This Week

President May Seek Report on Space Ships' Nuclear Reactor

BY HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—President Kennedy's trip to Los Alamos Friday holds a symbolic meaning for this country's history.

On that day in 1941 World War II started and it was from that war that Los Alamos started work on the atomic bomb. The bomb ended the war.

In a way, Los Alamos was spawned on that date and it is conceivable that without that event it would still be a mountain retreat for boys instead of a bustling city of 13,500 persons busily engaged in supersecret nuclear experiments.

Finger Mesas
The President has never been to Los Alamos. He will find a community that is spread across the Pajarito Plateau—a series of finger mesas created by long-ago extinct volcanoes—in the Jemez Mountains.

It sits almost atop a mountain at 7,300 feet. The only access is by airplane, helicopter or on a twisting, turning mountain road. The Hill City, as it is called by the natives, is 35 miles northwest of Santa Fe and 96 miles north of Albuquerque.

It has only been since February 1957 that the high, wire fence and the pistol-packing guards were removed. But a supersecret complex has remained with the city. Probably the sensitive nuclear work and the inaccessibility of the city have helped to develop this complex.

One of the main reasons for the President's coming to Los Alamos is to inspect the work being done to build a nuclear reactor to propel space ships into prolonged flights to the moon or the planets. The project is called Rover, which is a part of Nerva (nuclear engine for rocket vehicle application).

Kiwi Reactors
The Kiwi reactors, named after the flightless birds of New Zealand, are being developed as engines for the giant space ships.

Project Rover was set up in 1955 under the Atomic Energy Commission but has been taken over by the Space Nuclear Propulsion Office, a governmental agency staffed by personnel from the AEC and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The first planned use of Project Rover is the development of a nuclear third stage for the Saturn C5 manned lunar landing operation. With the nuclear third stage, a single vehicle would be all that would be needed for a landing and a return from the moon. Otherwise, a chemical-fueled rocket would require two-launch rendezvous of C5s or the development of a much larger chemical rocket.

Hydrogen Propellant
The most important advantage of nuclear rockets is that they can use hydrogen as propellant. Hydrogen is more than a dozen times lighter, per particle, than the combustion products used to propel chemical rockets.

Rover reactors must generate great power on small fuel volume. To create the rather modest thrust of 50,000 pounds a reactor must produce about one million BTU per second, or enough energy to boil away a ton of water every two seconds.

In electrical terms, this power level is equal to 1,000 megawatts—a megawatt being a million watts. Hoover Dam's power production is 1,250 megawatts. Yet the core of the Kiwi reactor is barely larger than a kitchen range.

Another of the main projects at Los Alamos the President may inspect is Project Sherwood.

Project Sherwood searches for the control of the fusion reactions that occur in the H-bomb. If these reactions can be controlled, the inexhaustible supply of deuterium found in sea water will replace the world's dwindling supply of fossil fuels as a source of energy.

Energy Potential
The energy potential in one gallon of water is equal to about 300 gallons of gasoline.

Sherwood got under way at Los Alamos in 1951. The first device for creating and controlling fusion was called perhaspatron—perhaps it would work and perhaps it wouldn't. It didn't, but the data obtained proved the idea would work some day.

Also being studied at Los Alamos is the detection of nuclear explosions in space, at the earth's surface and below ground. It is called the Vela program.

Health research programs also are being done at Los Alamos, mostly to determine the effect of radiation on people and animals.

Cryogenics, a study of the effects on materials when they are subjected to extremely low temperatures, is another of the projects being developed at Los Alamos.

Test Site
The test site at Jackass Flats, near Las Vegas, Nev., to be visited by the President Saturday, has $45 million worth of test construction and equipment.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., has long been a proponent of nuclear power for space travel. It was largely through his efforts that the President decided to come to New Mexico to see its nuclear area.

Sen. Anderson is hopeful that what the President sees will impress him enough to give a higher priority to the projects and experiments being conducted at Los Alamos.

Bob Kennedy Answers Questions of Audience
NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, after telling U.S. students to prepare themselves for tough questions when abroad, invited questions from his audience Wednesday.

Nicholas O. Anim of Ghana asked "When you came to Africa you got within a stone's throw of my country and then you didn't come. Why didn't you come to Ghana?"

Kennedy replied he was in Africa only two days, but did talk with a woman representative of Ghana who gave him a pair of Ghanaian cuff links.

Holding up his right arm, the attorney general said "I have them on now."

After two hours of questioning, police said, Rooks was quoted as admitting he met the girl on the street as she was returning to school after lunch and that he forced her into an elevator and took her to the roof.

Acheson's West Point Speech Irks Britons

and the Conservative government has staked its future on the success of the negotiations. It is felt here that Acheson gave the impression to America's future generals that the British were doing nothing.

Role Under FDR
Britain has been negotiating for entry into the Common Market for more than a year now, prominent servant of the Roosevelt administration which continually pressed Britain directly or otherwise to give independence to India and other members of the one-time empire.

His remarks about Britain's "attempt to work alone and be a broker between the United States and Russia" are described as "untrue and misleading."

Some consolation is found in the fact that Acheson has blotted his own copybook in the United States by his attitude toward this and that his remarks at West Point don't represent the administration's views.

Hard to Weigh Status

"It is not easy to say exactly how far Mr. Acheson spoke for the administration or echoed the thinking at the highest level," The London Times Washington correspondent reported. "Of Mr. Kennedy's senior advisers he stands at one end while Mr. Adlai Stevenson stands at the other. The fact that Mr. Stevenson is not highly thought of at the present does not mean that the President has moved closer to the former secretary of state."

"His advice has been sought on a number of occasions but his view of Berlin policy last year was not accepted as a basis for subsequent proposals."

The fact, too, that Acheson's advice was also turned down in the Cuban crisis when he proposed immediate military action, the Times correspondent continued, "perhaps best explains his position and influence and suggests his beliefs were stated publicly today because they are in the state with unknown assets and reserves. The report said the

Woman Killed in 3-Car Mishap Near Illinois-State Line

ROCKTON, Ill. (AP)—An elderly woman was killed and her husband seriously injured Wednesday night in a three-car collision on Illinois 21 near the Wisconsin-Illinois border north of Rockton.

The victim was Mrs. Gladys Brown and Johnson were not injured.

Eye Safeguards For Money in Cemetery Lots

Investors Have Right To Protection, Says Speaker for Judges

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Persons who invest money in cemetery associations for perpetual care of lots have a right to an assurance that such funds won't be mishandled, a spokesman for the state board of county judges told the Legislative Council.

Judge Carl Flom of Madison, head of the probate court for Dane County, confirmed the complaints of other magistrates that they are unable to do the auditing work on cemetery association reports that the law requires, and supported a proposal for a form of state licensing, supervision and auditing.

He said the board of county judges will consider the issue at its annual meeting in Milwaukee next week, and predicted its strong support for the new legislation.

Recent Study
A recent study indicated that there are at least 800 privately organized cemetery corporations, publicly today because they are in the state with unknown assets and reserves. The report said the serious condition in Beloit, Wis. hospital is her husband, Frank Graham, about 78.

Police said the Graham car, driven by Frank Graham, first was in collision with a car driven by Fred Brown of Beloit. The present regulatory system through the courts is ineffectual.

Graham car then ricocheted and engaged in collision with a trailer-truck driven by Harold Johnson, 28, of Janesville, Wis.

Brown and Johnson were not injured.

The Council study committee has drafted a bill, for probable recommendation to the legislature next month, that would remove the audit function from the county judge, require such associations to register with the Wisconsin secretary of state, give the attorney general the power to enforce audit filing and registration, and require associations to file certified audits at annual intervals.

The registration forms could require information on any subject the secretary of state might require, including a recapitulation of assets and liabilities, it was said.

"This is good legislation," pronounced Flom.

Ex-Nazi Held In Chilean Jail

in Punta Arena, Chile's southernmost city.

He was flown to Santiago and appeared in his extradition hearing yesterday.

"I have no idea what I am charged with," he said. "I don't think I ever killed anybody. I only followed orders given by many generals."

Eduardo Novoa Monreal, Chilean lawyer retained by West Germany to press the extradition case, said an indictment in Hannover, West Germany, charges that Rauff was the head of a Nazi Elite Guard unit which herded 90,000 Jews into sealed trucks and killed them by gas.

The lawyer said the Hannover court has receipts for the Jews signed by Rauff.

First reports identified Rauff as a former lieutenant general, but a report from Hannover today said he had been a colonel and was chief of the technical affairs department of the Reich Security Office headed by SS Gen. Reinhard Heydrich.

Extradition Sought

The West German government was reported to have asked for Rauff's arrest and extradition after the Israeli government told it he was living in Punta Arenas.

Israeli Ambassador Eliczer Doron said his government had no plans to seek custody of Rauff. Israeli agents kidnapped Eichmann in neighboring Argentina and took him to Israel for trial.

Police officials said they had known Rauff was living in Punta Arenas, as he came here legally under his own name in 1958, but they did not know there were any charges against him.

Now 58 years old, he is a partner in a typewriter importing firm. A widower, he has two sons, Alf, 30, in Germany, and Walter, 27, in Chile.

Police sources said he traveled to Syria, Italy and Ecuador after the war, and returned openly to West Germany three times after coming to Chile.

He is entitled to appeal to the supreme court for a rehearing if it grants West Germany's extradition application. Legal sources said under Chilean law he might also apply for political asylum.

Electric Broom Sweeps Money

DES MOINES (AP)—Mrs. John McLaughlin of Des Moines was surprised to find out why her new electric broom wasn't working. A repair man found a $20 bill and a $10 bill caught in the belt of the appliance.

Mrs. McLaughlin said she didn't have the faintest idea how she happened to sweep up the money. Her husband, an attorney, said he didn't know either, but he commented, "It must have been my money."

Hoffa Lawyers Say He Cannot Get Fair Trial

room when the incident occurred. Miller ordered the jurors locked up overnight for the first time during the trial to prevent their hearing about it.

While Swanson underwent emergency treatment at a hospital, he told newsmen he came here to kill Hoffa—a man he never had met—because of a vision he had last month.

"It sounds crazy, but I just got a message from a higher power," he said. He said the "message" came as he read the Bible in a Cincinnati, Ohio, hotel room in August.

"A voice told me—'You have to kill Jimmy Hoffa'—it said it twice," he said.

Asked why he used a pellet gun if he intended to kill Hoffa, Swanson replied: "It was the only gun I could afford and I read an ad which said it was an effective gun. It did not say it was lethal, but it led you to believe it would kill."

The attack on Hoffa came a year to the day after Swanson voluntarily entered the Camarillo State Hospital in Southern California for observation.

He was discharged Jan. 10 with the notation, "improved."

Renoir Painting Revenue Will Go To 3 Charities

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the major works of French impressionist painter Renoir was auctioned Wednesday night for $100,000 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries. The sum will go to three charities.

The painting, titled "La Fete de Pan," executed in 1879, shows a group of maidens and their companions decorating with roses a figure of Pan, in a scene of spring festival.

The painting, from the estate of an anonymous collector, was purchased by Mrs. Robert Gurney, wife of a New York industrialist.

Benefiting from the sale will be the United Jewish Appeal, the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund, and the colonies de Vacances, of Geneva, Switzerland.

Youth Charged in Brooklyn Slaying Of 9-Year-Old Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—A 15-year-old boy has been charged with homicide in the slaying of 9-year-old Lourdes Bass, who was raped on the roof of a Brooklyn housing project and then dropped 14 floors to her death.

Arrested Wednesday night was James Rooks, a Negro, also a resident of Farragut Houses, where the girl lived.

Police questioned 800 to 900 persons after the girl's body, clad only in shoes and socks, was found in a court Tuesday.

Rooks was picked up on the tip of a school-crossing guard who told of seeing the youth "exposing himself" on a bus in the area three weeks ago.

After two hours of questioning, police said, Rooks was quoted as admitting he met the girl on the street as she was returning to school after lunch and that he forced her into an elevator and took her to the roof.

Easy-To-Make Candies for Christmas

These Tawny Squares of creamy penuche are liberally filled with coarsely chopped filberts. A half filbert tops each piece to make it even better. The recipe for this candy is interesting in that dairy sour cream is blended with brown sugar as a basis for the sweets. The combination is unusually good.

Here's An Attractive array of candies made from glazed semi-sweet chocolate chips with a minimum of effort. Left, bottom, are tiny Christmas Wreaths that combine melted chocolate and cornflakes and decorations of bright candies. Roasted peanuts, salted or unsalted, combine with melted chocolate to make the Chocolate Chip Lollipops. The Chocolate Pretzels are made from the chips alone after being melted and the Chocolate Nuggets, lower right, combine the chocolate with condensed milk, flavorings and salt to be rolled into nuts, tiny candies or sprinkles after being shaped into round balls.

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Christmas just wouldn't be Christmas without candies! For many families this means homemade candies. Some of the best memories of the season were the candy-making sessions in the kitchen . . . old and young hands were kept busy and hearts were light from grandma down to toddler in beruffled bib. All jobs were allocated according to age and dexterity, but there was a job for everyone, including grandpa and papa.

Fancy creams and elegant "store-bought" chocolates are wonderful to have and enjoy but the homemade favorites can provide an exciting family tradition to keep up year after year. There are so many homemade varieties that make excellent treats for a festive season . . . the kind that are easy to make and fun for everybody on a share-the-work plan.

Several of the recipes featured today are simple enough for quick results . . . an important factor when children help. Youngsters can insert the sticks in the Chocolate Chip Lollipops after more experienced helpers melt the chocolate and handle the hot water . . . small fry will enjoy thoroughly the important job of shaping the Chocolate Nuggets into round balls and perhaps the tiny Christmas Wreaths after a bit of practice. Grade schoolers can learn how to handle a cake decorator set to turn out Chocolate Pretzels.

The fudges, molasses sea foam, delicious Brazil nut and filbert candies belong to adept teen-agers and adults who can read a candy thermometer and who are old enough to work at the stove. But the Molasses Taffy is one for a family project when it comes to "pulling."

Most of these recipes are old-fashioned classics or variations thereof. They all are bound to add a special delight to the happy yuletide. They also provide a magnificent way to say "Merry Christmas" either as a treat for callers or as gifts to package prettily and send on their way.

Creamy Filbert Penuche
¾ cup coarsely chopped filberts
¼ cup filbert halves
3 cups brown sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup butter
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
Toast whole filberts in 275-degree oven for 20 minutes. While still warm, rub between fingers to remove brown skins. Chop until brittle is one-fourth inch thick. Pull corners to make three-fourths cup and cut others in halves to make one-fourth cup. Combine brown sugar and sour cream in saucepan; blend well; but take care to keep mixture off sides of pan. Cover; bring to boil

Brazil Nut Chocolate Crunch
2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon baking soda
1 2/3 cups chopped Brazil nuts
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 tablespoon shortening
Put sugar and butter in heavy skillet. Place over low heat and stir constantly until sugar melts. It is important to keep mixture stirred to get an even caramelization of the sugar. As soon as sugar is melted and light brown in color, add soda and stir in one cup of Brazil nuts.
Turn onto greased baking sheet; roll out with rolling pin until brittle is one-fourth inch thick. Pull corners to make three-fourths cup and cut others in halves to make one-fourth cup. Combine brown sugar and sour cream in saucepan; blend well; but take care to keep mixture off sides of pan. Cover; bring to boil

Brazil Nut Fudge Balls
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
½ cup orange juice
2½ cups crushed vanilla wafers
½ cup confectioners sugar
1 cup finely chopped Brazil nuts
Flaked coconut
Melt chocolate over hot but not boiling water. Remove from heat; stir in corn syrup and orange juice. Stir in remaining ingredients, except coconut. Let stand Recipe makes about 48 to 56 balls.

Brazil Nut Fudge
2/3 cup evaporated milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
½ cup chopped Brazil nuts
Combine evaporated milk and sugar in saucepan. Bring to a full boil, stirring constantly. Boil three minutes over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in chocolate morsels until smooth. Stir in nuts. Turn into eight-inch square pan. Cool before cutting.

Chocolate Chip Lollipops
¼ cup glazed chocolate chips
2/3 cup roasted peanuts, skinned (salted or unsalted)
12 lollipop sticks
Heat chocolate over hot water until partly melted, then remove from heat and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add nuts; mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Insert a lollipop stick into each. Chill until firm.

Chocolate Wreaths
Use one-half cup glazed chocolate chips and two-thirds cup cornflakes for this candy. Heat chocolate over hot water until partly melted, then remove from heat and stir as in Lollipop recipe. Add cornflakes, blending mixture thoroughly. Drop on waxed paper, shaping into small circles with hole in center. Decorate

Your Problems

Phone Line Disturbance Small Compared to Nibbling Talker

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS I have lieve my husband has kept his been reading your column for a word, too But, whenever he kiss- long time and notice that some es me he swears he can detect, people write just cigaret odor and this burns me to let off steam up Do you think he does this to This is what I am doing

I'm an ardent club worker and spend a great deal of time on the telephone I simply can't stand it when women eat while they are talking That crunching over the telephone drives me crazy

The other evening one woman was making so much noise I decided to let her know she was annoying me I asked her outright "How is the celery?" She replied nonchalantly, "I'm rot eating celery It's potato chips" Then she continued crunching

Another woman who tipples a good bit always has an ice cube in her mouth Frequently she says, "Just a minute I have to stir this Tom Collins" Then I hear the tinkling and gulping

What is the matter with people that they have to eat and drink while on the phone? Or am I getting finicky in my old age?—Fuss Budget

Dear Fuss: People who munch, crunch, and gulp on the phone are rude and they ought to be told. (Personal confession: I blushingly admit I've done it myself!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS My husband and I are in our early 30's We both had hacking coughs for so long that neither of us could remember exactly when our coughs started Upon learning that we were a five pack-a-day family our doctor suggested we cut down on cigarettes

We decided it would be easier to cut out smoking completely than to cut down So we took a joint oath and threw our last packs into the Hudson River

Three months have passed and I have been 100 per cent honor

table about the agreement I be-needle me or what? What can I do about it? — No Smoke Screen

Dear No Smoke: Every human has his own distinct scent. It may be that in the past your husband associated your scent with tobacco and he still does.

There is the possibility, too, that your skin and hair absorb other people's cigaret smoke, making you smell guilty.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I know you are against announcements I know, too you don't think a person who gets an announcement is obliged to send a gift Could this case be the exception?

I belong to a large family For almost 40 years I've been sending graduation gifts wedding gifts baby gifts birthday and Christmas gifts to dozens and dozens of relatives My youngest daughter was engaged for two years Her fiance came home last month and they hurriedly decided to be married There was no time for wedding invitations so we sent announcements to sixty close relatives

The young couple received one gift We did not send announcements with the idea she would receive gifts We just wanted people to know What do you think of the small return?—Hurt

Dear Hurt: If you sent the announcements merely to let people know, then you have accomplished your purpose. So why be hurt?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope

With a little ingenuity and a few minutes of your time, you can prepare a gift that sparkles with thoughtfulness.

To make a special fruit cake gift, bake two fruit cakes — one light, one dark. Then section each into pieces of equal size. Alter- nate light and dark pieces on a glass baking tray. An overwrap

Homemakers Hold Programs On Christmas

KAUKAUNA — Making of Christmas decorations was demon- strated by Mrs. Argo Simon, vocational school instructor, at the pre-Christmas luncheon meet- ing Friday of the Afternoon Homemakers Club.

Plans were made to serve cof- fee during breaks in class periods at the Kaukauna School of Voca- tional and Adult Education.

Mrs. Robert Cox was program chairman and Mrs. Herman Dol- ven and Miss Adabell Glenzer handled party arrangements.

Miss Maria Antonieta De Lima Alves, foreign exchange student from Portugal, explained Christ- mas in her country at a potluck dinner meeting of the Evening Homemakers Club.

A nativity scene is the main decoration in Portuguese stores, she explained. On Christmas eve shoes are placed near the chim- ney hearth. Later the Christ child brings gifts which are put in the shoes. There is no Santa Claus in Portugal as in the United States.

Portuguese Christmas traditions include attendance at midnight church services, singing of carols and a family supper on Christ- mas day.

of clear plastic wrap keeps it moist.

Popcorn balls make a welcome gift. For a holiday look, try col- ored popcorn balls. They're easy to make — add a package of fruit-flavored gelatin to corn syrup.

If you're known for your creamy fudge, why not include the recipe with a generous sam- ple? Write it on a gift card and attach to tray handle.

Italian Holiday Cookies
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup sugar
1 egg, separated
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped moist coconut
1/2 cup apricot preserves
Cream butter. Gradually add sugar; cream until fluffy. Add

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Huss will make their home at 106 Hickory Lane, Menasha. The couple was married Saturday at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Menasha. The bride is the former Miss Sharron A. Falk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Falk, route 1, Shiocton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Raymond Huss, 906 Jefferson St., Little Chute, and the late Mr. Huss. (Rohde Photo)

Date Candy

1/2 cup sugar
1 cup chopped dates
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup cornflakes
1 cup sugar-coated wheat or rice cereal
1 1/3 cups flaked coconut

Cook sugar, dates and egg in saucepan or frypan over medium heat until mixture pulls away from sides of pan, about five minutes. Stir constantly while cooking.

Remove from heat; stir in van- illa, nuts and cereals. Moisten hands with cold water and shape slightly cooled mixture into balls. Roll in chopped coconut. Refriger- ate.

To make squares of candy in- stead, sprinkle half the coconut in bottom of nine-inch square pan. Then spread mixture on top of coconut. Sprinkle remaining coco- nut on top. Refrigerate, then cut into squares. Recipe makes about 24 balls or squares.

ruffed the next heart and looked around for a way to develop twelve tricks.

If he ruffed his losing diamond in dummy, he would wind up with a losing club in each hand. There was no chance of deceiving the enemy if he kept the king of hearts in dummy. The opponent with the ace of hearts would see clearly that he had to hold on to that card for dear life, and he would allow his partner to stop the clubs.

Lowly Deuce
The lowly deuce of diamonds was not as good a threat as the king of hearts, but it enjoyed the advantage of being concealed in the face.

After ruffing the second heart South got to dummy with a spade and ruffed the king of hearts. Then he ran four more rounds of trumps without bothering to ruff a diamond in dummy.

Actually, dummy had one more trump than declarer after South had ruffed two hearts. When dummy led the last trump, South could discard a club from his hand.

The defenders assumed that South had no diamonds to ruff in dummy and that it was safe to throw away their diamonds and save their clubs. This established South's deuce of diamonds as his twelfth trick.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

MUFFED THE "MISS"

Dear Louise: Your recent column about including the Miss in front of a name when formally acknowledging an invitation reminds me of an experience I had last June and which is still very upsetting. I too neglected to write Miss with my name and it boomeranged. I learned through the bride's cousin, who is a close friend of mine, that the bride and her mother were shocked that any of the older ones first would be unfriend or acquaintance of the family.

ly could possibly do such a thing. I was ripped up the back for being on the wrong side of the tracks and can understand now why the family treated me coolly when I attended the reception.

I would say that the bride's parents are one generation nouveau riche and strive for social status. The bride and I were college classmates and sorority sisters. Apparently I have been crossed off her "social" list.

INTRODUCING FRIENDS
Dear Louise: When greeting friends at a party where there is no special guest of honor, should the hostess introduce them to the older people first, or take her friends in turn, as she goes around the room?

Louise Davis Answers:
It would be simpler, more gracious and thoughtful for a hostess to introduce her friends as she goes around the room.

Molasses is the Magic ingredient that brings smoothness of texture to these popular, classic candies. They include the light mounds of sea foam, molasses nut crunch, a variation of brittle, and molasses taffy that's wrapped in waxed paper or transparent plastic wrap after it's made and cooled.

Chocolate Pretzels
To make the pretzels, melt one cup glazed chocolate chips over hot but not boiling water. Stir constantly until chocolate is melted and smooth. Spoon melted chocolate into cake decorating tube or bag. Using a decorating tip at least three eighths of an inch in diameter at opening, press out chocolate into two-inch or a bit longer lengths. As chocolate is being pressed out of tube, loop each length two or three times to resemble pretzel. Press chocolate out onto waxed paper placed on cookie sheet or in pan. Then the finished pretzel shapes may be transferred easily to refrigerator for chilling until firm. Recipe makes about 24 candies.

Chocolate Nuggets
2 cups glazed chocolate chips
3/4 cup sweetened condensed milk
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Dash salt
Chopped nuts, colored candies
Confectioners sugar, sprinkles
Melt chocolate over hot but not boiling water. Add condensed milk, flavorings and salt, mix thoroughly. Pour onto waxed paper. Chill 30 minutes or until firm enough to handle. Shape into small balls and roll into confectioners sugar, chopped nuts, colored candies, sugar sprinkles or chocolate sprinkles.

Molasses Sea Foam
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup water
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts
Combine sugar, molasses and water in three-quart saucepan. Place over medium heat. Stir until sugar dissolves, then boil without stirring until thermometer reaches 250 degrees or when small amount of syrup forms a hard ball when dropped into cold water. Remove from heat. Beat egg whites until stiff, add syrup in a steady stream, beating constantly. When mixture is stiff, fold in vanilla and nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper.

Molasses Nut Crunch
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
2 1/2 cups chopped nuts
Combine molasses, sugar and butter in a two-quart saucepan. Place over low heat. Stir only until sugar dissolves. Cook, without stirring, until candy thermometer reaches 270 degrees or when small amount of syrup dropped in very cold water separates into threads which are hard but not brittle. Remove from heat. Stir in baking soda and nuts. Turn out into greased eight inch square pan. Spread quickly. Cut into squares when slightly cool. Recipe makes one and three fourths pounds of candy.

Molasses Taffy
1 1/2 cups unsulphured molasses
3/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 teaspoon lemon or rum flavoring
Combine molasses, sugar, butter and vinegar in three - quart saucepan. Place over low heat. Stir constantly until mixture comes to a boil. Then do not stir but continue cooking until candy thermometer reaches 260 degrees or hard ball stage when dropped in cold water. Remove immediately from heat, stir in flavoring. Pour into greased 15 by 10-inch baking pan. When mixture is cool enough to handle, pull until light in color. (Greased or buttered hands help). Roll into long rope about one-half inch thick. Cut into one-inch pieces. Wrap pieces in waxed paper or transparent plastic. Recipe makes one pound of taffy.

Christmas Sparklers

For a pretty Christmas decoration for cake or cookies, dry maraschino cherries thoroughly and cut into "rings". Place the cherry rings on the cake or cookies, frostings and center the rings with bits of green angelica or citron.

American Cuisine Lacks Fruit Soup

BY MALCOLM R. HEBERT
Chicago Daily News Service

Glance into any cookbook, choose any menu you desire and chances are 1,000 to 1, you will not find fruit soup listed. In fact nine out of 10 cookbooks will not list fruit soup. Their authors seem to have forgotten that fruits have a great gastronomic versatility, especially as a soup.

Among the many ancient cuisines of the world fruit soups are listed as both a first and a dessert course. The Slavs have long been keen about their berry soups. The Poles rave about blackberry soup. The Swedish people talk about their mixed fruit soup. The Russians marvel about their strawberry soup. The French like blueberry soup. And in South America a tantalizing Brazilian meal will probably end up with a tangy and spicy orange soup.

Strange fruit? Perhaps, but in America where the apple, the orange, the grape and many other fruits are plentiful there are no fruit soups. Only America has no fruit soup it can call its own.

Three Types
Fruit soups no matter what their origin, are classified into three types: jellied, clear and creamed. The jellied soup is just what the name implies. Clear soup is somewhat tart, clean to the palate, smooth and delicious. Creamed fruit soup is perhaps the most natural in color and texture. These soups can be served as a first course or as a dessert course. And don't think that they won't make a hit. Since the American palate is still a long way from tasting everything that a chef can create these soups will make a lasting impression on guests.

There are many variations to fruit soups, a drop or two of lemon juice or lime juice will add zest and new taste delights, a dollop of whipped cream floating majestically atop paints a new taste pattern. A dash of the chopped fruit itself on a creamed version adds color and flavor. The variation is endless. All fruit soups are best when served very cold and in small chilled bowls. Here are two recipes that use easily obtainable fruits.

Cold Apple Soup
5 apples, peeled and quartered
3/4 cup sugar
3 cups hot water
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 cup red wine
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cold water
1/2 cup cream

Place apples, sugar, water and lemon rind in a saucepan and cook until apples are soft. Add wine and cook for five minutes. Strain and mash through fine sieve. Return to heat and add paste made from flour and cold water, stir until mixture is thick. Chill soup. Just before serving add cream. Serve as a dessert course. Recipe yields six servings.

Clocks to Cherish

A clock can be something to cherish a home by — the first thought about many an old home is of a cherished old clock. But few later clocks have as much personality as the old ones which may be why far too many homes went without important clocks so long. This lapse is about over, however, according to the growing popularity of impressive time keepers of all kinds. Stores are handsomely Christmas-stocked with them, especially with those in traditional styles.

The advent of a stately grand father clock like this into the family can't help but be an occasion on an occasion so appropriate to this time of year. Surprisingly many grandfather and other floor-standing clocks are seen, along with an unexpected number of wall clocks that also have pendulums and chimes, like the French Provincial-styled

Use Lining With Fine
Fabrics

Elegant fabrics, now available in great variety, may offer a challenge to the home sewer. Choosing a simple pattern of few lines and using backing or underlining will assure a dress that holds its shape and beauty.

In choosing the fabric that goes on the inside of the dress, consider the qualities of the fabric you want to point up. With a brocade, emphasize the stiffness. Back the whole skirt of brocade with a light weight bonded interfacing for rigid unpressed pleats that stay in place and a skirt that stands out.

Lining For Knits
When working with knits, don't interfere with the natural drape of the fabric. Back the blouse of the dress in a fabric that gives support yet lets the fabric stay soft and natural. Cut underlining pieces exactly like blouse pieces, stay stitch them together and sew as if they were one piece.

In the knitted skirt, make an underlining of a firm yet soft fabric. This as a separate unit attached only at the waist line and the side or back closing. This gives width control to the skirt so there will be no stretching of the knit.

Stitch Seams Carefully
When stitching knits use both hands to give the seamline a slight but controlled stretch. There will be less breaking of seams and they will stay smooth. With laces, matelasses, and textured fabrics use a loose tension but make sure that the stitches are perfectly balanced. Test on a sample of the fabric until the tension, stitch length and pressure are adjusted to give a smooth seam.

Keeping pattern seams to a minimum and using little trimming will show off elegant fabric, to advantage. It will also make the sewing job easier.

Sterling Silver Is Exciting Gift
For All Ages

Whether she is in her early teens this Christmas or older, a gift giver can be sure she will be delighted with a gift of shining sterling silver. Silver is becoming, more and more, a gift classic, for its beauty, usefulness and appeal have few limitations.

Making a thoughtful contribution to a young girl's future is easily done with the gift of a piece of sterling silver flatware in her favorite pattern. Place settings, serving pieces or individual teaspoons — your choice depending on the Christmas budget, are a much-appreciated starter to the collection of a complete service. If you are helping to fill a silver hope chest with pieces of silver holloware, consider some of the basic needs first — candlesticks, gravy boat, platter, vegetable dish, pitcher and versatile bowls. Pretty silver accessories for a dressing table and desk are prized possessions that can be put to use right away, among them comb brush mirror sets, powder jars, picture frames and small clocks.

And as a boost to confidence in your feminine appeal, a charming at-home costume works wonders. Even on solitary evenings! The private life of a lovely filters into her public appearances.

Do you know in detail what lines in clothing enhance your good points and play down the not so good? The right lines do both and so make a fine figure of a woman! How it's done is told in our leaflet, "Your Most Becoming Lines." Advice is individual and includes silhouettes, necklines, shoulders, sleeves, belts, trappings. Darker Stockings
The bare legged look in stockings is "out." Today's fashion decrees a deeper hue but don't despair if your nylons are pale. A bath in all purpose dye does the trick.

For the more casual home girl pants remain the favored leisure uniform. But their cut and fabric is a far cry from daytime jeans. The look is plush as can be. In fact all the best in at-homes reflect a feeling of luxury without sacrifice to ease. Even the most elegant long crepe dinner pajamas and brocade shifts now the darlings of the avant garde, are superbly at ease. However, the most vital point about fireside clothes transcends

Cake Recipe From Kentucky Marzipan Belongs to Christmas

Kentucky claims a fabulous cake that makes its appearance in that state in quantity around holiday time.

This traditional Christmas cake probably derives from the whisky fruitcake recipes found in southern cookbooks published at the turn of the century.

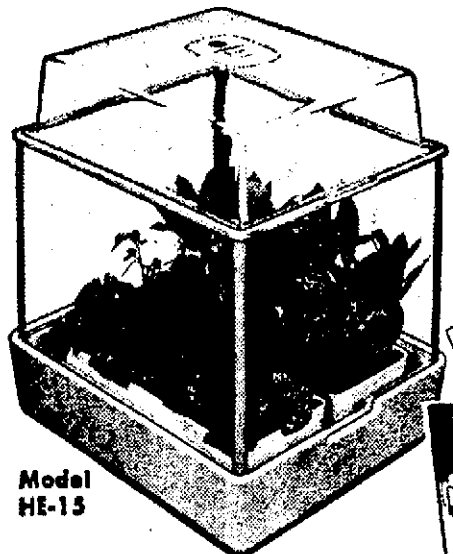

The various cakes didn't all follow the same recipe, but they all combine pecans, raisins, bourbon and a rich cake batter that's flavored with plenty of freshly grated nutmeg. The result is a rich taste treat.

There is one hazard to making this cake extravaganza. It tends to come out of the oven with a cracked top. However, if the following recipe is followed and the cake is tightly wrapped and chilled thoroughly, it can be sliced into attractive thin pieces. To do this, use a long serrated bread knife and a sawing motion when slicing.

This version is called Kentucky Pecan Cake in recognition of the state where it originated.

3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons nutmeg
1 cup butter
2½ cups sugar
6 eggs, separated

Sift remaining two cups flour with baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Cream butter and sugar using a very large mixing bowl.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; beat into creamed mixture. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with bourbon, mixing until smooth each time. Gradually fold this mixture into reserved pecan, raisin and peel mixture.

Beat egg whites until they hold stiff peaks; fold into batter.

To Your Good Health
Surgery Advised for Some Sinus Trouble

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: For five years I have suffered from sinus trouble and difficulty in breathing. I must use medicine or a nasal spray all year round in order to be able to breathe. The doctor has given me shots, pills, etc., and has advised me to rest and take vitamins and if such treatment didn't help, to have my protuberance removed. He explained the operation to me. But people have told me so many things, I don't know whether to undergo surgery or not. I still can't breathe without using a nasal spray about every hour. — MRS. G. H.

can, in fact, make your discomfort worse. Your doctor, obviously knows what is causing your trouble, as indicated by his advice to have the “protuberance” removed. Whatever this is, it puts into the drainage duct, prevents one or more of the sinus cavities from emptying, makes you miserable in general. He is, I am sure, convinced that all the rest, vitamins, sprays and pills in the world can't give more than trivial help if any, and he has advised surgery. Until you accept it, there is little else he can do for you, obviously. As to what “people have told you,” I realize that 30 or 40 years ago doctors themselves frequently recommended that patients not have surgery in the nose except as a last resort. But decades ago that type of surgery was relatively in its infancy. Reliable success with these operations for a good many years ago has changed the outlook completely. You can safely put aside the “things you have been told,” because they are out of date today. Your doctor has advised you thoughtfully and correctly, and he is the one to whom you should listen. Dear Dr. Molner: What causes mycosis fungoides and can it ever be cured? Is there any way to dry up those running tumors on the body? Is there any food that causes this kind of allergy? — C. R. The cause is unknown. These bumps appear suddenly, and may ulcerate and assume a chronic course. It does not appear to be an allergic matter, diet is not a factor. There is no specific treatment which I can suggest) consult a skin specialist. MRS. TEM: With so many moles, your best prospect is to consult a dermatologist as to removal. Change in diet will not help the condition. (Copyright 1962)

Railroad Strike Appears Certain

BY VICTOR RIESEL
CHICAGO — There certainly will be a railroad strike. I have just been told. I trust my source. He is one of those sitting in on the series of union strategy meetings here and in Cleveland and Washington.

The stoppage may paralyze 201,160 miles of track. This would mean that all 135 rail companies would be struck. Or there may be a selective strike. A key road would be hit west of the St. Louis and Chicago terminals, along with one to the east. These would be immobilized to display the strength of the railway workers' brotherhoods.

The stoppages may come next February or March. Or they may not develop for a year if the Supreme Court intervenes. But if there is a strike, a settlement and peace will follow swiftly. And that settlement will be the formula for the conversion from the era symbolized by the iron horse to the space age, not yet really symbolized by anything but an elementary moon ship mock-up.

Thousands Bumped
With variations on the theme, that formula will reveal what will happen to the tens of thousands of men bumped by space age wizardry. Sooner or later the railroads will reach the day when they can legally lay off 13,000 locomotive firemen, who will go with heavy hearts but not with empty pockets.

Those who have been working on the railroads for five to 10 years will receive a year's notice of layoff. Then they will get a special layoff pay for three years. This will come to just under $100 a week for 36 months, the railroad people tell me. The dismissed men will receive this allowance even if they find other jobs. If they do, they then can keep all the money they earn plus the $100 a week.

They can apply for retraining. The carrier will pay 75 per cent of this cost for two years. At all times the firemen — as well as any of the other thousands who will be laid off — are part of a national railroad hiring pool with preferential rehiring rights.

Those who have less than five years' experience will get from:

Catholic Knights Past President Dies at Home

MINERAL POINT (AP)—Phil L. Gorgen, 79, a past president of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, an insurance firm, died Tuesday at his home.

Gorgen also had served on the Iowa County Board of Supervisors and was a former officer of the National Funeral Directors Association. Funeral services will be held here at 11 a.m. Friday.

three to 12 months' notice of layoff. Then they will receive from six to 18 months' severance pay. All can take the money in a lump sum or over the extended period.

Lifetime Jobs
In all there are 46,000 firemen. Six thousand of these are on passenger trains. They will not be dismissed. This leaves 40,000 on the over-the-road freight trains and in the railroad yards. When the 13,000 younger firemen are gone, there will be 27,000 left. They will have lifetime jobs. But as they retire and pass on their spots will not be filled. Thus, in years to come there will be only two men in the locomotive cabs of freight trains — the engineer and the brakeman.

Thus slowly the $1.6 million which the roads have been losing daily because of extra men will begin to dwindle. But what of the other thousands the lines want to lay off?

Here is what a presidential commission reported after 16 months of study:

"Carriers should have an unlimited right to introduce technological change. Changes requiring amendment of rules or agreements affecting craft lines, seniority, or working conditions should be negotiated with the employees; failing to agree the matter should be referred to a special tribunal for final determination."

And the roads are prepared to go first to the brotherhoods for agreement on dismissals. If they disagree, they will go to compulsory arbitration.

Eventually some 25,000 additional railroad workers will be released in this fashion. Experts tell me it will take two decades before the lines have completely eliminated the 65,000 jobs they believe to be surplus in the electronic and Diesel locomotive age.

There will be other cuts. These will come during the rail mergers. If the Pennsylvania and New York Central consolidate, the unions say it will cost 15,000 other jobs. However, there is really no definitive accounting now.

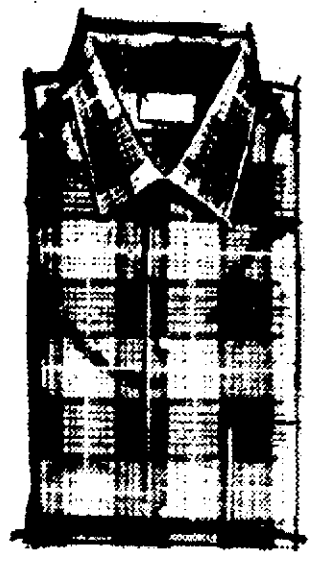

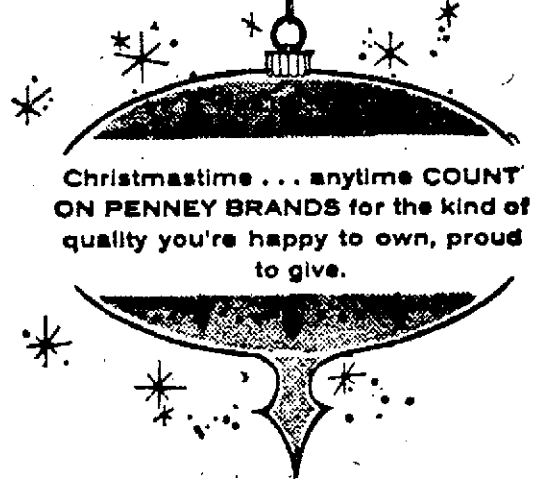

But certainly the old crafts are disappearing. Once, some 10 years ago, the Brotherhoods had 1,100,000 members. Now it takes some 740,000 to run our railroads. Sooner or later the figure will be at 685,000.

I recall writing rail stories involving two million workers; and mine stories concerning 600,000; and steel stories reporting on 1,250,000 men. But the old order changes.

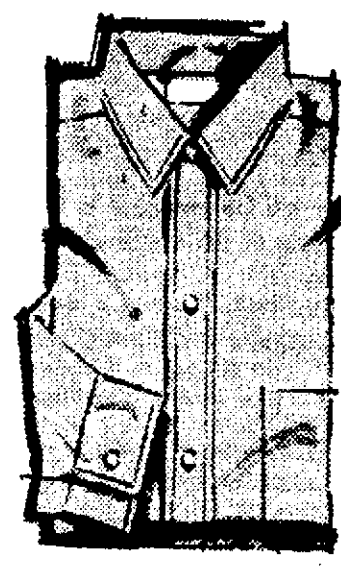

The formula appears to be developing around aid to the younger workers seeking new fields while the older men are guaranteed their jobs, but the jobs themselves eventually go. And openings in the space age business make room for the newcomers.

Student's Goals Should be Set in Junior High School

BY LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

When a student reaches the junior high school level in Europe, his educational future is mapped out by the state or the school authorities.

The student is directed toward training in the professions or in the trades on the basis of his previous record. After this point any change is difficult.

In the United States all paths are left open to those who can qualify. The decision on which path to follow rests on the individual.

We provide counseling and guidance, aptitude tests and interest inventories to help students choose the best goals which they seem capable of reaching.

Pupils who choose goals and work out plans for their future in cooperation with their parents are happier and more successful than those who drift.

Drifting leads to poor mental health, lack of responsibility—and lower grades. Such drifting results in a million young men and women between the ages of 16 and 21 being out of school and out of work, unskilled and untrained. They are a problem to society and to themselves.

Unprepared

These young people did not prepare themselves well enough. Schools gave them the opportunity, but failed to start them working toward a constructive future.

The junior high years are critical ones. At a time when a boy is still a child in many ways, he must make decisions which will affect the rest of his life. At the end of the seventh and eighth grades, students must be ready to select courses which will remain part of their records as long as they live.

Their future in high school, the possibility of college, and the place in life are all at stake to a certain extent at this point.

A student needs the understanding and approval of his parents and the other adults in his life. Although the choices are his, they are too important to be left entirely to the whims of a teenager.

His goals need not be unchangeable. Our flexible society allows the student to shift his ultimate goal at any time throughout his life.

I know one man who changed his objective from technician to engineering design at the age of 33. Starting from a fifth grade education, he acquired an engineering degree through evening school work and now is a chief design engineer for a large corporation.

Every effort should be made, nevertheless, to start junior high school students off toward goals in which they will be happy, successful citizens. Conferences between parent, pupil, counselor or teacher lead to understandings on this.

Parents must help students adopt reasonable goals within their capabilities.

Teachers and counselors must analyze the causes of underachievement, a major factor in lack of goal choices.

Students must give thought to their own efforts and develop skills of learning which will keep them eligible for the paths leading to the position in life for which they are best suited.

Until a student pictures himself as capable of success in reaching a goal, he will avoid setting a goal.

Sisters Complete Home for Aged Purchase Plan

Representatives of the Sisters of Charity met in Outagamie County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath's office Monday with county officials to pay the balance of the $165,000 purchase price for the county's Golden Age Home in New London.

The Roman Catholic order, which has its headquarters in Watertown, presented a $30,000 certified check at the November county board meeting when the sale was approved.

The balance, except for $5,000, was paid to the county Monday, to be held in escrow at the National Manufacturers Bank in Neenah, until the abstract is completed and approved by both parties.

When the abstract has been accepted, the remaining $5,000 will be turned over to the county.

Joseph J. Engel, an Appleton real estate man, represented the five sisters from the Sisters of Charity, in arranging the purchase.

Caesar Pioneered Ban On Downtown Traffic

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Julius Caesar pioneered the idea of traffic control by banning the parking of all chariots in Rome's central business district 2,000 years ago.

In addition to putting out the "no parking" sign, Caesar went along with a senatorial edict revoking the driving licenses of Roman women but he lost that battle. The ladies enlisted the orator Cicero on their side and he won them back their rights to drive.

Some 22 million Americans snore. All of them can't be husbands, but no wives admit to this fault. Mark Twain's comment: "There ain't no way to find out why a snorer can't hear himself snore."

If the ocean highway had been paved, Christopher Columbus might have made it faster to America on foot. He averaged about 2.8 miles an hour by sail.

Our quotable notables: "A man can be happy with any woman as long as he does not love her"—Oscar Wilde.

America in 1910 produced goods and services at the rate of $380 worth for each man, woman and child. Today the figure is $2,815, a vast increase despite the fact a dollar isn't worth now what it was worth then.

You have one chance in three of being involved in an accident if you drive 12,000 miles in a year. And the odds are one in 35 that someone will be hurt in that accident, and one in 1,300 someone will be killed—you or someone else.

Can you name four state capitals bearing the names of former presidents? They are Jefferson City, Mo.; Jackson, Miss.; Lincoln, Neb., and Madison, Wis.

Canadian Term

The term "damyankee," employed still with more or less affection south of the Mason and Dixon Line, didn't originate there. Canadians in the War of 1812 called their U. S. opponents "damn Yankees."

If you take your wife to Las Vegas, Nev., don't bring her there in moccasins. A survey showed that women could play the slot machines for only 2½ hours at a stretch when wearing high heels but four hours in flat shoes.

It was Christopher Morley who observed, "If you have to keep reminding yourself of a thing, perhaps it isn't so."

Appleton '5' Seeks Initial Win Friday

AP Selects Richter and Dave Robinson on Its All-American Team

Mira, Saines, Baker and Stovall Make Up Backfield

BY BOB HOOBING NEW YORK (AP) — Fabulous Terry Baker, Jerry Stovall, George Mira and George Saines — responsible for a combined total offense of over 5,000 yards this season — comprised the backfield of the 1962 Associated Press All-America football team announced today.

Baker, an honor student in mechanical engineering at Oregon State, was named Heisman Trophy winner as the outstanding player of the year and was the top National Football League draft pick.

In all, six members of the All-America were first round NFL selections, including the versatile Stovall from Louisiana State, ends Pat Richter of Wisconsin and Dave Robinson of Penn State, ends Pat Richter of Wisconsin and Dave Robinson of Penn State, center Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama and Purdue tackle Don Brumm.

Mira, the pass master of Miami, Fla., and fullback Saines from Michigan State are joined by Damon Bame, fierce guard and linebacker from Southern California's national champions, tackle Bobby Bell of Minnesota and guard Johnny Treadwell, heart of unbeaten Texas' defense.

Bame and Mira are juniors, the rest seniors.

20 Pounds Less

An unusual feature of the line which averaged 212 pounds per man — 20 pounds less than last year's All-America forward wall — is that the most weight is packed into the end position. Richter is a 230-pounder who guarded a flank for the nation's No. 2 power. Robinson goes 222.

The fast, hard-hitting aggregation was picked on recommendations of eight regional boards composed of sports writers and broadcasters who took into account all games through Dec. 1.

Only one man in collegiate history ever cranked out more career total offense yardage than the left-handed passing Baker, whose 2,276 output this fall gave him 4,980 for his three varsity seasons. Johnny Bright of Drake set the mark of 5,903 a dozen years ago.

Daker was a Portland, Ore., high school teammate of halfback Mel Renfro, the brilliant University of Oregon star who landed a second team All-America berth.

Mississippi's Glynn Griffing, Billy Moore of Arkansas and spectacular Eldon Fortie of Brigham Young were other second team backs.

The line has ends Hugh Campbell of Washington State and Tom Hutchinson of Kentucky, tackles Art Gregory of Duke and Ray Kilmer of Oregon State.

Ken Hubbs Named NL's Best Rookie

BOSTON (AP) — Ken Hubbs, the rangy Chicago Cubs second baseman who excited the baseball world this past season by flashing to two fielding records, is the National League Rookie-of-the-Year for 1962 in a landslide.

The quick, sure-handed California, still 17 days short of his 21st birthday, was named on all but one of the 20 votes cast by a panel of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, which announced the results Wednesday.

Hubbs broke two major league records for second basemen set by Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox in 1948. The marks were 78 consecutive games without an error and 418 successful chances without an error. Doerr had strings of 72 games and 414 chances.

Hubbs batted .260, with five homers, 49 runs batted in and 90 scored for the Cubs.

Outstanding

The 6-foot-2, 180-pounder joined the Cubs' farm system in 1959 after graduating from Colton High School, where he was an outstanding all-around athlete.

Shifting around between the outfield, shortstop and third base, he did not get his first taste of second base last year. He was thoroughly indoctrinated at the position in the Arizona Instructional League last fall and was a master by the time he was called up.

Hubbs started his remarkable record streak when he cleanly handled the results Wednesday. Burgess of the Pirates on June 13 and — as the attention and pressure mounted — kept it going until he committed a bobble on Sept. 5.

The youngster is the second straight Cub to take the rookie award. It went to outfielder Billy Williams, a tall and hefty Mississippi native, in 1961.

Clendenon, a ball and hefty Mississippi native, in 1961.

Friday Night's Games: Appleton at East; West at Manitowoc; South at Oshkosh; Fond du Lac at North.

BY JIM HARP Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If Fox River Valley Conference teams continue to play games as close as the opening set last week-end, it appears that it will be a thrilling season for spectators, an anxious one for players and a heart-stopping one for coaches.

The total point spread between the four games last Friday was 16 with six points being the widest margin of victory and one marker the narrowest.

Based on last week's performance, the league standings could be in for another shuffle as the four teams with 1-0 records will be meeting the four that suffered setbacks.

Seek First Win

Appleton High travels to Green Bay East, and the Terrors hope to get on the victory wagon for the first time this season. Appleton has lost three non-loop encounters and was upset by Sheboygan North last week.

In other games, it will be Sheboygan South at Oshkosh, Green Bay West at Manitowoc and Fond du Lac at Sheboygan North.

The 52 points scored by AHS against North last Friday was the Terror's low output of the season. Coach Dick Emanuel is hoping that the starters who carried the brunt of the scoring in the non-conference games, but slipped off last week, will return to form against East.

North successfully put the clamps on Gary Hietpas who had counted 52 markers in the three non-league tilts. Hietpas managed only five against North. Junior Paul Schumaker was averaging better than 10 points per game but was held to six by the Redmen. Brian Beck came through with 15 points for his best effort of the young campaign.

Nip Fond du Lac

East showed come-from-behind form in nipping Fond du Lac. East was down five points with about six minutes left to go when Chris Bungenier sparked a late rally that netted a 45-41 triumph. Bungenier finished as the top scorer for the Red Devils with 15 points.

East actually won the game from the free throw line as Fond du Lac had a 17-14 edge in field goals but East bagged 17 of 26 charity tosses while Fond du Lac's scoring was confined to four players, Bungenier with 15, Pat Harrington, 11; Gary Buell, 8 and Tom Rein, 11.

Eagles Lose MSU's Budde To Texans

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State tackle Ed Budde was signed to a pro football contract Wednesday by the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Budde was a first-round draft choice of both the Texans and the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Budde would not reveal the contract amount but said he was happy because it's for two years.

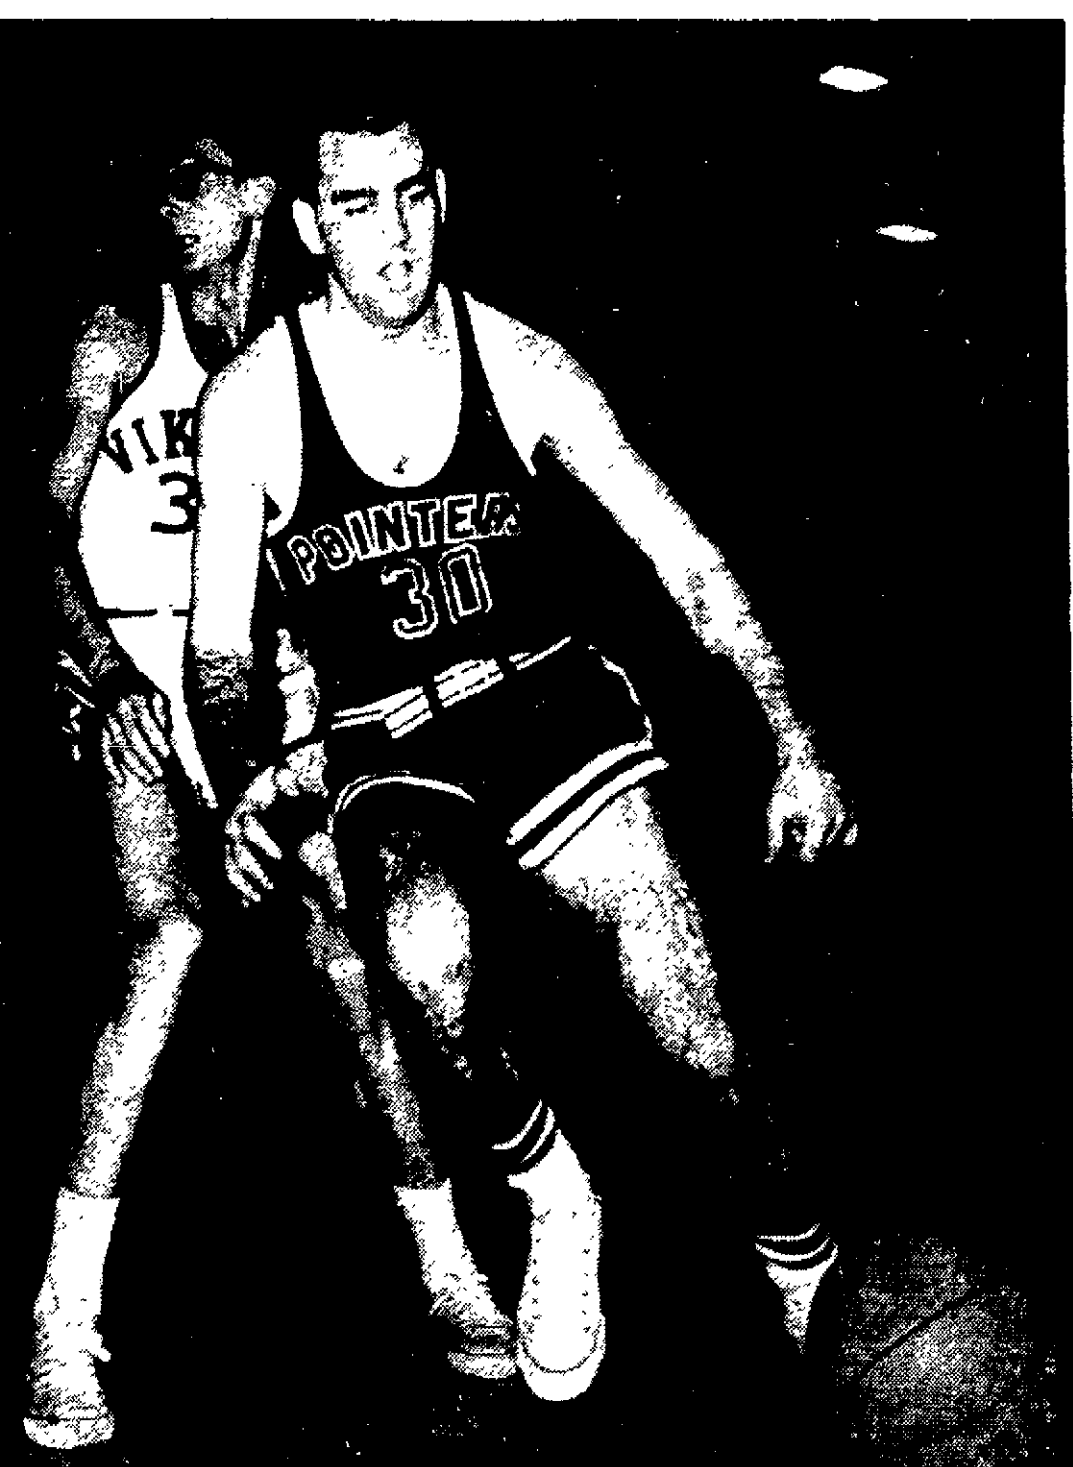

The tackle is a product of Detroit's Denby High School. He is due to graduate from Michigan State in June with a teacher's certificate in physical education.

Carroll Scores 74-67 Victory Over Oshkosh

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Norbert, a powerhouse in Wisconsin small college basketball, led the past two years, is off to a fast start again with two straight victories.

The independent Green Knights in the NAIA tournament in 1961 and last spring, rolled over the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee 95-65 Wednesday night behind the sharpshooting of Dave Minten and Dick Rankin.

In other non-conference games, Stevens Point overpowered Lawrence 74-54, Carroll defeated Oshkosh 74-67, Stout edged St. Mary's of Winona, Minn., 60-57, Macalester of Minnesota thumped River Falls 88-75, the University of Minnesota-Duluth downed Superior 70-50, and the University of Illinois-Chicago beat Northwestern of Watertown 80-73.

Minten and Rankin scored 28 and 21 points, respectively, in the first half.

Geoffrion Suffers Fractured Wrist

TORONTO (AP) — Bernie Geoffrion, Montreal Canadiens' star right winger, suffered a fractured right wrist, a collision with Toronto Maple Leaf goalie Johnny Bower Wednesday night.

The injury came in the third period of Montreal's National Hockey League 2-1 loss to Toronto. Geoffrion scored Montreal's only goal on the play but hit his wrist on Bower's chin.

PALO ALTO — The Packers will finish the league season one under the league limit of 36.

Howard Williams, the promising rookie defensive back and the fastest man on the squad, suffered a slipped disc during practice Wednesday and was put in traction at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital.

Coach Vince Lombardi announced that Williams will be lost for the last two games on the West Coast. He will be confined to the hospital until Monday but figures to make the trip to Long Beach Tuesday.

Bart Starr Takes Over as NFL Passing Leader

Taylor Regains Undisputed Lead In Scoring

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time is running out for John Henry Johnson in his bid to overtake Green Bay's Jim Taylor for the National Football League's individual rushing honors, but the big Pittsburgh fullback has not given up trying.

Johnson, who was supposed to play second fiddle to rookie Bob Ferguson at the start of the season, gained 88 yards against St. Louis last Sunday to gain some ground but Taylor still leads with two weeks to go, 1,239 yards to Johnson's 1,016.

Although held to only 61 yards, Taylor rushed over for two touchdowns against Los Angeles and took over the scoring lead with 102 points, based on 17 touchdowns. He was tied with Jimmy Brown of Cleveland last week at 90 points each.

Four Field Goals

Don Chandler, kicking specialist of the New York Giants, kicked four field goals and added two extra points to sweep past Brown into second place with 94 points.

Brown not only was held scoreless by Dallas, but was limited to 29 yards and dropped a notch to fourth place in rushing. The Browns' great runner, and the league's rushing leader for five consecutive seasons, gave way to Don Perkins, who took over third place with 92 yards against the Browns. Perkins has a total of 334 yards to Brown's 806.

Bart Starr, Green Bay's quarterback, ousted Eddie LeBaron as the passing leader with a brilliant aerial display against the Packers. Starr completed 15 of 20 passes to move into first place with 152 completions in 235 attempts, good for 2,103 yards and a 64.7 average.

Washington's Bobby Mitchell re-Jim Hansen, a pair of rebounding tained his leadership in pass receiving, scored 16 and 12 points, respectively.

Bill Nelson, former Manitowoc season total to 61 receptions for and University of Wisconsin at 1,187 yards. Sonny Randle of St. Louis contributed 10. Jack Ulwelling turned on to second place but Davis, who was not selected in the NFL player draft, signed after conferring with Los Angeles General Manager Elroy Hirsch at the home of Whitewater coach Forrest Perkins.

Davis, who is 6-3 and weighs 240, was co-captain of Whitewater this season. He is due to report to the Rams' training camp next July 19.

Whitewater Star Signs With Rams

Deserves All Honors

Though a southpaw passer, Baker kicks and pitches a baseball from the right side. His coach, Tommy Prothro, says: "I think Baker more than deserves all the honors bestowed upon him."

An uncanny passer and deceptively fast ball carrier, Baker is a quarterback but has proved himself equally proficient as a single wing tailback.

So rounded is Stovall the pros aren't sure how they'll use him. They know he'll make the grade somewhere.

This 195-pounder and Heisman runner-up has been a three-year starter, stepping into the position vacated by the graduation of Billy Cannon.

"Stovall is the most complete football player I've ever seen," says LSU coach Charlie McClendon. "He does everything well out there the other team had to and has a magnificent heart."

The pre-dental student has been our ground game much better. The Tiger big gun in rushing, passing, punting and blocking with good pass catching skills in kick returns.

When he took one 98 yards for a touchdown which helped subdue Georgia Tech 10-7. His defensive skills rate five stars.

With a season yet to go, Mira has shattered 12 Miami marks—four each in single game, season and career categories.

"He's the greatest college quarterback I've coached in 35 years," states Andy Gustafson. "Without a doubt he is the finest passer, finest runner and best field general."

Mira connected on 122 passes for 1,572 yards and 10 touchdowns this fall, all school records.

Saimes finished as the second leading ball carrier in the Big Ten and its finest all-around back. He played almost 60 minutes a game in this era of unit substitution, was a devastating tackler in the role of rover on defense, and made the Spartans go with his blocking when he wasn't hauling the ball. Saimes turned in three touchdown efforts against both Notre Dame and Indiana.

Richter, who grabbed 38 passes for 531 yards and five touchdowns, holds every conceivable pass receiving mark in the Wisconsin record book. He also is the squad's top punter with a 39-yard average for 36 kicks.

"Richter would catch passes with any of the great ones we have had in the Big Ten," says coach Mill Bruhn. "When he was on, we did everything well out there the other team had to and has a magnificent heart."

Watch him so closely that he made our ground game much better. The Tiger big gun in rushing, passing, punting and blocking with good pass catching skills in kick returns.

When he took one 98 yards for a touchdown which helped subdue Georgia Tech 10-7. His defensive skills rate five stars.

With a season yet to go, Mira has shattered 12 Miami marks—four each in single game, season and career categories.

"He's the greatest college quar-

will get a piece of them. He certainly is the best linebacker in the Southeastern Conference and I believe in the nation."

Bame is a comparatively light 187 pounds, playing his first year of varsity football after two years at Glendale City Junior College. He was voted outstanding line-man in five games and shared the honor in a sixth. He averaged about 20 tackles and assists per game in the first perfect season at Southern Cal since 1932.

"He's been our defensive quarterback all year, done a tremendous job and deserves much of the credit for our record," said coach John McKay.

He made Brumm, 227, a standout.

Packers Lose Howie Williams

Hank Gremminger and Wood. Jet also is a defensive back.

The Packers put a strong emphasis on offense in yesterday's workout and Lombardi made no bones about his displeasure with the manner in which some of the plays were performed. Green Bay's offense, which snapped back with 41 points vs. the Rams after getting 31 in the previous two games, will be subjected to considerable pressure from the 49er defense Sunday.

Has Twisted Ankle

Two key offensive performers are hurting — Guard Fuzzy Thurston, twisted ankle, and center Jim Ringo, whose foot, hand, back and shoulders are aching. Paul Hornung has some stiffness in his injured knee, but he has been running it out.

Dan Currie figures to be ready for some action Sunday but he wasn't pleased Wednesday. "A 100-yard sprint feels like a 200-yard sprint. I move like an old lady," Currie said.

The weather has been good here, with the temperature rising to about 65 in mid-day and then dropping to around 40 at night. The warm sun is expected to heal plenty of hurts.

Ron Kramer led calisthenics alone Wednesday and shouted before the exercises, "stretch 'em out real good, we don't want any pulled muscles."

The big Oaf works hard on his training and Tommy Kalmir, the former Ram star, marveled as Kramer leaped high to snare a few passes. "He's the best tight end in football and his basketball ability helps him, too," said Kalmir who was among a few spectators permitted to watch the drill in an enclosed practice field.

ing, erstwhile Appleton High and UW star, scored three baskets — one of seven Pointers to hit at least that total.

Mike Clair and Joel Ungrodt blazed away for 37 of the Vikes' 54 points. Clair tallied 19, seven of which came from the foul line, while Ungrodt produced 18, all from the field.

While the Pointers made 42.5 percent of their shots (31 of 73), the Vikes were limited to a .319 accuracy figure by their own cold shooting and the visitors' sharp man-for-man defense.

The Vikes, who had bagged only four goals in the first 13 minutes of the first half, missed their first 11 attempts of the second half and managed only four baskets in the opening 12½ minutes of that final period.

Stevens Point, meanwhile, enlarged its lead to 27 points (56-29) at one juncture. Lawrence dropped through six field shots in the last 3½ minutes to narrow the gap a bit.

Much of the Pointers' field goal superiority came on rebound productivity. While Stevens Point whipped in eight rebound shots — five of them by Hansen — the Vikes could follow up on only two such scoring efforts.

It was just as stormy a night on the free throw line for the Vikes. They missed 12 of 22 attempts. Stevens Point made 12 of 18.

One of the largest Alexander Gym crowds in recent years — except for the annual Lawrence-Ripon battles — turned out for the contest.

4 Recommendations Made Big 10 Football Coaches Will Back Their Gripes With Films

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten football coaches, who last season often shuddered at the referees' whistle, will back their gripes with game movies at a special meeting this winter.

The grid group, at its regular December meeting Wednesday, agreed to appear Jan. 29 at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., armed with film clips they think show officiating errors.

Explained Commissioner Bill Reed: "This is aimed at an evaluation by the coaches themselves in determining what kind of problems exist in officiating. By use of movies we may be able to spot whether an official is consistently wrong or makes an honest mistake in judgment. One way or another, this examination of movies should move us in the direction of coping with any obvious problems of officiating."

One Week Ahead

The conference of coaches, who gathered one week ahead of the annual December conference business session, maintained an official silence on any beefs they might have nursed against officiating last fall.

At least two coaches, Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Woody Hayes of Ohio State, had published run-ins with game officials last season.

The coaches made several recommendations for consideration by the athletic directors and faculty representatives next week. These included:

1. A proposal to change the date for issuing tenders (bids to prospective high school athletes) from May 1 to April 1.
2. Permission for coaches to visit high school athletes' homes anytime between Dec. 1 and the beginning of the issuance of tenders.
3. Endorsing a more liberal player substitution rule, ranging from two "wild card" players (instead of the current one) to unlimited substitution at any time during the game.
4. Request that freshman grid-ers be permitted to begin practice when they begin required campus residence. Now they can begin on the first day of classes.

Hasn't Seen Teammates Lately Baker Given Heisman Award in Washington

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Oregon State Beavers line up for the Liberty Bowl game against Villanova, that stranger quarterbacking the Beavers will be All-America Terry Baker.

The versatile star who led the team to an 8-2 mark and topped the nation in total offense hasn't seen much of his mates lately. He's been too busy accepting awards and honors for his fine season.

Baker collected the latest—and biggest—one Wednesday night, at the Downtown Athletic Club, when Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy handed him the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding player.

The attorney general, a substitute at Harvard in 1947, took a look at the 6-foot-3 Baker and said:

"I was a short end. I think the Heisman committee should recognize good, short substitutes."

He also noted Baker passes left-handed and throws a baseball right-handed and quipped that Terry seemed as able as switching as his fellow Oregonian, Sen. Wayne Morse.

Baker was the 28th winner of the big bronze trophy, which depicts a football player lugging the ball with his left arm.

That's the arm Baker throws passes with, although he punts rightfooted. He eats left-handed, and has had plenty of workouts at it, having been on the banquet circuit for a week, with several more functions to go.

"Oddly enough, I'm losing weight," he smiled.

"I hope to rejoin the team in Corvallis Friday or Saturday, and get in at least one workout before the Liberty Bowl game," he said.

"I have exams all next week, so I won't be able to practice then."

The Liberty game at Philadelphia, is Dec. 15.

"My mind is on that game, and

TRIM DOGS' NAILS

A DOG'S TOENAILS SHOULD NOT QUOTE TOUCH GROUND—EXCESSIVE NAILS MAY SPLIT, SNAG BRUSH EASILY, CAUSING LAMENESS WHEN HUNTING. DO NOT TRIM NAILS JUST BEFORE THE HUNT AS YOU MAY CUT THE QUICK, WHICH IS LONGER IN LONG NAILS. TRIM THEM A WEEK OR TWO BEFORE THE HUNT: FIRST, CLIP THE TRANSLUCENT END—DARKER SECTION INDICATES THE QUICK. WAIT A FEW DAYS, THEN TRIM SHORTER, AS SHOWN ABOVE, USING A FILE TO FINISH. GO CAREFULLY—IF NAIL BLEEDS, STOP; DELAY JOB A FEW DAYS.

Knicks Defeat Zephyr Quint

Sears, Naulls Traded for Tom Gola

DETROIT (AP) — With two teammates traded away, the New York Knicks were all fired up as they snapped a five-game losing streak in spanking the Chicago Zephyrs 133-117 in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader here Wednesday night.

Gola was obtained by New York Wednesday in a trade with the San Francisco Warriors. The trade sent Kenny Sears and Willie Naulls to San Francisco.

In the second game of the doubleheader, the Detroit Pistons, who have been floundering around in the league's Western Division, had a three-game winning streak broken by the world champion Boston Celtics 106-93.

Ruchie Guerin paced the Knicks with 3 points. Johnny Green had 23 and Gene Shue 22 for New York. Bill McGill was high for Chicago with 28.

Challenge Even to Expert

Ski Area at Waupaca Expanded, Improved

BY DICK McDANIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA — A hill with a "challenge" is the way Ray Hemmingson, general manager, describes the newly remodeled ski hill of Waupaca Chain O'Lakes Ski Corp. on U.S. 10 three miles northwest of Waupaca.

Hemmingson, who has scouted many of the ski hills in and out of Wisconsin, is a geologist by hobby. His knowledge of the lay of the land and use of a hired bulldozer will offer skiers of all ages and degrees of skill an opportunity to satisfy their appetites.

The ski club is actually only two years old, although there has been a down-hill ski slide on "Hemmingson Ridge" since about 1945. The 1945 effort consisted of cutting a swath 10 feet wide down the steep hill.

With only a few active skiers in the area, the narrow hill was limited only to "expert" skiers. The corporation was formed in the early winter of 1960, but became a full-fledged operation in the fall of 1961 and the first months in 1962.

Attendance Climbs
About 80 skiers visited the hill during the 1960-61 year. Last year's attendance climbed to 1,200.

The main hill has been widened to about 120 feet to the 350-foot wide bottom. It has a 1,600-foot run with 238-foot vertical drop.

As an added challenge for the top skiers of the area, Hemmingson and the club have cut a contour-banked subsidiary trail west of the main hill. The new trail is lined with trees and will be a suitable test for the more advanced skiers, he said.

The hill's potential also includes the possibility of developing another trail on the east side of the present main hill and a 100-foot wide trail of about 2,600 feet on a contour run to the west of the present lanes. Hemmingson said the area to the west has steep inclines on both sides and, when developed, will be another excellent hill.

1,200 Foot Tow
The present main hill has a 1,200-foot-long main tow line, operating at about 10 miles per hour with two-outs before the top of the hill. The first is about 500 feet from the bottom and the second is about 500 feet from the top of the hill.

There also is a 500-foot-long beginners tow line operating at the lower west side of the present hill. It operates at three miles per hour to give the beginners a chance to develop their "ski legs."

Building Chalet
The club also is in the process of completing a "Chalet" at the bottom of the hill as a warming house with refreshments, food and rental equipment.

The Chalet is a planned two-story structure but will operate out of the basement for another one or two seasons.

The corporation is capitalized for $25,000 and has about 60 shareholders at $50 per share. It has a trained ski patrol and consists of about 15 acres.

Officers and directors are Donald Lewis, president, Wayne Simpson, Jr., vice president, Arlin C. Barden, secretary, Gordon Yerigan, Jerome Telfer, Vance High, Robert Strebe and Hemmingson.

Eggert, Kositzke Share Honors in Lutheran League

Norm Eggert carded a 247 game, and Harry Kositzke slammed a 653, including games of 232 and 233, set in the Lutheran League at Hahn's Monday evening. Eggert left the alleys with a 635.

Keith Gehring fired a 225 and a 627 and Milton Ruppel had a 241 and 572. Other top scores were Bob Ziegler, 555, Ken Ny-moen, 550, Norm Joecks, 560, Renny Hannemann, 225, and Oscar Radtke, 571.

The opening date of the High, Robert Strebe and Hemmingson. Hemmingson said plans will be made to have the hill open two nights a week.

Ortiz Named Top Fighter For November

Clay Advances To Fourth Spot Among Challengers

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz of New York, who knocked out Teruo Kosaka of Japan Monday in the first defense of his world lightweight title, was named "The Fighter Of The Month" by Ring Magazine today.

In the heavyweight division, Cassius Clay of Louisville advanced from seventh to fourth because of his knockout victory over Archie Moore last month. Moore dropped from 14th to seventh. Floyd Patterson was listed as the logical challenger for Sonny Liston's heavyweight title, followed by Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore.; and Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz. Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, who was fourth in the last ratings, dropped down a peg while Billy Daniels of New York, who knocked out Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, replaced his victim in the tenth spot.

Split Decision

In the light-heavyweight division, Giulio Rinaldi of Italy was named the No. 1 challenger for Harold Johnson's title. Mauro Mina, who won a split decision from Henry Hank of Detroit recently, was moved up to third.

Despite the action of the New York Athletic Commission in revoking Paul Pender's fractional middleweight crown, the Boston fighter continued to be ranked on top along with Dick Tiger, the NBA champ. Ex-champion Gene Fullmer, Terry Downes, George Benton, Joey Giambra and Laszlo Papp, followed in that order.

PERSONAL PROBER PERFECT FOR WRITING CONFESSIONS

DEAR CY: Truth is stranger than fiction, new career could be in line with public opinion surveys, or interest in lives of various people. What I want to make it pay off. I am about to do is quit my job as a secretary, and spend a year, with me, and the things they tell carrying out my dreams. I am me about themselves are unbelievable. Deep inside I want to be a creative writer, and use this real mode of travel, do not faze me.

Can you suggest where I might find a place in the writing world with these tenuous qualifications? DEAR MARCIA: If writing appeals because you think it beats working, forget it. You may be psychologically unfit for financial fatigue. Before you kiss your secretarial job adieu, sell some manuscripts to magazines, and establish yourself in a market. With your talents, the confession magazines seem logical. See what you can do writing for "Modern Romances," "True Confessions," or "True Romance." Stories total about 7,500 words at 5-cents per word. DEAR CY: Our family is bursting at the seams. When we moved into our home, there was just my wife and me. . . and two bedrooms. With four children, we are desperate for space! Being so close to one another keeps tempers high and is creating havoc among the kids. Fighting. . . fighting. . . always fighting. The fellow next door tells me I can get an "open-end mortgage" to finance an addition to this house. What is an "open-end mortgage," and how does it work? DEAR JOE: If the mortgage you now have on your home had an "open-end" provision, you might be able to borrow as much as you have paid off. The big angle on this type of financing is you can add to your old loan for the addition at the same rate of interest. This could save you 1 per cent or more. . . or roughly 20 per cent of what you might hire money for in today's market. This type of mortgage is very difficult to obtain. Financial institutions are reluctant to lend money at lower rates when they can now get 5 1/2 per cent or more. DEAR CY: For one who has been hooked on deals, your write-up on Hickory Farms stores was balm to my soul. It's time more franchise sales organizations cleaned up their methods, and quit trying to wring every buck out of the little guy. DEAR TERRENCE: Ever hear of "Let the buyer beware"? Drop your guard, and you're inviting trouble from advance fee artists. There are, however, many fine firms, offering franchises today, on a fair and square basis. Hickory Farms is by no means the only firm selling in

Lawrence Fund Raisers Take Heed From Past Campaigns

Needed $20,000 in First Drive; Money Crisis Was Almost Fatal

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN and abroad, a team of Methodist Lawrence College fund raisers, ministers managed to raise $40,000 who have set out to raise $12½ — Lawrence's first big lump of million in the next decade — a cash — and save the old home.

Most of the work for the college's first development drive fell to two men — the Rev. Reeder Smith, first financial agent for the campaign, one motivated by the college, and the Rev. Russell Z. Mason, its second president. The bitterest sort of necessity, Z. Mason, its second president. Money was needed to pay $20,000. Smith had been going around worth of debts; to replace a building destroyed by fire without insurance; and to lure back the college's president from a Milwaukee pastorate, where he had died down, it is conceded fled from the poverty of the institution. The time couldn't have been less auspicious for launching a fund-raising drive. The Civil War was begun. Lawrence, there were only a handful of students in college. Young people were generally obliged to stay at home to tend the store or work the farm while their fathers or older brothers were in the army. There were few qualified teachers, for of the time, but their very in many professors had marched off to the colors, often at the head of companies heavily populated by college-age youths. Yet in spite of pessimistic portents both at home got letters of endorsement, not necessarily testifying to the then-debatable excellence of Lawrence, but to the fact that it existed. Ex-Governor Horatio Seymour, New York, for example, was prevailed upon to testify that he had actually attended two commencement exercises at Lawrence.

Public Plea
All the letters of endorsement — from such worthies as Methodist bishops, state supreme court justices, Governor Alexander W. Randall of Wisconsin, and a man merely identified as "Hon. M. Stever, P. O. Department, Milwaukee," were printed together in a badly-spelled four pages of lumpy dense type. They were prefaced with the plea:

"To the Generous Public — The Lawrence University of Wisconsin suffered great loss in its capacity to be useful when the building occupied by the preparatory and female departments was burned, having no insurance. The University must be greatly limited in its operations until that building is replaced. There being also an imperative demand for increased endowment, the trustees find themselves greatly embarrassed, and are unable to discharge the pressing demand upon them for professors' salaries and additional room, without assistance from the sagacious patriot and liberal after the absent President Cooke, and Acting President Russell Z. Mason was permanently appointed instead. Somewhere along the line, Reeder Smith vanished from the scene, and Mason himself set forth for Boston, after big donors instead of church collections. He called on Founder Lawrence and soothed his ruffled feathers; he made successful calls on the Hon. Lee Claflin, a prominent Methodist and abolitionist; and the representatives of the Samuel Appleton estate. Later it was written, "President Mason brought the shower. The indebtedness of $20,000 was paid off and $20,000 for endowment purposes was secured."

Novel Arguments
He chose some novel arguments, to bolster Lawrence's educational cause. He pointed to the fact that Wisconsin was "nearly in a direct line west from Massachusetts," that the amount needed to save Lawrence "was like paper and packthread, compared to the silk or satin goods you buy," and that "the majestic West must be educated; if Christianity does not do it through her literary institutions, Infidelity will."

Smith was not the only orator to take to the lecture platform on behalf of Lawrence. The New England conference of the Methodist Church sponsored talks on in its operations until that building is replaced. There being also an imperative demand for increased endowment, the trustees find themselves greatly embarrassed, and are unable to discharge the pressing demand upon them for professors' salaries and additional room, without assistance from the sagacious patriot and liberal after the absent President Cooke, and Acting President Russell Z. Mason was permanently appointed instead. Somewhere along the line, Reeder Smith vanished from the scene, and Mason himself set forth for Boston, after big donors instead of church collections. The indebtedness of $20,000 was paid off and $20,000 for endowment purposes was secured."

Lawrence College was to endure many more financial crises in the century ahead, but the one at the time of the Civil War was probably the most grave. For his accomplishments for Lawrence during a time of national crisis, President Russell Zelotes Mason earns a place in the college's all-time Hall of Fame.

More Two Year Colleges Likely

'Sugar Coating' for Abandonment Of County Teacher School System

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Something new has been added to the continuing argument over the abandonment of the county teacher college system in Wisconsin.

Perhaps sensing that the rural and county government interest will provide formidable resistance to the plan to "disestablishing" the traditional one and two year teacher training schools, higher education officials backing the move have attempted to "sugar" it by noting that some of the localities involved may qualify for the creation of state college or university extension centers. The fight about county colleges is coming to a head. An important test vote is due Monday, when the Legislative Council will decide whether to recommend to the 1963 legislature the proposal of an interim study committee that the schools be abolished, effective in 1968. There are 22 of them. The interim study group has also urged legislation to permit the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education to choose localities for the creation of state college and university branch centers for two years of college study.

The Coordinating Committee would have criteria upon which to judge the eligibility of any community for such a state-operated center, including numbers of high school graduates, actual and potential, and the proximity of other college-level institutions.

A report from the group informed the Council that these counties, which now operate county colleges, would probably be eligible for consideration as sites for college or university centers: Barron, Columbia, Dodge, Green, Juneau, Polk, Richland, Sauk and Wood.

It noted also that other counties supporting county colleges now have extension facilities within, or very near their borders, so that the loss of educational opportunity for their young people through the abandonment of the county schools would be negligible. Outagamie, Kenosha, Racine, Manitowoc, Marinette, and Sheboygan.

Uncertain Outcome
Outcome of the fight about the county colleges is uncertain. Most observers believe the struggle will be a difficult one, because of the weight of tradition, sentiment, and the fact that the new legislature will be under the control of rural-oriented Republicans.

But at least one of those Republicans has made up his mind. Assemblyman Walter Calvert of Iowa and LaFayette counties is the chairman of the interim committee which filed the report against the colleges.

"Regardless of legislative action on this bill," the Calvert report said flatly, "the county colleges have no real future as teacher-training institutions."

He added that educators regard them as inadequate, that most school districts prefer four year degree teachers, that it is financially impossible to expand all of the county schools, and that they will be by-passed and "left to wither" as the state inevitably proceeds to develop an integrated system of higher education under the direction of the Coordinating Committee.

Three Ships Allowed To Pass Waterway

MONTREAL (AP) — Three ocean-going ships still in the St. Lawrence Seaway when it closed for the winter at midnight will be allowed to pass out of the waterway when they reach its eastern end of the seaway, sometime today.

The ships are the Easthampton and Bridgehampton both of U.S. registry, and the crippled Norwegian freighter Maekfjell. They were delayed by fog.

Lawrence Says Adlai Unsure Of Where He Stands Now

White House Says
Stevenson Is Still Trusted Adviser

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Poor Adlai Stevenson! Twice he was the Democratic party's presidential nominee and lost. Once he was talked of for Secretary of State in President Kennedy's cabinet. He lost out there, too. Now the former Governor of Illinois, who is this country's Ambassador to the United Nations, can't be exactly sure just where he stands. Will he lose out in that post, too?

Lawrence

For a furor has been caused by a magazine article which quotes anonymous officials as implying that Mr. Stevenson was an appeaser in the recent Cuban crisis. Naturally, this is reported to have impaired, for the moment anyway, Mr. Stevenson's prestige at the U.N. So the White House issues words of consolation to Mr. Stevenson and tells the public in strong words that Mr. Kennedy's Ambassador to the U.N. is still a trusted adviser of the President of the United States.

Palace Intrigue
In these days of "manipulated" news, one doesn't know what denials and reassurances really mean. The people generally—including many reporters—are suspicious that all is not well. It is recalled that last year there were persistent news stories intimating that Chester Bowles would leave his post as Under Secretary of State. Denials came from the White House, but the change was made just the same a little later. The question is being

Find 2-Month-Old Boy Dead in Crib

A two-month-old boy was found dead in his crib by his father at 7:15 a.m. today. The infant was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Proctor, 715 1/2 S. Locust St.

The Appleton Fire Department's rescue squad was called, but the infant was pronounced dead by the family physician. Coroner Bernard Kemps said the cause of death has not yet been determined. A post mortem examination will be performed. The baby had been suffering from a slight cold, according to the parents.

The boy, an only child, was born Oct. 4. The body was taken to the Ellenbecker Funeral Home.

raised as to whether the same tactics are being used now to ease Mr. Stevenson out of his U.N. post.

Who is back of the agitation for the removal of Mr. Stevenson? There are rumors of "palace intrigue" and of a "Washington vendetta." One report has it that the plan was or still is that McGee Bundy, a very able adviser to the President and former Dean at Harvard, is being groomed to become Secretary of State in place of Dean Rusk, who, in turn, is to go to the U.N. as Ambassador. But it isn't clear what post Mr. Stevenson would get. So the rumors are still purely theoretical speculation and, for a while at least, will be dismissed as groundless.

But nobody can ignore the fact that there is an unstable situation surrounding the advisers to the President. The cabinet as such has been relegated to an unimportant position as an advisory body. Certain cabinet members—such as the Secretaries of the Treasury, State, and Defense—sit in the big meetings, but the idea of giving first rank to a cabinet council of 10 eminent persons, formally designated for confirmation by the Senate, has seemingly been abandoned. Most of the advisers hold office by appointments that do not require Senate confirmation.

Post Article
What really happened at the top-level conferences relating to Cuba? The Saturday Evening Post article—written by Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, two able reporters who are close friends of President Kennedy—merely quoted an anonymous participant in the high councils of the Administration as saying:

"Adlai wanted a Munich. He wanted to trade the Turkish, Italian and British missile bases for the Cuban bases."

But it isn't clear whether Mr. Stevenson just wanted the subject of "trades" put on the agenda or whether he really recommended such a course. Some "trading" was apparently done, as is evidenced by a speech by U. Thant, Secretary General of the U. N., who referred the other day to the Cuban agreement of recent weeks as having been an example of "compromise" and of "the principle of give and take."

Now, it is a bit unfair to Mr. Stevenson to picture him as an appeaser just on the basis of someone else's interpretation of his comments or basic thinking. There seems no doubt that, in the atmosphere created in New York by the neutralists in the Asian and African countries who want America's money and rarely ever vote along with us, the ideas of that group will somehow rub off on the American representatives at the U. N.

Mr. Stevenson has an agile mind. While he must know that appeasement doesn't pay, he is one of the school of thought which sees some virtue in marathon negotiations. He probably did no more in the high council proceedings than sketch the idea of possible negotiation within which a settlement might be achieved. For it must not be forgotten that all these conferences being talked about took place in the context of a possible nuclear war.

White House
These explanations, however, may not satisfy those who clamor for something convincing from the White House on the subject. Chalmers M. Roberts, able writer for the Washington "Post," says the magazine article has been "widely taken in Washington as a hatchet job of uncertain instigation designed to force Stevenson's resignation." The same newspaper comments editorially that it is wrong for anyone to infer that the President "might resort to a disreputable journalistic circumlocution reminiscent of a Byzantine palace conspiracy."

The Washington "Evening Star," with a sense of detachment from the whole melee, asks in an editorial "who managed the leak?" and then, with tongue in cheek, says:

"It is all very confusing. Under a system of managed news, nobody is ever quite sure of the aims of such management. Was it, in this case, to discredit Mr. Stevenson, or to discredit him in order to provide an opportunity to praise him? We do not know. We trust, however, that the White House will follow established precedent, FBI agents should be assigned immediately to interview the Saturday Evening Post reporters in an effort to find out who said what, and why."

Paper Asks Query Into Adlai Story

Urges Use of FBI to Find Leak
In National Security Council

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's a chatterbox—or maybe a bunch of chatterboxes—in or close to President Kennedy's highly secret National Security Council.

The Washington Star suggests Kennedy use the FBI to find out who did the talking to the Saturday Evening Post about how the council advised the President on handling the Cuban crisis last October.

This would mean an investigation of those closest to the President. Meanwhile there's no assurance there won't be more blabbing after another secret meeting on another crisis.

The Post this week not only published an account of who said what at the October meeting and what measures were discussed but mentioned that was in an inter-office memorandum distributed in the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency.

Yet this week when Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, was asked to comment on the story he said: "Proceedings of the NSC have been secret since its founding in 1947 and will continue to be."

The magazine story was written by a close friend of the President, Charles Bartlett, Washington correspondent of the Chattanooga Times, and Stewart Alsop, who reportedly has close connections in the administration.

Cause Surprise
By itself their account of what was said at the meeting would cause surprise. But even that was subordinated to the storm raised by the part they said was played by Adlai Stevenson, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

Their story said that even after a "consensus" of Kennedy's other advisers on the NSC said that a Cuban blockade should be the first step in a showdown with Russia, Stevenson "dissented" and even suggested making concessions to the Soviets by swapping Allied missile bases for Russia's Cuban missile bases.

This article was widely interpreted in Washington as a sign the Kennedy administration was putting the skids under Stevenson and wanted to bounce him.

What followed, as the storm got bigger, is curious in itself: Salinger read to reporters a White House statement saying "Stevenson strongly supported the decision taken by the President on the quarantine..." White House officials said the statement had been prepared with the knowledge and advice of the President.

The statement at first glance seemed to support what Stevenson said by this time had already said: that he had favored a blockade. But on closer examination it looks ambiguous.

Hears Council
It didn't contradict the Post story by saying Stevenson agreed with the "consensus" of the council that there should be a blockade. Kennedy made his decision after hearing the council. The White House statement said only that Stevenson agreed with the President's decision.

Stevenson expanded Wednesday on the part he played in the council meeting.

On an NBC television show, Stevenson said the Bartlett-Alsop story was a "classic example of irresponsible journalism... untrue as to what I proposed and as to what I opposed."

He said he had "emphatically approved the blockade" and he denied advocating a swap of missile bases with Russia. Here in Washington there was a broad feeling Kennedy would have to give Stevenson personal and direct support if the ambassador were not to suffer great loss of prestige at the U.N.

Wednesday night the White House released a letter from Kennedy to Stevenson in which the President said he deeply regretted the "unfortunate stir" caused by the statements in the Bartlett-Alsop piece.

Admire Work
He added: "I think you know how greatly we have all admired your performance at the United Nations in general and during the Security Council discussions and private negotiations connected with the Cuba crisis in particular."

He assured Stevenson he wanted him to continue at the United Nations. But at no time has Kennedy criticized the story co-authored by his friend, Bartlett. Nor has he said the story—contrary to what Stevenson says—was inaccurate in reporting the ambassador disagreed with the other council members on the blockade as a first step in dealing with the Soviet Union.

The magazine not only listed all the council members who took part in the discussion but directly or indirectly quoted Kennedy and some of the council members on what they said and what they thought needed to be done.

Can't Compare Red Budget to Ours

BY SYLVIA PORTER

This coming Monday the Kremlin is slated to submit to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) an all-time high record budget aimed at stimulating production easing acute scarcities and raising the quality of her shoddy consumer goods.

The new Russian budget as reported yesterday is simply not comparable to our federal budget for it covers so much more. It is the only budget in Russia includes not only what would be in our state, city and village and sources. The Kremlin earns fat profits from her trade with her satellites, openly defies the satellites under her "barter pacts." She taxes the profits of the little artisan cooperatives. She imposes a tax on collective farms a tax on land a tax on amusements a tax on utilities a bunch of other minor taxes.

Each year the Soviet budget soars to a new peak and since Russia never runs a deficit in her budget this means that each year more money must be collected in Russia where con-

Stress in Jungle Brings Pressure

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — High blood pressure, normally associated with the stress of modern living, has been found in the jungle.

Says Dr. Paul Dudley White, the famed Boston heart specialist, "I suppose," Dr. White told the Tennessee Valley Medical Association, "that there is a great deal of stress in the jungle—with the elephant in the bush the crocodile in the river snakes in the trees and the worst climate in the world."

Persuasion Will be First Weapon in War On Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver says "conference, conciliation and persuasion," with muscle in the background, will be the tools for enforcement of President Kennedy's order banning discrimination in federally financed housing.

Weaver indicated Tuesday the order might be broadened to cover conventionally financed homes. It now covers homes financed by the Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration.

He said the order represents 15 to 20 per cent of the total.

In issuing regulations for enforcement of the order on projects of the Public Housing, Urban Renewal and Community Facilities administrations Weaver said "a lot of conciliation and persuasion are trying to get across the atti-

Surgery May Restore Heart To Its Former Usefulness

CARL N. NEUPERT, M.D., State Health Officer

Although the human heart is the most perfect pump ever created, it can and occasionally does prove defective. But like any man-made pump, it also can often be repaired.

This was not always the case. Thanks, though, to advances in heart surgery during the last 10 or 15 years, more and more defective hearts are being restored to normal or near-normal usefulness.

Like its man-made counterpart, the human heart is frequently subject to valve trouble. Sometimes this occurs as a result of rheumatic fever, but in other instances defective valves or abnormal openings between heart chambers may be present from birth. Both of these conditions are now being corrected through the use of surgery.

Among the more common heart operations, though, are those performed to correct cases of so-called "blue babies." One such procedure involves correcting a combination of blood vessel defects which prevent the blood from getting enough oxygen to supply the body.

Mechanical Means

These, however, are only the first steps in the new field of heart surgery. Science, for example, has now developed a technique of stopping the heart during an operation while blood is pumped throughout the body by mechanical means.

Since heart surgery is a fairly recent medical development, it is still not the answer to all problems. Not every child or adult with a heart defect can benefit from an operation. Sometimes, too, a defect is so mild that surgery is not necessary.

But the news on heart surgery is indeed encouraging. After a successful operation the patient often shows a striking improvement, sometimes a return to normal activity.

Heart surgery, though still in its infancy, is thus giving hundreds of persons a chance to live healthy normal lives. And it offers great promise of better things to come for patients with heart defects everywhere.

Second of Series budgets but also the Russian equivalent of what we spend on private education and the Russian equivalent of what our industry spends to modernize and expand factories.

The U.S. and Soviet budgets are not comparable and neither is the way we finance them.

For Russia raises the tens of billions of rubles needed to cover the Soviet government's spending primarily by direct confiscatory taxes on food consumer goods shelter, etc. — a type of taxation the U.S. Government has shrunk from even attempting. The taxes boost the prices of many consumer goods so high that the people couldn't buy them even if they were available (which they are not).

Minor Chunk

She gets only a minor chunk of her revenues from taxes on incomes, and the income taxes she does impose go up much more gradually than ours. In contrast, the overwhelming part of the U.S. government's money comes from income taxes, and our taxes rise at an exceedingly steep rate reach the punitive level of 91 per cent in the top individual income tax bracket. As Dr. Ellsworth Raymond, professor in charge of Russian Area Studies at New York University, wryly remarks, "In Russia, the more you earn the better off you are. It's quite unlike the tax structure here."

She gets a fair percentage from a "profits tax" which falls mainly on manufacturers of consumer goods and which also is passed along to the consumer in the form of higher prices.

(1) By far the largest per cent of her revenues — roughly 41 per cent — came from the so-called turnover tax, levied primarily on consumer goods. This tax is insignificant on heavy machinery and other industrial equipment, for these goods are purchased mostly by the government. But the turnover tax on consumer items ranges from 40 to 300 per cent, and the more an item is deemed to be a luxury — butter clothing, perfume — the heavier the tax.

Next Biggest

(2) The next biggest per cent — 26 per cent — came from the profits tax imposed on all the planned and unplanned profits of factories. This tax was initiated under Stalin and it has become steadily more important. Since most of heavy industry operates at a very low profit or at a loss, consumer goods produce most of the profits tax and the people pay it in the end via higher prices.

Here's an illustration of the weight of these two taxes on the Russian people. In 1961 Russia estimated the income of its workers at 90 billion rubles. In that year retail trade in state and cooperative stores totaled 80 billion rubles. Of that 80 billion 53 billion represented the turnover and profits tax combined.

(3) The income tax produced only 9 per cent of her revenues. Russia's income tax is both a direct tax on incomes and a special tax on spinsters, bachelors and families with less than three children. (Our equivalent of that special tax is our system of exemptions.)

Mixture of Taxes

(4) The balance — 24 per cent — came from a mixture of taxes.

Fire Hits Downtown Menominee

Tenement Buildings Burn This Morning In Michigan City

Post-Crescent News Service
MENOMINEE, Mich. — A raging fire which destroyed half a block of old store buildings and apartments in downtown Menominee, this morning was brought under control shortly before noon today.

None of the six persons who occupied the apartment in the seven buildings on the block were injured, although one deaf and crippled man was taken from his room moments before the fire got out of control.

The entire 400 block on First Street in Menominee was threatened by the blaze at the south end of the business district. The area was once the prosperous part of the business district with most of the building nearly a century old.

Fire in the brick two-story building was noticed shortly after 6 a.m. by Alvin Larsen who lives just above the Salvation Army Store. He called his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Soult.

The fire already was blazing in the second story of the building when third apartments tenants, Russell Clairmont and Francis Petonquet, who is deaf and crippled, were roused from sleep and taken from the building.

Mrs. Stillings, Broehm

Feud Between Alderman, City Clerk Breaks Into Open at Council Session

A longstanding feud between City Clerk Elden Broehm and Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings blew sky high Wednesday night.

Mrs. Stillings Broehm

Mrs. Stillings touched off the evening's major explosion (and there were many at the Appleton common council meeting) when she accused Broehm of not making use of an $18,000 machine in his office, resulting in a delay in posting special assessments.

The verbal bout began near the end of the meeting and came under the heading of "new business."

The tiff between the two city officials continued in the hallways and on the sidewalk in front of city hall after the council adjourned.

Mrs. Stillings questioned Broehm why his office reportedly first began posting 1960, 1961 and 1962 special assessments with the city's electronic computer machine (used for bookkeeping and other purposes) on Nov. 23 when the equipment was there for that purpose since June of 1961.

Broehm refused to answer Mrs. Stillings' question on the council floor. "Your question will be answered if you come to my office," he said.

"I want the answer to my question right now," Mrs. Stillings replied. "Why hasn't that $18,000 piece of equipment been used?"

Broehm countered that Mrs. Stillings has spent considerable time in his office and that she was familiar with its operation.

"The machine is being used properly," he shouted across the room to Mrs. Stillings, who continued to dicker with him. She pointed out it was her recollection that when the city purchased the machine, it did not accept the low bid.

Mrs. Stillings said if another type machine had been selected, it would have been more efficient and would have eliminated "unnecessary work and overtime."

Mrs. Stillings charged that because of the alleged situation existing in Broehm's office, it was necessary to have employees work "days, nights and weekends" to get caught up.

This claim was refuted by Broehm, who said Mrs. Stillings could have obtained explanations to her questions if she had talked to him in his office about them. He said she was seeking publicity.

Mrs. Stillings and Broehm proceeded to shout uncomplicated remarks at each other and while she had the floor, Ald. Clifford Radder (16th) jumped up and moved for adjournment.

Mrs. Stillings noted that such a motion was not in order while a person had the floor.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who had a parliamentary workout throughout most of the hectic session, inquired of City Atty. Frederick Froehlich if a motion to adjourn could be made while someone was speaking.

Froehlich began to consult the rule book.

At this point Mrs. Stillings made the observation that some of the practices of the city clerk were "sad" and should be corrected.

"I see that I am not going to get any of my questions answered," Mrs. Stillings said, "so I will sit down." The council immediately adjourned.

Harsh words between Mrs. Stillings and Broehm continued as they moved from one part of the building to another and outside the building.

Man Escapes

Robert Forton, who lived above the adjacent store was called and managed to escape. The other apartment was rented by Anthony Jakowski, in California.

Nothing from the apartments or the Salvation Army headquarters which contained stacks of clothing which was to be donated to the needy was saved.

High winds early this morning hampered operations of Menominee firemen for nearly three hours. According to authorities, the fire apparently started on the second floor of the building above the Salvation Army store.

Flames broke through the roof and raced to adjoining buildings before firemen arrived. By 10 a.m., firemen had the blaze partially controlled, and by noon, other buildings no longer were in danger.

Don Heinritz Seeks Job On Patrol

Outagamie County Undersheriff Donald Heinritz, who will be out of work in January when Sheriff Calvin Spice and Undersheriff Norbert Marx take over, went looking for a job today.

He applied to the county's traffic and radio department for a job with the traffic department as a county police officer. Heinritz served with the traffic police for six years after he joined the force in 1949.

Also making application was Robert Keating, 24, a radio operator with the department since July. Keating replaced John Wettengel in the radio department when Wettengel retired.

Supv. Pat Heenan, chairman of the traffic and radio committee, interviewed the two applicants and indicated that three others are in the running for the job. The three had applied in July when a vacancy was created with the resignation of Patrolman John Carpenter.

Heenan said the appointment would be made within a week or 10 days.

Four Injured After Two Cars Collide on OO

Four persons were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday after a two-car collision near the intersection of County Trunk OO and State 47.

Hospitalized were Marlene Newhouse, 18, and Mrs. Ora Randeron, 48, both of route 1, Kaukauna, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent M. Rumery, 1339 W. Commercial St. Miss Newhouse and Mrs. Randeron received fractures and cuts, and Mr. and Mrs. Rumery received cuts and bruises. All four are still confined at the hospital.

According to county police, a car driven by Marlene Spierings, 18, route 1, Kaukauna, in which Mrs. Randeron and Miss Newhouse were riding, with three other passengers, skidded out of control as it was going east on County Trunk OO.

Rumery was driving his car west on County Trunk OO when the two vehicles collided. According to police, Miss Spierings' vehicle started sliding and skidded into the opposite lane after making a turn off Mason Street.

Both Lindy's and Larry's ambulances were called.

Outline Duties

List Qualifications Expected in County Hospital Superintendent

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
The new superintendent for the Outagamie County Hospital and Golden Age Home "must be honest, sincere and must show an interest in the position," a report made Wednesday by the hospital's temporary board of trustees states.

The report, made to County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer of Kimberly, included recommendations on required qualifications for the superintendent's post and for the administrative assistant's job at the hospital.

Included in the report was a list of duties for the two jobs, to be performed under the administrative direction of the hospital board of trustees.

The hospital has been without regular trusteeship since the board resigned early in November. Applications for a new board of trustees are now being taken by Fulcer, who, along with the temporary board of trustees, will make recommendations to the county board, which will elect new trustees at the January session.

The temporary board of trustees, made up of Ronald W. Evans, chairman, Eric Wussow and Dr. Frank Wright, was appointed by Fulcer Nov. 19 to serve until the permanent board is elected.

Applicants for the superintendent's post, vacant since the resignation of Norbert Loerke, must have at least five years of experience, including two years in administrative or supervisory capacities.

Loerke resigned from the superintendent's post early in November after he was arrested on charges of improperly using county employees' time and county materials on his Little Lake Butte des Morts cottage property. Loerke's sentencing has been deferred to Dec. 17 by Judge Gus.

First Steps Taken Toward City's Comprehensive Plan

Work Outlined In Birth Defects

Challenging Area Greater Than Polio National Foundation Told

The "terribly challenging" area of life in 1730 to only 2.9 per cent of birth defects almost dwarfed the problems faced earlier in combating polio, members of the Outagamie County Chapter of the National Foundation were told Wednesday night.

Dr. David Smith, of the University of Wisconsin, outlined some of the problems at the kickoff meeting for the 1963 March of Dimes, held at Butte des Morts Golf Club.

Robert Maves, Appleton, will be county drive director for 1963, and Edward Merten, Appleton, will be city drive director. Karl Baldwin, Appleton, is state director.

Using slides to illustrate his talk, Dr. Smith said no one should hope for a rapid solution to the problem of birth defects. The problem is "bigger than polio" and at this stage, science can offer knowledge about causes only in some cases, it has made some strides in helping the afflicted but can offer little on prevention.

Mortality Rate
Dr. Smith noted that infant mortality rates had dropped from 75 per cent in the first two years shows, he said what could be done through control of infectious diseases and better nutrition. While the field of birth defects is largely unexplored at this time, he said, the achievements in infant mortality reduction show what can be done when people are willing to spend the time and effort to learn about causes, prevention and cure of diseases.

Dr. Smith noted that from 5 to 7½ per cent of the babies born today have some type of defect. Those defects come, he said, from imperfect embryonic development and may manifest themselves as biochemical or functional defects as well as physical imperfections.

There are many potential causes, he said, most of which, at this time, cannot be determined. Dr. Smith explained some of the basic genetic facts in development of the embryo and noted it was almost impossible for two persons to be the same.

Some Preventable
Some types of causes of birth defects are preventable, he explained. They include German measles, very extensive use of X-ray (not simple diagnostic use) and use of some types of chemicals.

Most abnormalities probably have a genetic basis, he said. That means that many of them are strictly the result of chance — and science at this time does not know the cause or how to prevent such things from occurring.

"We are standing at the threshold of knowledge on congenital defects," he said. "Our main purpose in gaining an understanding of the causes is to be able to convey that information to the parents."

Many March of Dimes workers from the county were introduced, along with guests from the Winnebago County National Foundation chapter.

An honorable mention citation for publicity and promotion was presented to Allen Bulholz last year's county chairman, by Baldwin.

But Councilmen Won't Approve Ordinance to Create Separate Appleton Planning Department

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Appleton Common Council Wednesday night took the first step toward investigating the possibility of having a Comprehensive Plan prepared for the entire city to serve as a blueprint for future planning.

It approved the recommendation of the plan commission and authorized the latter to contact the Wisconsin Department of Resource Development to get information in regard to Appleton's eligibility for grants under the 701 Urban Assistance program.

However, aldermen were inconsistent in their actions in regard to recommendations of the commission and personnel committee when they refused to give approval to an ordinance which would have created a separate planning department for the City of Appleton.

Several Objections
Under terms of the ordinance, and the state statutes, the department would come under the jurisdiction of the plan commission. Several aldermen objected to such an arrangement and these were inferences that their power would be usurped.

After bitter debate and an unusual incident in which the personnel committee submitted an unsigned report, the planning department proposal was referred back to the committee and plan commission.

The Comprehensive Plan was recommended by City Planner-Traffic Engineer Walteer Rasmussen and received unanimous approval of the plan commission earlier in the week. Without such a plan, Appleton would be in no position to schedule future improvements based on the needs of the entire city.

"The plan commission believes that the interest of the City of Appleton can best be served by obtaining a comprehensive plan for the city," the report approved by the council said.

At the same time the council approved a resolution which officially commended the Town of Menasha and the executive committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission for the action it has taken in regard to Stroebe's Island.

Gave 'Blessing'
The council in effect gave the "blessing" to the proposal to acquire Stroebe's Island for park and recreational purposes for the benefit of the Fox Valley region.

The ordinance calling for creation of the city planning department, and a transition in which Rasmussen would assume the position of director and assist with acquiring a staff, blew up a major storm which carried with it many political implications.

One bloc of aldermen, by their remarks, resented the fact that the mayor was not being given the authority to appoint a department director. Under the proposed ordinance the director would be selected by the plan commission with the approval of the common council.

At Monday's plan commission

Proxmire Plans Two-Day Visit To Fox Cities

Democratic Sen. William Proxmire will spend two days in the Fox Cities next week during his three week swing through the state.

Proxmire is scheduled to be in Kaukauna and Appleton on Wednesday, and Neenah, Menasha and Oshkosh Thursday.

William Cherkasky, Proxmire's representative in Appleton, said he does not know what Proxmire's program will be during the two day Fox Cities visit, but "I expect he will be wherever the most people are."

"A visit by Sen. Proxmire," Cherkasky said, "usually consists of visiting mills, plant gates the downtown area, department stores and supermarkets. It probably will be similar this time."

In addition to the visit to the Fox Cities, Proxmire will be in Green Bay and De Pere on Monday, Manitowish and Two Rivers on Tuesday, Fond du Lac on Friday, and Sheboygan on Saturday to complete the second week of his three week state visit.

Treasurer of Locks Village Resigns Post

John Siegel Cites 'Uncooperativeness' Of Board Members

COMBINED LOCKS—John Siegel, village treasurer for 16 years, Tuesday night submitted his resignation to the village board effective Dec. 15.

In the letter, Siegel listed as "uncooperativeness of the village board" as his reason for resigning. When asked for an explanation, Siegel said three letters had been sent the board requesting a salary adjustment for the office.

The growth of the community and work load increase were given as reasons why a pay increase should be considered. The board failed to act on the first two letters, saying no money was in the budget, stated Siegel. He then indicated raises were granted other officials but not himself.

Clerk-Treasurer
The board accepted the resignation and named Mrs. Irene Versteegen, clerk, to serve as treasurer until April. Board members indicated they have been considering combining the offices of clerk-treasurer such as has been done at Kimberly and Little Chute thus taking the treasurer's office from an elective position.

They indicated a study would be undertaken over the next few months to ascertain how the new system is working and this will determine whether the office will be combined on a permanent basis prior to the April election.

Council Does 'About-Face' City OKs Rezoning of Richmond Street Land

Without prior public notice, the Appleton Common Council Wednesday night did an about-face and rezoned property at 1920 N. Richmond St. so that a drive-in can be constructed.

At its Nov. 21 meeting the council had denied the rezoning request by an 11 to 10 vote with Mayor Clarence Mitchell deciding the final outcome.

E. R. Honkamp, local realtor, had requested the property be rezoned from residential to local business.

The Post-Crescent learned that several aldermen, including some who had originally voted against the rezoning, were instrumental in laying the groundwork for a reconsideration vote at Wednesday night's meeting.

Ertl's Motion
It was Ald. William Ertl (19th) who made the motion to have a vote to reconsider. At the last council meeting he voted with the majority in opposing the drive-in proposal.

Ald. Gerald Wagner (18th), in whose ward the property is located, told aldermen his feelings had not changed on the subject of rezoning. "I opposed the rezoning originally and I do now," he said. He then submitted a written protest to the rezoning signed by five property owners in the area.

The city attorney was called upon to render an opinion as to whether the number of signatures and other requirements of the zoning hearing ordinance had been met. Atty. Frederick Froehlich said the petition did not meet requirements.

The ruling thus eliminated the need for a three-fourths vote of the common council to approve rezoning the property. As a result, only a simple majority was required and the rezoning sailed through by a 13 to 6 vote. No residents from the area were present at the meeting to express their views.

Menasha AFS Student Moved to Whitefish Bay
Wigo von Fahland, American Field Service foreign exchange student from Germany, has been transferred from Menasha High School to Whitefish Bay High School, it was reported by Mrs. Harvey LeDain, Fox River Valley area chairman for AFS.

"The New York office of AFS advised the move in an effort to solve problems of adjustment which occasionally arise when young students are transplanted from an entirely different kind of culture to an American community," Mrs. LeDain said.

The majority of AFS students find few difficulties at all, and express only wonderment and delight to be here," Mrs. LeDain added "but since the program is growing considerably and a greater variety of personalities are represented, careful counseling and surveillance is necessary to keep the experience a rewarding one for the school as well as the host family."

"The foreign student learns by each experience, and his American fellow-students gain in world understanding no matter how brief or poignant the association is," she said.

Ask Pay Hike for Hospital Workers

Outagamie Committee Wants Increases to Total Over $13,000

Members of the Civil Service Commission. But Retson said, "If and Salary Committee of the Outagamie County Board agreed comes in with a recommendation Wednesday to make recommendations, I think that would have a lot of influence on the board. I for County Hospital employees, would go along with any recommendations the board of trustees would make."

The committee will recommend the board of trustees to the county board at next Tuesday's meeting that $13,545 be added to the hospital's annual budget to allow for salary increases.

The committee met at the courthouse with Robert Swanson, representative of the Outagamie County Institutional Employees Union, local 980, to discuss whether any pay agreement the union makes with a future hospital board of trustees be retroactive to Jan. 1.

New Board
Swanson told committee members, "whatever would be negotiated with the new board of trustees would have to be approved by the county board."

Members of the committee argued they couldn't negotiate, because it was the function of the board of trustees to negotiate with the union on salary increases.

Supv. Sylvester Esler said, "the county board never gave us (the committee) authority to set up wages for the institution."

Swanson countered that the county board, according to statute, has the power to set salaries of the employees.

"But the county board never gave this committee that authority," Esler answered.

Supv. Phil Retson said the union was using bad timing in coming to the Civil Service and Salary Committee for pay increases because there is no permanent board of trustees to consult with.

Swanson. "Okay, we should wait for a permanent board, but why should the employees suffer in the meantime. An agreement now saying that any decision regarding salaries made by the new board of trustees be retroactive to Jan. 1, is only fair."

The committee refused to go along with Swanson's recommendation.

Michigan Judge Sets New Standards for Gaining Scholarship

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — A scholarship fund no one has been strait-laced enough to touch may be tapped under a liberalized set of prerequisites established by a judge.

Jackson County Circuit Court Judge John Simpson ruled Monday the requirements set down in the will of Elmore Denrfs in 1946 are now "too stringent under presently accepted social habits," and set up more conventional application requirements.

The will restricted use of the $14,000 fund to Jackson High students with perfect school attendance records who abstained from smoking, drinking, social Greek-letter organizations, and "frivolous amusements."

Judge Simpson's new standards for the one-year grants are based on ability, need and citizenship, with preference going to students interested in science and engineering.

Chilton Nears Bus Solution

Lease Negotiations Progress to Include Parochial Children

CHILTON — The Board of Education at a special meeting Wednesday night approached a solution to the bus transportation problem that arose in the Chilton District last week when the State Department of Public Instruction ordered curtailment of the transportation of parochial school children on public school buses. Although no final commitment has been made at the present time, negotiations are progressing for a bus leasing plan whereby the parochial school children could be legally transported on the buses.

Drafting Plan

The plan being drafted and expected to be put in effect Monday, calls for the school district to lease its entire fleet of 10 school buses to L. P. Daun, a Chilton farm implement dealer. Daun will operate the buses for the district and be paid on a mileage basis. The rate is calculated so that costs to the school district do not exceed normal transportation costs of past years. During the 1961-62 school year the cost of bus operation was $26,623.

Daun will then be free to enter into separate contracts with the four religious congregations formerly served by the public school buses and arrange for continued transportation of the pupils attending the respective parish schools. About 300 elementary school pupils were affected by the state order.

Fox Cities Musicians In St. Norbert Concert

The Fox Cities will be well represented when St. Norbert College presents Mozart's "Requiem" at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in the Hall of Fine Arts on the DePere campus. Bass-baritone John Koopman of Lawrence Conservatory of Music faculty is one of the four soloists. Musicians in the orchestra include 10 instrumentalists from the Fox Cities including four Lawrence College students. The orchestra director is Gerald Matern, former Menasha music teacher now in St. Norbert's music department.

The 10 people from the Fox Cities among the 31 northeastern Wisconsin musicians include violinists Virginia Hummer, Lucille Heiberg and Mel Holm, flutist Kathryn Lindquist and cellist Anne Matern, all of Menasha; bassoonist Kim Mumme, Neenah; concert mistress Elizabeth Zeth-Gunja she appeared as soloist with Young and J. D. Miller and bass the A Capella Choir, University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point college choir.

Other Soloists

The three soloists besides Koopman are Mrs. Irma R. Lyon, Green Bay; Mrs. Sterling Anderson, Wausau, and Robert Ruetz, Springfield, Mo.

Both women are wives of Protestant ministers. Each has had an extensive musical background. Mrs. Lyon received her Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Wisconsin where she was Wausau Oratorio Chorus and Handel's "Messiah," the in "Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman."

At the present time, she makes recital appearances and assists with the direction of primary and as soloist with the Men's Glee and junior choirs of First Presbyterian Church, Wausau, where her husband is music associate.

Tenor Robert Ruetz is a member of the St. James Episcopal Church Choir in Chicago.

Mrs. Lyon also has appeared in a "Requiem" performance under the direction of Robert Shaw at the Anchorage, Alaska, Festival of Music. At the present time, Mrs. Lyon sings with the Green Bay Music Association and has appeared as soloist for the group during the last two seasons.

Mrs. Anderson, a graduate of Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point, studied voice under Miss Puccini's "La Boheme," Fenton in Puccini's "La Tosca," Fenton in Bizet's "Carmen," and Hoffmann in Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman."

Koopman has a well-established reputation as a performer, specializing in both opera and oratorio and audiences in nine states. The "Requiem" is but one of his leading bass roles.

French Highway Will Run Atop Vineyards

PARIS — Money is not too important to the French when it comes to protecting their cherished vineyards.

One of Burgundy's most famous vineyard owners between the villages of Montrachet and Cassagne learned to their dismay that a proposed superhighway between Paris and Lyon would cut across their land.

After months of protest in Paris, a solution was found.

A skyway half a mile long will be built at a cost of $1,200,000. It will go through the Montrachet vineyards as planned, but some 50 feet above the ground.

He appeared last Sunday in Lawrence College's annual presentation of "The Messiah." He has performed as a soloist or conductor in concert, radio and television performances of oratorio and audiences in nine states.

Visitors From a Newly Created University College in Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika, were on the Lawrence College campus this week on an inspection trip underwritten by the Carnegie Corporation. From the left are Mrs. H. L. Snaith, Lawrence Business Manager Marwin O. Wroldstad, and Mr. Snaith, who is registrar of University College. Two Lawrence faculty members, Vice President Marshall B. Hulbert, and anthropologist Harold B. Schneider, became acquainted with them while on an Associated Colleges of the Midwest fact-finding mission to Africa last summer.

'Merry Christmas From the IRS'

Fox Cities Businessmen to Get Expense Account 'Instructions'

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Fox Cities businessmen who are confused by the new Internal Revenue Service rules on how to list their business entertainment expenses on this year's tax report may receive all the gloomy instructions from the IRS as a Christmas present, it was learned today.

This information came out during one of the stormiest hearings Washington reporters have covered in many a moon, as literally hundreds of industry representatives and businessmen and professional people gathered in one room to protest against the new IRS rules on "How to Write an Expense Account."

Byrnes Protest

These people all claimed that the Congress did not intend to have the IRS demand the time, as well as the cost of every businessman's lunch included on the expense account. And there may be some truth in their protests.

For Rep. John W. Byrnes, (R., Green Bay) the top GOP member of the House tax-writing Ways and Means Committee said that after the IRS entertainment-expense-account rules are finalized, he and other members of his committee may have something to say about it.

But in the meantime, those testifying before IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin are variously claiming that the present, and apparently tentative expense account rulings are invasions of privacy, invasion of private industry, and invasion of one's honesty.

Take, for instance the case of the salesman who picks up the tab of dinner for the visiting purchasing agent of a company with whom the salesman desires to do business.

Apparently the only way the said salesman can keep himself out of the clink and protect himself against allegations of criminality attempting to defraud the government is to keep a diary.

Officially acceptable

And in order to make the diary officially acceptable to the IRS, it would have to read something like this:

"Picked up Mr. A. at his hotel, the Tidewater Inn, at 6 p.m. Entered Men's Bar at 6:03. Had 3 dry martinis apiece, $6 plus $1 tip. Talked about the stock market. This was because I wanted to "soften him up" by finding some common ground of complaints.

"Proceeded to the Dark Devil restaurant at 7 p.m., taxi fare $1.25 plus 25 cents tip. Talked about the weather. Further softening up procedure as we both dislike rain. Entered Dark Devil at 7:15 paid waiter $5 for good table. Ordered two more martinis apiece. Dinner consisted of bouillabaisse soup, rare roast beef, baked potatoes, with sour cream and chives sauce, hollandaise asparagus tips, grapefruit salad, chocolate mousse and coffee and B. and B. Grand total $40.78 and $5 tip.

"At dinner, discussed ways and means of clipping women's wings. (further softening up process) and made appointment to talk about contract tomorrow. Left Dark Devil at 10:45 and deposited Mr. A. at his hotel at 11. Taxi fare $1.55 this time, plus 35 cents tip.

Couldn't Drive

"Had to spend $5 including tip for taxi home, as in no condition to drive car."

If such a diary becomes a "must" with IRS, business and professional men who are required to write up several of these blow-by-blow dinner accounts a week may stop entertaining visiting firemen — or local firemen — entirely.

And then the restaurant, food, liquor, taxi business will drop in many cities and will take a complete tail spin in such places as Washington, D.C., Chicago and New York, the prime expense account cities in the United States.

In the end, as many witnesses doubly predicted at the hearings today, IRS probably would lose more money in taxes than it would pick up.

At any rate, come Christmas, or at the latest, New Year's, everyone will know The Worst.

Friday's Schedule:

BY DON KAMPER

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CHILTON — The Chilton Tigers will be seeking to go above the .500 mark Friday night in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference test here with the Brillion Lions.

Chilton is 1-1 in the league and 2-2 overall. Tiger victories came at the expense of Stockbridge and Kohler, the latter in the conference. Brillion, meanwhile, opened its season with an impressive non-conference win over Wrightsboro but has since dropped league decisions to Kiel and New Holstein.

Lion Coach Harry Drier has a young team that should improve with every game. A pair of sophomores, John Lindner and Jim Ross, are the visitors' two top scorers.

Senior center Jim Wagner apparently has shaken the football from his system. In the victory over Kohler last week, Wagner exhibited some good shooting and strong rebounding. Al Whitby was a pleasant surprise with 12 points, and Tom Dhein has been a steady scorer for the Tigers.

Elsewhere in the league, the ranks of the undefeated will be thinned by at least one Friday night when a pair of undefeated quintets, Valders and Sheboygan Falls, clash on the latter's court.

For the hosts, Jim Mattek will appreciate the return of Mike Mauer to the lineup. The duo, along with the home court edge, could offset the Dennis Scheidt-Kiehl Lippert combination of the Vikings.

New Holstein, the other undefeated team, is expected to keep its record clean. The Huskies entertain Kiel, 1-1, sparked by Gene Drumm. The hosts will counter with high-scoring Ed Flynn and a host of speedy marksmen.

A winless Kohler quintet faces the toughest test. The Bombers travel to Elkhart Lake to duel the talented Resorsters, 1-1, in a gym where even the finest teams have met disaster in the past when playing host teams far less skillful than the current version.

The Oostburg Flying Dutchmen, disappointing thus far with two setbacks in as many contests, will attempt to snap back Friday night when they entertain at Plymouth. The 1-1 visitors are rangy but this should be the Dutchmen's first win.

5 Citizens Object to Assessments

Proposed Sewer Installation on Pine Street Hit

CLINTONVILLE — A public hearing was held Tuesday night at the meeting of the common council regarding the special assessments scheduled against property owners for sewer installation on Pine Street.

The proposed sewer installation is to provide service for a residence being built on Pine Street by Kenneth Luebke.

Olen, who submitted his objection by letter and was represented by Attorney Robert Otto, and Otto, who presented his own objections. Two other property owners were not represented or present for the hearing.

City Utilities

Otto pointed out that both the Olen property and his own already were receiving city utilities and neither will need nor have any increased value from the Pine Street installation.

First Steps Take on Plan For Appleton

meeting Mayor Clarence Mitchell wanted the proposed ordinance to state that the new planning director be a "graduate planner." Rasmussen, who is also the city's traffic engineer, is a college graduate with considerable experience as a planner but does not have what is now known to day as a "planning degree."

Strongest objection to creating the city planning department at this time was the phase of the ordinance which reads: "The city plan commission shall have the power to employ a director of planning and such staff as may be necessary and to pay for their services and such other expenses as may be necessary and proper within the limits of the budget established by the common council or placed at its disposal by gift and subject to any ordinance or resolution enacted by the common council."

Made it Clear
When the ordinance was introduced for approval, Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings (7th) explained the position of the personnel committee and emphasized the importance of conforming to state statutes in establishing the new planning department.

However, Ald. Elvin J. Bogan (20th) made it clear that he opposed the proposal to give the plan commission the authority it would need to meet federal and state requirements.

Ald. Alvin Tewes (5th) said it was his impression Rasmussen had been originally hired to do traffic engineering as well as planning. "I'm not ready to vote on this at all," he said.

Mrs. Stillings pointed out that under the proposed ordinance, Rasmussen would still devote time to traffic engineering because it was related to planning. She called the council's attention to the fact that the city planner has always worked for the plan commission.

All-Out Confusion

There was further discussion and then all-out confusion when Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), chairman of the personnel committee, leaped to his feet and said he had not signed the report which was before the council. Rule 6 says the chairman or the committee members must sign, or it cannot be officially accepted by the council.

Groh said he would not sign the report because the major portion pertained to the planning department and a revised procedure for selecting some of the city's appointive officials. He wanted it approved and not sent back. Groh gave no reason as to why he had not signed the report in the first place.

However, Groh did make it clear that as far as he was concerned the action of aldermen to the plan commission and personnel committee recommendations was "politics."

Ald. Tewes suggested Groh be made to sign the report but this was ruled out by the city attorney. Mayor Mitchell asked if committee members wanted to sign the report and when they did not he said, "I am ruling that we cannot act on this report. There is nothing officially before the house."

Groh then said he would sign for the first four items on the report which were related to personnel hirings and other matters. At this point Ald. Thomas Schneider (13th) moved for a

Purchase Addition To Telulah Park

Council Caps Chaotic Session by Obtaining Six Lots for $15,000

The Appleton Common Council but unanimously rejected by the board of public works.

The charge that "the City of Appleton is paying through the nose for this property and the public should take note was leveled by Ald. Harold Hannemann (10th). He said it was reaching a point that the city was buying land "just to bail out investors who got caught with it."

Hannemann said he had nothing against improving the city's park system but wanted the prices paid for property to be "within reason."

Schneider contended the council should follow the recommendations of the board and commission, and also referred to a recent report of Schellie and Associates, regional planning consultants, which stated that more land should eventually be acquired for Telulah Park.

Verbal Support
"Now is the time to acquire this property while we have the chance," Schneider said. He received verbal support from Ald. Ervin J. Bogan (20th) who told his colleagues the city should buy the property.

Several times Hannemann charged the purchase amount was "far too much to pay for park land."

A plea to "calm down gentlemen because we are talking about paying $6,000 to $12,000 per acre for land" was made by Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd) who backed up Hannemann's stand.

After the motion to purchase land for Hoover Park was killed there was no motion for reconsideration.

However, after the Telulah Park addition had been voted down, the key motion for reconsideration which led to reversal of the council's action earlier in the evening was made by Ald. Donald W. Mueller (17th).

Originally, Mueller voted with the majority against purchase of the property.

Other Developments
In other developments, the common council:

Named the new parking structure at Washington and Division streets the West Ramp.

Authorized the department of public works to make repairs to the No. 1 fire station roof.

Voted against purchasing the former Eagle Manufacturing Co. property which was offered for sale at $75,000.

Instructed the public works director to have plans and specifications for 1963 improvement projects completed by Feb. 15 so the construction season can start earlier than usual.

Approved preliminary plans for a new parking structure north of the police station to cost $600,000 when it is constructed next spring.

Awarded the contract for compensation insurance for city employees.

Set Trial Date in Auto Theft Case
WAUPACA — Lawrence R. Schewe Jr. 18, route 2, Clintonville pleaded innocent of driving an automobile without the owner's consent Wednesday before Judge Wendell McHenry in County Court.

Judge McHenry set the preliminary hearing for 9:30 a.m. Dec. 17. The jury trial was scheduled Jan. 9.

Schewe has been charged with taking a car belonging to Tripod Chevrolet, Inc., Clintonville, on Nov. 11. He and three juvenile boys have been implicated in the incident.

The juveniles were placed under the supervision of the county welfare department for one year when they appeared in juvenile court.

No Notification
Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings (7th) also said the people should have been notified of a reconsideration vote.

"I think it is only right that we let these people know before any further action is taken," Mrs. Stillings said.

Playing a major role in the rezoning action was Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th), who told the council that representatives of the drive-in firm had been in contact with him. "They promised me in writing they would not burn garbage or rubbish out there and I feel this is a step in the right direction in regard to operation of drive-ins," Stumpf said.

Stumpf presented a letter which he received from a representative of the national concern and had it inserted in the minutes of the meeting.

Groh told Stumpf "the letter means nothing and pointed out that the franchise for operating the drive-in would be given to someone else." This letter is not binding and I can't see how you can take the validity of such a statement," Groh told Stumpf.

Not Unanimous
Originally the plan commission was not unanimous in its recommendation for rezoning in that area are entitled to the facts as to what the rezoning will do instead of running them through the grinder," Loos asserted.

Aldermen voting for the rezoning: Ahrens (2nd), Bogan (20th), Ertl (19th), Hannemann (10th), Huisman (1st), Krueger (11th), Mueller (17th), Ogilvie (12th), Radder (16th), Schneider (13th), Stoegebauer (4th), Stumpf (19th) and Tewes (5th).

Voting against rezoning were: Ald. Groh (8th), Loos (3rd), Sonkowsky (15th), Stillings (7th), Wagner (18th) and Ziemann (6th).

Ald. Buckley (14th) was absent.

Tie 4 Balloons Together To Make a Funny Clown

BY CAPPY DICK

You can make a funny looking clown by putting together four balloons as shown in Figure 1.

A small, round balloon forms the clown's head. Blow it up and tie it firmly. From crepe paper cut the eyes, nose and mouth and attach them with bits of transparent tape. A fringe of yellow crepe paper taped around the balloon will provide a funny head of hair.

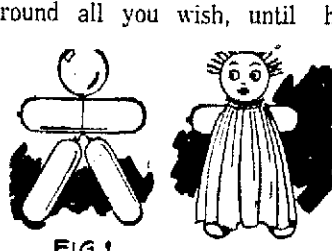

Use one long balloon for the arms and two long ones for the legs. Attach them with string as in Figure 1.

For the clown's clothing, use the lightest weight material you can find. Tissue paper will do. So will crepe paper, cheese cloth or very thin muslin. Just gather the material around the neck (Figure 2) and let it hang.

You can bounce this clown around all you wish, until he breaks. For example, if a friend also makes a clown you can hold a race. At a signal, each throws his clown into the air and, by batting it with his hand, tries to increase our vocabulary by making a new word each day.

Today's Word: Animadversion: return it to the race by taking remarks by way of criticism and usually of censure. (Principal accent is on fourth syllable). "The company dismissed several of its salesmen with severe and sharp animadversion."

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: Do not say, "I don't think you ought to go." The negative in this sentence is misplaced. It is much better to say, "I think you ought not to go."

Often Mispronounced: Culinary. Pronounce kyu-li-na-ri, accent on first syllable.

Often Misspelled: Chord (com-bination of tones). Cord (string).

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us say it forward to a finish line. If a player's clown falls to the ground he may pick it up and return it to the race by taking remarks by way of criticism and usually of censure. (Principal accent is on fourth syllable). "The company dismissed several of its salesmen with severe and sharp animadversion."

THE HEART OF JULIE JONES
YOU KNOW, HONEY—MAYBE YOU WERE RIGHT ABOUT CHIP WALLACE. AFTER THE FIRST TIME HE BRACED ME FOR THE HUSH DOOD, HE HASN'T LET OUT A PEER.
COULD BE I HAD HIM PEGGED WRONG. YOU KNOW A LOUD-MOUTH, BUT YELLOW.
HE...HE SOUNDS LIKE THAT, DON.
BUT I'M NOT COMPLAINING. IF HE CHICKENS OUT, WHY ARGUE WITH SUCCESS?
THAT'S RIGHT, DARLING. LET'S JUST BE HAPPY AND FORGET ALL ABOUT CHIP WALLACE.

Sight Red Ship Departing Cuba With Bombers

Soviets Have Now
Withdrawn 18
Planes From Island

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Russian ship carrying about 15 IL28 bombers has been sighted outward bound from Cuba, it was learned today.

This brings to at least 18 the number of the nuclear-capable bombers the Russians have withdrawn from Cuba on the demand of the United States.

Last Monday, the Defense Department announced that the Soviet ship Okhotsk had been photographed with three IL28 fuselages on the deck. The Pentagon released pictures showing the three plane bodies. The pictures were taken by U.S. naval patrol bombers assigned to watching for the withdrawal of the nuclear-capable bombers.

40 Planes
Russian diplomatic authorities were understood to have notified the United States that a total of more than 40 of the 750-mile range bombers would be coming out.

And informed sources said the removal is at a pace that could have all the bombers off the island within a few days.

At the White House, the general situation was under review at a meeting this morning of the executive committee of the National Security Council.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and John J. McCloy, Cuban policy coordinator, came to Washington for the meeting.

No Development
White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy had decided to call the meeting Wednesday night, but insisted it was not prompted by any specific development.

Salinger said the subject up for discussion was the continuing talks with Soviet representatives in New York on the Cuban situation.

Informants said the Soviets have taken a hard stand in New York negotiations against forcing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to accept international inspection which President Kennedy seeks to make certain Cuba stays free of atomic weapons.

Air Surveys Continue
The United States appears prepared to continue aerial surveillance as a safeguard and let the diplomatic contest melt into the background — perhaps with a statement by each side explaining its position to the U.N. Security Council.

This would set the stage for a new and uncertain phase in East-West relations. The United States is expected to talk with the Soviets on a number of cold war issues.

The IL28 jet bombers, along with 42 missiles pulled out of Cuba earlier, were the nuclear-capable long-range arms whose removal Kennedy demanded, terming them offensive weapons.

Engineer Sees Missile Fired

Told About Success Of Atlas During
5,000-Mile Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Karel J. Bossart, Belgium-born aeronautical engineer, watched proudly from atop a missile hangar as a great silvery projectile labored from its launching pad.

The 135-ton monster slowly picked up speed as its tons of fuel were consumed by three thrust engines. Gradually it pitched over on a southeast heading and sped from sight.

Bossart, known as the "father" of the Atlas intercontinental range missile, received word minutes later that this Atlas was well on its way to a target 5,000 miles down the Atlantic tracing range.

The launching Wednesday was the last test for America's premier ICBM, closing out a flight program which began 5½ years ago on the same launching pad.

Bossart recalled that Atlas originally was conceived as a much larger vehicle, with five main engines and takeoff thrust of nearly 700,000 pounds, compared with 389,000 pounds for the most powerful breed of present day Atlas.

19 Planning to Climb Everest, 2 Other Peaks

First Time All Three Will be Challenged at Once

WASHINGTON (AP)—The leader of 19 Americans preparing for the first U.S. assault on the "roof of the world"—towering Mt. Everest and two sister peaks—figures the climb will be "95 per cent sheer hell, 5 per cent beauty."

"But in such things, we remember only the 5 per cent of beauty when it's over," remarked Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, the expedition's 44-year-old chief.

He and some of his companions outlined their plans Wednesday at a news conference staged by the National Geographic Society, a sponsor of the $326,000 venture scheduled for this spring.

Six of the Americans will climb Mt. Everest, at 29,028 feet the world's highest mountain. Two other teams of two men each will have a go at Everest's sister peaks in the Himalayas—Lhotse, 27,923 feet, and Mt. Nuptse, 25,726 feet.

First of Kind
It will be, they said, the first time a single expedition has attempted to scale three peaks in a single season, although each has been conquered before by climbers.

Dyhrenfurth, of Santa Monica Canyon, Calif., said if the Americans reach the top of Everest, they will be the third expedition to pull off the trick.

The British, who were first, and the Swiss have done it. The Red Chinese claim they climbed Everest in 1960 and left as proof a bust of Mao Tse-tung.

Their claim has been challenged.

"If the bust of Mao Tse-tung is there, we'll send them a congratulatory telegram," said Dyhrenfurth.

One thing the expedition won't look for, he said, is the elusive "Abominable Snowman," which legend holds lives amid the snow and ice on Everest's slopes.

Legislators Get Notification of Session Dec. 27

MADISON (AP)—Official notification that the 1961 Legislature will reconvene Dec. 27 was sent to all state lawmakers by registered mail Wednesday by Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles.

Knowles, who presides over the State Senate, said the session is expected to clear up all pending business before the 1963 session opens on Jan. 9.

The lieutenant governor, who withdrew from the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination when he failed to get the endorsement of the GOP state convention, said party members, holding majorities in both the Senate and Assembly, will attempt to make short work of the 1963 session.

Republican majorities, he said, "are determined to carry out their pre-election promise of the shortest possible session consistent with developing practical and equitable solutions to major problems of state government."

While he was making his deposit, two gunmen attempted a stickup and had collected $52,000 from tellers. Air Force Vet Balks 2 Men in Bank Robbery

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP)—Robert Dischler was not about to let two bank robbers get away with $52,000 the 24-year-old Air Force veteran had just deposited.

When two armed robbers entered the Bayway branch of the National State Bank of Elizabeth Wednesday, six customers and 12 bank employees looked on stunned and unmoving as one of the gunmen passed from teller to teller, stuffing $52,000 into a satchel.

Dischler swung into action. He jumped the bandit with the loot and wrestled the gun from him. At close range, Dischler fired a shot and the robber doubled up clutching at his stomach.

The second gunman advanced spraying bullets. Dischler returned the fire until both robbers fled.

"I'd do it all again if I had to," Dischler said. "I was worried about a $1,600 deposit I had just made."

The deposit represented receipts from the gas station Dischler operates.

The fleeing bandits dropped the satchel, spilling hundreds of bills on the floor.

Ex-Nazi Arrested As War Criminal

Higher-Up Official May be Detained, Report in Chile

BY JOSE M. ORLANDO
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The arrest of a higher ex-Nazi on war crimes charges may follow the detention here of a former SS colonel accused of ordering the gassing of 90,000 Jews in World War II.

Patrick Weichman, head of the international police organization Interpol in Chile, said last night "an even higher Nazi war criminal" was believed to be in this country and his arrest may follow soon.

He made the statement after former SS Col. Walter Herman Julius Rauff appeared before the supreme court and declared his innocence of the war crimes for which West Germany is seeking his extradition.

Weichman refused to name the second man whose arrest is expected.

Last March Martin Bormann, Adolf Hitler's deputy party chief, was reported located in Chile, but the suspect turned out to be another man. Bormann was reported to have met death in attempting to escape from Berlin in 1945 and was declared legally dead eight years ago by a West German court. Rumors that he is alive keep cropping up.

Eichman Colleague
Rauff was an office colleague of Adolf Eichmann who was executed in Israel last May 31 for complicity in the death of six million Jews. Rauff was arrested Tuesday.

Woman's Death In Oneida County Termed Murder

RHINELANDER (AP)—"Definitely murder," Oneida County authorities said as they continued their investigation into the death of Miss Edna Mae Mount, 23, who had been missing from her home for six months.

Portions of the victim's skeleton were found Tuesday scattered over a large portion of a wilderness area seven miles west of here.

Dist. Atty. Lee R. Krueger said three men who admitted being with Miss Mount on June 2, the night she disappeared, were questioned Wednesday. One man told of taking her home at 11:30 p.m. and making a date for the next day. He said she never kept it.

Krueger said the other two agreed to take lie detector tests.

Krueger made his "definitely murder" pronouncement after visiting a shallow grave in which were found additional parts of the skeleton. He said the grave apparently was dug with sticks and covered by tree limbs and underbrush. Officials said the grave apparently was opened and the skeleton scattered by animals.

Tito and Khrushchev Start Formal Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Yugoslav President Tito began formal conferences in the Kremlin today, presumably to weld a common front against the propaganda onslaught from Communist China.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Tito and Khrushchev discussed "questions related to the present international situation" as well as "questions pertaining to the further development of fraternal Soviet-Yugoslav" relations.

Tass described the discussion as "frank and friendly exchange of opinion."

Acheson Tells West Point Cadets British Power Role Almost Ended

BY WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Service
LONDON — Mixed amazement and indignation have greeted the attack on Britain's position made by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a speech yesterday at West Point.

Acheson's remark that Britain's "independent role as a power was about played out" was given first rate prominence by the British Broadcasting Corp. and four big papers. The London Times, the Guardian, the Daily Mail and the mass circulation tabloid the Daily Mirror, which generally takes a pro-American line.

Lashes at Other Nations
"Britain has lost an empire means beyond the age when heads of government usually lay down their burdens."

The British amazement is based on the fact that Acheson, who still appears to have some official status, should have been permitted to address such remarks to an American military audience on the eve of extremely critical decisions affecting the

Hoffa Lawyers Say He Cannot Get Fair Trial

Mental Observation
For Assailant of Teamsters' Chief

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Air pistol pellets fired at James R. Hoffa in court by an ex-mental patient have injected a new, and unexpected element into the labor leader's conspiracy trial.

His attorneys quickly claimed the attack—in which the pellets bounced harmlessly off his body — proved the teamsters union president couldn't get a fair trial.

The shots were fired at Hoffa Wednesday by a man identified as Warren Swanson, 28, of Washington, D.C. Hoffa ducked, then lunged at the man, knocking him to the floor.

Needs 14 Stitches
Swanson required 14 stitches to repair head wounds. A deputy U.S. marshal struck him on the back of the head with a pistol and a Hoffa bodyguard got in a few kicks before the bleeding man was led from court in handcuffs.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller ordered Swanson committed to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo., for observation.

Miller ordered six additional armed marshals for courtroom duty and directed that henceforth everyone entering the court be searched.

Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting under-cover payments from a transport firm in return for labor peace. The trial is in its seventh week.

The jury was out of the court.

Blanket May Grow Again; Officials Assert Fatalities May Increase Into Hundreds

LONDON (AP)—Smog deaths operations were told to stay at rose to 66 in London today, and home.

Police predicted a final toll for Britain of hundreds of dead from the polluted fog.

Weathermen said the thick blanket, now in its third day, was thinning in many places, but they warned it would probably clamp down in London again after dusk.

"This looks like another 1952 disaster," said Cmdr. John Langworthy, chief of London's Emergency Bed Hospital Service. "There are masses of cases."

The 9-day smog in 1952 killed at least 4,000 persons. Adding to the discomfort were electric power failures that hit large sections near the capital. Thousands of suburban homes were without lights.

The main cause of the trouble has been overloading of the London Electricity Board. "Too many people have been using my electric fires at the same time and leaving them on too long," boss.

London Airport Closed
Clammy cold weather accompanied the fog.

Port officials said 101 ships were tied up in the London area. London airport was closed for the third day, but long-distance flights were able to use Gatwick Airport, 20 miles southeast of London.

The day brought some improvement in the fog across the country. Traffic was still idled along the east coast and in the northern county of Yorkshire, but many other areas had cleared.

More than 60 sudden deaths Tuesday and Wednesday were attributed to smog. The victims were mostly people with heart or chest complaints whose condition was aggravated by the sulphurous pall.

The forecasters had predicted no letup, and 200 hospitals were alerted for a major disaster. Nearly 400 beds were taken Wednesday night by emergency cases.

A London County Council official said hundreds of people who were due to go into hospital for cases.

Industrial Spending Tops Expectations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial spending for new plants and equipment ran well ahead of the amount predicted for the third quarter of 1962 and probably will push the year's total to a record high, two government agencies report.

But spending estimates indicate a leveling off of capital outlays in this quarter and perhaps a slight decline in the first part of 1963.

The joint announcement Wednesday by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission said the survey showed industrial spending reached a record yearly rate of $38.35 billion during the July-September quarter. This brings the all-year rate of such spending to $37.4 billion, and it continued to the end of the year would eclipse the previous high of $37 billion in 1957.

Promises Fairness On Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer J. Caplin says his agency does not want to interfere with legitimate expense account deductions in setting up new tax rules.

Caplin promised Wednesday that the regulations enacted by the Internal Revenue Service "will achieve a basically fair and sound approach consistent with the intent of Congress" under the law that authorized them.

Richards

Petrillo Out As President Of Musicians

CHICAGO (AP)—A dance band leader who has never held union office took over today as president of Chicago's musicians, ending the reign of James C. Petrillo.

The 40-year-old Bernard (Barney) Richards, 57, led a rebel ticket which defeated Petrillo in an election they had expected to win. Petrillo lost by 95 votes.

Petrillo, 70, apparently played his own swan song by taking the challenge too lightly. He had had no competition for the office of president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians since 1933.

Union officials announced vote totals of 1,690 for Richards and 1,595 for Petrillo. About one-third of the union's reported eligible members voted. Two candidates for minor posts said they will enter official protests and ask for a recount.

Petrillo was not available for comment.

Some Red Troops Stay in War Area

TEZPUR, India (AP)—An estimated 300 Chinese troops were reported today scattered along the mountain road from this Indian army headquarters to Bordil, 100 air miles to the north.

The estimate was given to newsmen by ambulance drivers who returned from Bordil before dawn with 64 sick or wounded Indian prisoners released by the Red Chinese Wednesday, and the body of one man who died three days ago.

The Chinese "were in holes in the forest and mountains," one driver said.

The report from the drivers bore out Prime Minister Nehru's statement in the Indian Parliament Monday that the Chinese may have thinned out advance units of their invasion armies but have not withdrawn them in accordance with their self-proclaimed cease-fire.

The Bordil sector was the point of greatest Chinese penetration toward the fertile populous Assam plains.

Thursday, December 6, 1962 Appleton Post-Crescent B1

These Tawny Squares of creamy penuche are liberally filled with coarsely chopped filberts. A half filbert tops each piece to make it even better. The recipe for this candy is interesting in that dairy sour cream is blended with brown sugar as a basis for the sweets. The combination is unusually good.

Here's An Attractive array of candies made from glazed semi-sweet chocolate chips with a minimum of effort. Left, bottom, are tiny Christmas Wreaths that combine melted chocolate and cornflakes and decorations of bright candies. Roasted peanuts, salted or unsalted, combine with melted chocolate to make the Chocolate Chip Lollipops. The Chocolate Pretzels are made from the chips alone after being melted and the Chocolate Nuggets, lower right, combine the chocolate with condensed milk, flavorings and salt to be rolled into nuts, tiny candies or sprinkles after being shaped into round balls.

Christmas just wouldn't be Christmas without candies! For many families this means homemade candies. Some of the best memories of the season were the candy-making sessions in the kitchen . . . old and young hands were kept busy and hearts were light from grandma down to toddler in beruffled bib. All jobs were allocated according to age and dexterity, but there was a job for everyone, including grandpa and papa.

Fancy creams and elegant "store-bought" chocolates are wonderful to have and enjoy but the homemade favorites can provide an exciting family tradition to keep up year after year. There are so many homemade varieties that make excellent treats for a festive season . . . the kind that are easy to make and fun for everybody on a share-the-work plan.

Several of the recipes featured today are simple enough for quick results . . . an important factor when children help. Youngsters can insert the sticks in the Chocolate Chip Lollipops after more experienced helpers melt the chocolate and handle the hot water . . . small fry will enjoy thoroughly the important job of shaping the Chocolate Nuggets into round balls and perhaps the tiny Christmas Wreaths after a bit of practice. Grade schoolers can learn how to handle a cake decorator set to turn out Chocolate Pretzels.

The fudges, molasses sea foam, delicious Brazil nut and filbert candies belong to adept teen-agers and adults who can read a candy thermometer and who are old enough to work at the stove. But the Molasses Taffy is one for a family project when it comes to "pulling."

Most of these recipes are old-fashioned classics or variations thereof. They all are bound to add a special delight to the happy yuletide. They also provide a magnificent way to say "Merry Christmas" either as a treat for callers or as gifts to package prettily and send on their way.

Creamy Filbert Penuche
¾ cup coarsely chopped filberts
¼ cup filbert halves
3 cups brown sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup butter
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Toast whole filberts in 275-degree oven for 20 minutes. While still warm, rub between fingers to remove brown skins. Chop some filberts coarsely to make thick. Pull corners to make three-fourths cup and cut others in halves to make one-fourth cup. Combine brown sugar and sour cream in saucepan; blend well but take care to keep mixture off sides of pan. Cover; bring to boil over medium heat. Keep covered for five minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until 236 degrees is reached on candy thermometer (soft ball stage). Remove from heat; add butter but do not stir. Allow to stand, without stirring, until lukewarm (about 110 degrees). Add salt, vanilla and coarsely ground filberts; beat mixture briskly until mixture holds its shape and loses its gloss. Do not scrape sides of pan during beating.

Pour onto waxed paper in rectangular pan. Cool. Cut into squares. Press filbert half into top of each square. Recipe makes two pounds of candy.

Brazil Nut Chocolate Crunch
2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon baking soda
1 2/3 cups chopped Brazil nuts
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 tablespoon shortening

Put sugar and butter in heavy skillet. Place over low heat and stir constantly until sugar melts. It is important to keep mixture stirred to get an even caramelization of the sugar. As soon as sugar is melted and light brown in color, add soda and stir in one cup of Brazil nuts.

Turn onto greased baking sheet; roll out with rolling pin until brittle is one-fourth inch thick. Pull corners to make one square. While candy is still hot, mark quickly into small squares with a sharp knife. Break into pieces when brittle hardens.

Melt chocolate morsels and shortening over hot water (not

Brazil Nut Fudge Balls
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
½ cup orange juice
2½ cups crushed vanilla wafers
½ cup confectioners sugar
1 cup finely chopped Brazil nuts
Flaked coconut

Melt chocolate over hot but not boiling water. Remove from heat; stir in corn syrup and orange juice. Stir in remaining ingredients, except coconut. Let stand about 30 minutes. Form into one-inch balls. Roll in flaked coconut. Recipe makes about 48 to 56 balls.

Brazil Nut Fudge
2/3 cup evaporated milk
1 cup sugar

Boil about one-third of each hardened square into melted chocolate. Coat with remaining chopped nuts. Recipe makes two pounds of candy.

Chocolate Wreaths
Use one-half cup glazed chocolate chips and two-thirds cup cornflakes for this candy. Heat chocolate over hot water until partly melted, then remove from heat and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add nuts; mix well. Drop by teaspoons onto waxed paper. Insert a lollipop stick into each. Chill until firm.

Chocolate Chip Lollipops
½ cup glazed chocolate chips
2/3 cup roasted peanuts, skinned (salted or unsalted)
12 Lollipop sticks

Heat chocolate over hot water until partly melted, then remove from heat and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add nuts; mix well. Drop by teaspoons onto waxed paper. Insert a lollipop stick into each. Chill until firm.

6 Buildings In New London CD Shelters

Three Schools, Church, Disposal Plant Certified

NEW LONDON — The city council Tuesday night heard a report from Civil Defense Director George Wochinski, who noted six buildings in the area had been certified as civil defense shelters.

They include the Rainbow Supper Club, the Most Precious Blood Catholic school and Most Precious Blood Catholic Church, Emmanuel Lutheran School, the sewage disposal plant and Washington high school.

The council concurred with the New London school district board by approving quit claims on two houses formerly owned by the district. The houses have been sold.

Stiffened Parking Law Boosts Fines

Chilton Notes 30 Cars Tagged in November Under Strict Ordinance

CHILTON—The stiffened parking ordinance endorsed by the City Council a month ago and the crackdown on parking violators has resulted in a sharp upswing in the number of parking tickets issued by city police.

Monthly reports show that 30 cars were tagged for violating some phase of the parking ordinance, primarily the two-hour limit. Dan Albedyll issued 20 of the tickets. Eight were handed out by Warren Jodar and two by Police Chief Harry Thompson, who missed some of the month's convention and vacation time. Before the crackdown, an average of three to five parking tickets were issued monthly by the department. The police are waiting for a longer test period to determine if it has eased the parking situation.

During November the police also worked a total of 511 hours, traveled 2,234 miles on patrol, made eight arrests, issued 31 warnings, conducted 23 investigations, escorted eight funerals and investigated five auto accidents.

Chief Thompson compiled 173 hours with 578 miles. He made one arrest, seven warnings, three investigations, two funeral escorts and checked on an accident.

Albedyll worked 226 hours and traveled 1,051 miles. He made three arrests, 14 warnings, 19 investigations, escorted six funerals, checked one accident and directed traffic at two fires.

Warren Jodar was on duty for 72 hours and traveled 31 miles while arresting one, warning seven, conducting one investigation and one accident.

A total of 40 duty hours were recorded by Robin Lingenfelder who traveled 274 miles, made three arrests, issued three warnings and investigated two accidents.

Michigan Judge Sets New Standards for Gaining Scholarship

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — A scholarship fund no one has been strait-laced enough to touch may be tapped under a liberalized set of prerequisites established by a judge.

Jackson County Circuit Court Judge John Simpson ruled Monday the requirements set down in the will of Elmore Dennis in 1946 are now "too stringent under presently accepted social habits."

The will restricted use of the $14,000 fund to Jackson High students with perfect school attendance records who abstained from smoking, drinking, social Greek-letter organizations, and "frivolous amusements."

Judge Simpson's new standards for the one-year grants are based on ability, need and citizenship, with preference going to students interested in science and engineering.

The Union High School district will receive $22,315 up $5,499 from last year. The rate of taxes for the high school this year is $27.50 per thousand up $6.43 per thousand from a year ago.

The total budget is $66,008, up $6,300 from last year. The total assessed valuation of the village, set at $811,600, has been raised from $798,170.

Tapes Used In Studies

Language Laboratory Successful at Stockbridge High

STOCKBRIDGE — A modified foreign language laboratory employing tape recordings has been used successfully for French instructions at Stockbridge High School for the first time this year.

Francis Slattery, French teacher, said he is highly pleased with the system, which gives each student at least 3½ hours weekly working with taped conversations prepared by native French speakers. He said in this system the student learns to speak and understand the language before attempting to read and write it.

The background of sound prevents the pupil from applying the English pronunciation to French spelling, Slattery said. The pupils, too, have been enthusiastic, he said, and it has helped spur their progress.

French has been the foreign language taught at Stockbridge for the last four years. Slattery has 13 students. He took a six-week university summer course under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation for training in foreign language laboratory application.

Youth Center Sets Recreation Night At Chilton School

CHILTON — Youth Center members will stage a recreation night program at the Chilton High School gym from 7 to 11 p.m. Saturday.

Current plans call for the gym to be divided into two sections with volleyball competition on one side and basketball on the other. Refreshments will be available to those who participate.

Plans for pocket billiard and ping-pong tournaments in the near future are being completed. Cash prizes will be awarded.

Post holiday activities in the planning stage are a swimming party at the Kohler indoor pool and an ice skating outing at the Brown County Memorial Arena.

Man Held for Court On Bad Conduct Count

WAUPACA — Claude A. Howe, 45, route 1, Weyauwega, was ordered held for County Court on a charge of injuries received in an auto accident Nov. 14, 1960 near Forest Junction.

The settlement resulted in dismissal of a $25,000 suit against Heritage Mutual Insurance Co., J. Cane for a full day. The settlement was reached before formal court arguments were concluded.

Justice Whalen set bail at $1,000. Howe has convictions for drunkenness on Aug. 22, 1958, disorderly conduct on Dec. 20, 1958, and drunkenness on Feb. 25, 1961.

Approach Solution To Chilton Bus Runs

Negotiations Progress for Leasing Plan

CHILTON — The Board of Education at a special meeting Wednesday night approached a solution to the bus transportation problem that arose in the Chilton District last week when the State Department of Public Instruction ordered curtailment of the transportation of parochial school children on public school buses.

Although no final commitment has been made at the present time, negotiations are progressing for a bus leasing plan whereby the parochial school children could be legally transported on the buses.

The plan being drafted and expected to be put in effect Monday calls for the school district to lease its entire fleet of 10 school buses to L. P. Daun, a Chilton farm implement dealer. Daun will operate the buses for the district and be paid on a mileage basis. The rate is calculated so that costs to the school district do not exceed normal transportation costs of past years. During the 1961-62 school year the cost of bus operation was $26,623.

Daun will then be free to enter into separate contracts with the four religious congregations formerly served by the public school buses and arrange for continued transportation of the pupils attending the respective parish schools. About 300 elementary school pupils were affected by the state order.

Concert Set In Clintonville Junior, Senior Bands Will Play Christmas Music

CLINTONVILLE—A Christmas Pops Music concert will be presented at 7:45 p.m. Monday at Clintonville Senior High School.

Participating will be the cadet, junior and senior bands, directed by Robert Swan, and the senior choir, directed by Mrs. Richard Kuepper.

The Junior High brass ensemble will play in the foyer prior to the concert. The cadet band will play, "Around Goes Round the Band," featuring each section. The junior band will play, "Slippery Gentleman," featuring a trombone trio consisting of Randy Olson, Doug Peterson and Bob Kersten. The junior band also will play three other numbers.

The senior band will feature the saxophone section in a number called "Swing Low Sweet Sax." Saxophonists are Bob Hoffman, Dave Hedtke, Bill LaViolette, Charlotte Allard, Doug Malueg and Janet Kriewaldt.

For the vocal part of the concert, the choir will sing a group of carols. Some will be accompanied by the brass choir and others by the clarinet choir. The choir also will sing "Three Songs for Christmas," accompanied by the senior band.

Out-of-Court Settlement Set Before Jury Can Give Verdict

CHILTON — In an out-of-court settlement reached before the case went to a Calumet County Circuit Court jury, a rural Bril-lion housewife, Mrs. David Manderscheid, route 1, received $8,500 for injuries received in an auto accident Nov. 14, 1960 near Forest Junction.

The settlement resulted in dismissal of a $25,000 suit against Heritage Mutual Insurance Co., J. Cane for a full day. The settlement was reached before formal court arguments were concluded.

Justice Whalen set bail at $1,000. Howe has convictions for drunkenness on Aug. 22, 1958, disorderly conduct on Dec. 20, 1958, and drunkenness on Feb. 25, 1961.

Hiring of Public Health Nurse Gets Informal Clintonville Approval

City, School District Would Pay Salary; Health Board Urged

CLINTONVILLE — The possibility of hiring a public health nurse jointly by the city and the school district received informal approval Tuesday night by the city council.

Mayor Frank Sinkewicz reported the council's health committee met with the school board's welfare committee and Dr. Owen E. Larson, city health officer. As proposed, the city's share would be $2,000 a year for a nurse. The school district would furnish an office and the nurse would furnish her own car.

At the present time, it was reported there was a registered nurse interested in such a position, but she would require more schooling and is willing to obtain such schooling next summer.

Health Board

Dr. Larson recommended having a board of public health under whose jurisdiction the nurse would work. Creating such a board would involve adopting an ordinance, Sinkewicz stated. The city and school have not had a nurse for several years. The council approved a recommendation of the Water and Light commission to accept a set of rules regarding water main extensions for new customers as established by the Public Service Commission.

Adopted was a resolution that the hourly rates and monthly salaries of city employees be adjusted effective Jan. 1, 1963 in accordance with previously adopted employment policy job ratings.

A letter was read from the Police and Fire Commission recommending erecting traffic signs at Eighth and Main Streets, and Twelfth and Main Streets. Police Chief James Beggs announced that there will be traffic engineers here at 2 p.m. Wednesday to discuss this matter.

Fuel Bids

The street committee was authorized to advertise for bids for fuel oil and gasoline for next year.

Basil Arvey, director of public works, reported on the proposed extension of Paulina Street. No one appeared at a public hearing to oppose the extension. The council voted that the street and planning commission be authorized to proceed with the Paulina Street crossing subject to council's approval of costs that might be involved.

Calumet Cancer Unit Meets at Forest Junction

FOREST JUNCTION — Acceptance of state standards of the American Cancer Society for continued certification as a county unit was voted by the Calumet County branch of the society at its quarterly meeting here.

Paul Schuette, Manitowoc, district director, visited the meeting. Thomas Lucas, New Holstein attorney, had charge as county unit president. Hostesses were Forest Junction representatives, Mrs. Lester Huebner, Mrs. Alma Zick and Mrs. Alice Schulze. The group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Schulze.

The next county meeting, in the public library at New Holstein March 4, will launch the annual campaign for funds for the national organization.

New Museum Site Sought

Royal Farm Exhibit Outgrows Quarters; County Aid Asked

CHILTON — Possible new locations for the Royal Farm Museum of Calumet County will be reviewed at the annual meeting Friday of the Royal Historical Society.

The society, an affiliate of the state historical society, is comprised of some 280 exhibitors who have loaned and donated the 800 entries for display in the museum.

William J. Schereck, supervisor of local history for the state historical society, said he will be present at the meeting. It will begin at 1:30 p. m. at city hall.

Since it was founded a year ago, the society's exhibits have outgrown original museum facilities at the home of Dr. Royal Klondanda, 216 Reed St., Chilton. Klondanda originated the museum. Efforts have been made to find a new home for the exhibits. The society approached the Calumet County Board in November asking for a $500 contribution toward a museum site at Calumet County Park. The request will be reviewed in January.

Other locations also have been considered by the expansion committee. Its findings will be presented to members Friday.

American Socialist Captures Audience at Oshkosh College

Norman Thomas Hits Attempt to Equate Collectivism, Communism

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
OSHKOSH — Norman Thomas, 78-year old leader of American Socialism, invaded this citadel of Conservatism Tuesday night and captured his audience's enthusiasm if not its political support. Speaking before mainly Oshkosh State College students in the second of the College Lecture Series at the Grand Theater, the six-time candidate for president on the Socialist ticket condemned efforts to equate what he called Democratic Socialism with Communism. Thomas also called for extension of public ownership for the common good, for birth control, for reducing inequities in income and then issued a three-point challenge to the college youth of today. "Nothing is more stupid," he said, "than to think that socialism is a step down the road toward Communism or that the welfare state is a step toward Communism. "It is not the countries that have extensive social programs that are going Communist," said Thomas, "but it is the under-veloped country where Communism makes headway." Public Ownership He called for public ownership of natural resources and of industry that he said was not competitive, such as steel. He said those industries could be run by special authorities such as TVA is now run.

On resources, Thomas said the individual man did not put the oil under the ground so the individual should not own it. There are three challenges facing the college youth, he said. The first is in the field of race relations. The second is an economic challenge and the third is the challenge of war and peace. "You young people will not live to my age unless you solve the problem of war," he warned. "Man has acquired the power of God over natural forces but not over himself," Thomas said. He called for strengthening the instruments of peace, including the United Nations. "We cannot always keep peace by standing firm. We may be standing off quicksand."

In a question and answer period, Thomas told his audience the cost of campaigning is reducing the role of small parties. He said none of his campaigns ever had enough money to buy one hour of television time at today's costs. He said the only way for a third party to succeed would be to win big in its first effort. In commenting on the last election, Thomas said "it could have been worse." He said he was glad Nixon is not President or governor of California.

He admitted socialism did not have a pat answer for everything — especially the farm problem — but that Democratic Socialism was a step toward solving the world's problems.

Suggest End Of Air Routes

Michigan-Canada Trips Should Stop, Says CAB Examiner

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil aeronautics board examiner has recommended the elimination of North Central Airlines' route between Hancock-Houghton, Mich., and Port Arthur-Ft. William, Ontario, Canada.

Examiner Barron Fredericks said North Central should be permitted to continue operating its other route to Port Arthur-Ft. William from Duluth, Minn., Superior, Wis.

The CAB last June ordered a use-it-or-lose-it proceeding to determine whether the two routes, which had failed to meet minimum standards of traffic generation, should still receive air service.

North Central urged that it be permitted to operate both routes, and forecast for next year a $15,000 profit for the routes.

Justify Burden The examiner said Tuesday that neither the isolation of the Canadian cities nor any other circumstance shown would justify the continued burden on the U.S. treasury of supporting both routes. He noted that the CAB's Bureau of Economic Regulations had estimated that during the last fiscal year the total cost of the two routes would be $77,420, resulting in a subsidy cost of almost $14 a passenger.

Fredericks said that although the 171-mile route out of Duluth involves higher direct cost than the 91-mile route from Michigan, the Duluth routing responds much better to the public needs.

The Duluth route continues southward to Minneapolis-St. Paul. The Hancock - Houghton route extends southward to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Suggest Field Be Named for Doty Bayorgeon

Recreation Area In Kaukauna Studied By Common Council

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night heard a resolution prepared by the Electric and Water Utility Commission urging aldermen to name the new athletic field area the "Doty Bayorgeon Recreation Area."

The resolution was signed by the utility manager and all commission members, with the exception of Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon. It pointed out the athletic area would never have been a reality if Mayor Bayorgeon, through long-range planning, had not secured the land and earmarked the area for such a purpose many years ago.

The resolution indicated the mayor was responsible for improvements being made at the field by the utility commission. The resolution was referred to the health and recreation committee for study and recommendation.

Make Recommendation The council authorized the finance committee to study recommendations of the public and protection and safety committee calling for a 3 per cent pay increase for members of the police and fire departments, setting aside funds for two additional men in the fire department, raising the fire inspector's salary from $60 to $80 per year and granting a $200 per year car allowance to the fire chief.

Also to be studied by the finance unit are creation of the offices of captain within the fire department with a $15 per month salary adjustment above regular firemen, raising the police clothing allowance from $60 to $75 per year and reduction of police working hours from 42½ to 40 hours per week with the understanding no additional policemen would be needed.

The increases proposed for study would cost the city about $15,750 more than the 1962 expenditures, but the 1963 budget has sufficient funds appropriated to handle increased expenditures if recommended by the finance unit.

The city engineer was authorized to meet with the county high-

The council granted the chief's request. It also ordered the public property and fire committees to see about permanent housing for the vehicle in the shed at the city hall.

Disappearance of Rhinelander Girl Linked to Skeleton

RHINELANDER (AP) — The discovery of a human skeleton and torn clothing in a forest area Tuesday has been linked to the disappearance of a 23-year-old Rhinelander woman six months ago.

A pair of high heeled shoes, a torn blue dress and a human skull were found by Mr. and Mrs. James R. Roesler of rural Rhinelander as they searched for fishing worms about 50 feet from a town road some seven miles west of Rhinelander.

The search was expanded by Oneida County Deputy Sheriff John Vanney, and turned up other parts of the skeleton, the remainder of the dress and a light-colored coat similar to one worn by Miss Edna Mae Mount who was last seen June 2 when she left her home to keep a date with an unidentified man.

Authorities said the position of the shoes indicated the victim had been fleeing into the woods when she lost them. Parts of the skeleton were found over a wide area.

Authorities said there was no identification, and Coroner Bernard Bozile said the State Crime Laboratory would be contacted.

Relatives told police that on the night of the disappearance Miss Mount had taken her 6-year-old son downtown, returned in a car, put the boy to bed and went out again. The companion was not seen by relatives.

Reynolds Informed Of Rising College Expenses at OSC

Hints That TV, New State School in Milwaukee May Solve Problems

OSHKOSH — Democratic Governor-Elect John Reynolds Wednesday was told a familiar story of increasing state college enrollments, increasing costs and increasing difficulty in meeting the demands of higher education.

The impact of increasing enrollments was dwelled upon by Reynolds and educators at one of the newly elected governor's budget brigade hearings conducted at Oshkosh State College.

Reynolds strongly hinted he felt the solution to the enrollment problem lay in creation of a new state college in the metropolitan Milwaukee area, fulltime use of physical facilities and in the use of educational television — including closed circuit TV within the school.

He also wanted information on the value of campus elementary schools on the state college campus, especially the one at OSC. Figures were presented showing that in the last ten years total enrollment at the nine state colleges increased from 6,504 to 20,551 for a percentage increase of 216. However, at Oshkosh State College, the enrollment has gone up 391 per cent, from 677 students in 1952 to 3,324 this year. Another 7,000 increase is projected for the system in two years with 1,400 of that jump coming at Oshkosh.

Eugene McPhee, director of state colleges, said Oshkosh State could expect 8,000 students by 1970.

Figures also showed a space squeeze. Only two schools, Superior and Stout, meet what is considered the minimum of 66 square feet of instructional space per student.

Building Program

Oshkosh State has 40.1 square feet per student, an increase of 10 square feet per student over a year ago as a result of the new library.

Reynolds also was told there is $3,572,500 in construction now underway on the Oshkosh campus and another $5,774,000 in construction on the planning boards.

Work now underway includes a science building, 500-bed dormitory and conversion of the old library to classroom and office scheduled for completion next fall.

On the drawing boards are a $2,200,000 classroom building, another 500-bed dormitory, a $1-million student union addition, a new $1-million heating plant, and renovation of the roof and lighting of Dempsey Hall.

Almost one-third of the people in the state live in the southeast corner, Reynolds said, but the schools are spread out over the state. He wondered if there

Set Trial Date in Auto Theft Case

WAUPACA — Lawrence R. Schewe Jr., 18, route 2, Clintonville, pleaded innocent of driving an automobile without the owner's consent Wednesday before Judge Wendell McHenry in County Court.

Judge McHenry set the preliminary hearing for 9:30 a.m. Dec. 17. The jury trial was scheduled Jan. 9.

Schewe has been charged with taking a car belonging to Tripod Chevrolet, Inc., Clintonville, on Nov. 11. He and three juvenile boys have been implicated in the incident.

The juveniles were placed under the supervision of the county welfare department for one year when they appeared in juvenile court.

should be more encouragement to develop schools in the more urban areas.

Several educators disagreed with Reynolds. Dr. Roger Guiles, president of OSC, said the curriculum had a strong influence on the growth of a school. McPhee cited Platteville which, because of its specialized courses, draws from the entire state. Dane County is the second largest supplier of students to Platteville, McPhee noted.

McPhee also said the University of Wisconsin is studying the possibility of locating a third campus in the Racine - Kenosha area.

Summer Course

Reynolds also expressed curiosity about the 12-week summer session conducted at Oshkosh last summer. Guiles said it had not been as popular as hoped but the course offerings would be expanded next summer to attract more students from the eight-week course.

Educational television also came into the picture as Reynolds thought this might be a way of reducing teaching costs in the face of a shortage of teachers available with doctorates.

The governor-elect said it had been suggested the OSC campus elementary school be discontinued and asked for views.

Guiles said the function of the campus school has changed over the years and is no longer used primarily for practice teaching but now serves as a valuable part of an experimental school, for use in education studies.

Reynolds lunched in the college cafeteria, going through the check-out line with students. After the hearings, which were held in the Reeve Memorial Union lounge, the group of legislators and officials, toured the college grounds.

Governor-Elect Spends Six Hours Touring Winnebago State Hospital

Says Budget Figures Have More Meaning

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WINNEBAGO — With quiet purpose and tireless thoroughness Gov.-Elect John W. Reynolds spent six hours touring Winnebago State Hospital Wednesday. No door remained locked to his inspection, no question went unanswered, no extended patient's hand was left unshaken in the unprecedented tour by the state's new chief executive who will take over the duties of his office Jan. 1.

The tour began in the wards of the main building, opened 92 years ago, which now houses mostly the 23 per cent patient population over 65 years of age.

Through the long, heated tunnel to Kempster Hall the party walked to visit that building's third floor admissions wards, the second floor surgical, X-ray laboratory and psychiatric ward facilities.

Hughes Hall

Escorts for the tour were Supv. Charles Belcher, Dr. H. Alfred Denzel, clinical director, and Paul Theis, business manager. The patient population at Hughes Hall, newest building of the hospital plant, now numbers 225. Housed here are adult patients and the children, most of them in individual rooms. In this building, designed like a five-spoke wheel, there is a gymnasium, a school, cafeteria, beauty shop and therapy rooms.

"Since my years as attorney general I have wanted to visit the state institutions," the new chief executive said. "Now when the agencies come to me presenting their budgets the mass of figures will have a great deal more significance."

He will know why 500 gallons of paint are needed in the main building at Winnebago State Hospital, why day hospital services are needed, what psychiatric residencies can do to speed patient recovery, how an out-patient clinic can serve, what more classroom instructors can mean to the children's unit.

The proposed budget for the Department of Public Welfare in the 1963-65 biennium is $170 million and $93 million is being requested for Winnebago State Hospital, an increase of $1.9 million over the last period.

Budget Request

Wilbur Schmidt, head of the Department of Public Welfare explained that the proposed budget increase would, proposed 144 new positions at Winnebago State Hospital (52 of them to staff the new geriatrics units now under construction which will open next year); increased hospital services; increased housekeeping force; increased nurse and aide staffs; maintenance of the old building until it can be replaced with a proposed $2.6 million unit; additional staff for operating the newly inaugurated parallel treatment program and additional stenographic and clerical help for compiling adequate medical records.

"Budget increases are not for instituting new methods, they are to enable Winnebago State Hospital to do a better job," Schmidt said. "All of this is aimed at existing deficiencies and will result in keeping down mounting hospital population. This is a real investment and will save a lot of people from long term suffering in a mental institution."

The present cost per patient per month is $300. Winnebago State Hospital has a bed-rated capacity of 769. The average admission rate over the past four years has been 1,830 patients per year. Resident population has been reduced from 1,100 in October of 1961 to 900 in August of 1962, down to the present figure of 814. It is presently staffed by 658 employees.

New Treatment Plan

At a meeting following the tour Dr. Belcher pictured the new parallel treatment plan which began at the hospital last August and which is given much of the credit for decreasing the patient population. This plan divides the hospital into six units: children's

Truck Driver Cited For Eight Violations Following Arrest

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — How far can you go on nothing? Don L. Farley, 24, of Chapmanville, W.Va., gave a pretty good answer to that question Tuesday before Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb.

Farley was arrested by the highway patrol and his citation in court said the truck he was driving had no license plates, no tail light, no horn, no windshield wiper, no emergency brake, no turn signals, unsafe tires and the certificate of title for the truck was not transferred from the previous owner.

Farley told the judge he had purchased the truck in Chicago and had driven it through parts of three states.

The judge imposed fines totaling $100 and costs.

unit, geriatrics and four adult treatment facilities. Each unit has two psychiatrists and one or two social workers with the complementing nurse and aide staff.

A patient is admitted to one of the units, the same physician writes his or her history, prescribes treatment, plans release and discharges the patient. It has resulted in intensified treatment, release after a short time, a higher comfort level for patients and a higher morale among the employees. According to the superintendent it has also made some of the deficiencies quite glaring.

"The hospital has done a good job," Dr. Belcher appraised. "One of our most critical needs has been for increased social staff to evaluate the environment a patient must return to when he or she is discharged. Most patients have to be dropped almost completely when they leave the hospital. Some of the answers lie in family placement and further cooperation with community resources including sheltered workshops and half-way houses."

Commitments

The governor-elect asked what per cent of the commitments came from the courts to which Dr. Belcher replied, "An estimated 65 per cent and about 30 per cent of this number should not have come here at all. We have become a depository for taking care of social problems because they have no place else to go. Juvenile delinquents come to use because there are no juvenile detention centers; children with emotional problems resulting from bad home environments; adult delinquents they do not know what to do with; medical-social problems where there are no funds for their care and the alcoholics which we do not know what to do with after we receive them."

In the group were John Gornouske, commissioner of taxation; Howard Hazen, administrative assistant; members of the legislature, Sen. Richard Zaboriski, Milwaukee, Assembly men Harry Gessert, Sheboygan, Ben Riehl, Athens, and David Martin, Neenah.

Also making the tour were government agency representatives: Eugene McPhee, Robert Doyle and Robert Winters at the board of college regents; Wilbur Schmidt and Dr. Leonard Ganzer from the Department of Public Welfare; Harry Spindler, Mental Health Advisory Committee; and from administration Wally Lennon, Paul Brown and Wayne McGowan.

Your Problems

Phone Line Disturbance Small Compared to Nibbling Talker

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been reading your column for a long time and notice that some people write just to let off steam. This is what I am doing. I'm an ardent club worker and spend a great deal of time on the telephone. I simply can't stand it when women eat while they are talking. That crunching over the telephone drives me crazy.

The other evening one woman was making so much noise I decided to let her know she was annoying me. I asked her outright, "How is the celery?" She replied nonchalantly, "I'm not eating celery. It's potato chips." Then she continued crunching.

Another woman who tipsles a good bit always has an ice cube in her mouth. Frequently she says, "Just a minute. I have to stir this Tom Collins." Then I hear the tinkling and gulping.

What is the matter with people that they have to eat and drink while on the phone? Or am I getting finicky in my old age?—Fuss Budget

Dear Fuss: People who munch, crunch, and gulp on the phone are rude and they ought to be told. (Personal confession: I blushing admit I've done it myself!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are in our early 30's. We both had hacking coughs for so long that neither of us could remember exactly when our coughs started. Upon learning that we were a five-pack-a-day family, our doctor suggested we cut down on cigarettes.

We decided it would be easier to cut out smoking completely than to cut down. So we took a joint oath and threw our last packs into the Hudson River.

Three months have passed and I have been 100 per cent honorable about the agreement. I need me or what? What can I do about it? — No Smoke Screen

Dear No Smoke: Every human has his own distinct scent. It may be that in the past your husband associated your scent with tobacco and he still does.

There is the possibility, too, that your skin and hair absorb other people's cigarette smoke, making you smell guilty.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you are against announcements. I know, too, you don't think a person who gets an announcement is obliged to send a gift. Could this case be the exception?

I belong to a large family. For almost 40 years I've been sending graduation gifts, wedding gifts, baby gifts, birthday and Christmas gifts to dozens and dozens of relatives. My youngest daughter was engaged for two years. Her fiancé came home last month and they hurriedly decided to be married. There was no time for wedding invitations, so we sent announcements to sixty close relatives.

The young couple received one gift. We did not send announcements with the idea she would receive gifts. We just wanted people to know. What do you think of the small return?—Hurt

Dear Hurt: If you sent the announcements merely to let people know, then you have accomplished your purpose. So why be hurt?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

5 Citizens Object to Assessments

Proposed Sewer Installation on Pine Street Hit

CLINTONVILLE — A public hearing was held Tuesday night at the meeting of the common council regarding the special assessments scheduled against property owners for sewer installation on Pine Street.

The proposed sewer installation is to provide service for a residence being built on Pine Street by Kenneth Luebke.

The special assessments were objected to by property owners, Armand Wothe, who submitted his objection by letter; Robert A. Olen, who submitted his objection by letter and was represented by Attorney Robert Otto, and Otto, who presented his own objections. Two other property owners were not represented or present for the hearing.

City Utilities
Otto pointed out that both the Olen property and his own already were receiving city utilities and neither will need nor have any increased value from the Pine Street installation.

After a long discussion on the matter he held over for a speaker to be held over for a special meeting to be called by Mayor Frank Sinkewicz.

Clintonville Police Searching for Leads In Armed Robbery

CLINTONVILLE — Police still are looking for leads in an armed robbery which occurred about 5 a.m. Sunday.

The Zephyr Service Station, Seventh and S. Main streets, was robbed of $35 by an armed man.

Floyd Bowser, station operator, said a man came in and asked if he could use the phone to call a wrecker to tow a stalled car. The man, Bowser said, pulled a gun on him and took money from the cash register.

Bowser said the man fled on foot. Police were called but could find no trace of the man.

Clintonville Woman Fined for Bad Conduct

CLINTONVILLE — Mrs. Roselee Gruetzmacher, 20, 130 1/2 E. Madison St., was fined $15 on a disorderly conduct charge by Municipal Justice Nathan Wiese. She also paid costs of $6.70 and $8.75 for a police matron.

Clintonville police arrested Mrs. Gruetzmacher early Sunday morning after she was involved in a fight with another woman. She spent the remainder of the night in the local jail.

Waupaca to Draw Up Traffic Ordinances

WAUPACA — Chief of Police Fred Rasmussen was asked by the city council Tuesday night to locate traffic signs not covered by city ordinance.

The information will be used to draft a new ordinance to enable the police department to enforce the penalty clause for violation of warning or regulatory signs. City Atty. Laurie Anderson said he will prepare the ordinance.

Yule Rehearsals

LEEMAN — Rehearsals are under way for the annual Christmas program at the Leeman Congregational Church Christmas eve. Mrs. Lorraine Bisterfeldt is in charge of the program to be presented by members of the Sunday school.

decisions to Kiel and New Holstein.

Lion Coach Harry Drier has a young team that should improve with every game. A pair of sophomores, John Lindner and Jim Ross, are the visitors' two top scorers.

Senior center Jim Wagner apparently has shaken the football from his system. In the victory over Kohler last week, Wagner exhibited some good shooting and strong rebounding. Al Whitby was a pleasant surprise with 12 points, and Tom Dhein has been a steady scorer for the Tigers.

Elsewhere in the league, the ranks of the undefeated will be thinned by at least one Friday night when a pair of undefeated quintets, Valders and Sheboygan Falls, clash on the latter's court. For the hosts, Jim Mattek will appreciate the return of Mike Mauer to the lineup. The duo, along with the home court edge, could offset the Dennis Scheidt-Kieth Lippert combination of the Vikings.

New Holstein, the other undefeated team, is expected to keep its record clean. The Huskies entertain Kiel, 1-1, sparked by Gene Drumm. The hosts will counter with high-scoring Ed Flynn and a host of speedy marksmen.

A winless Kohler quintet faces the toughest test. The Bombers travel to Elkhart Lake to duel the talented Resorsters, 1-1, in a gym where even the finest teams have met disaster in the past when playing host teams far less skillful than the current version. The Oostburg Flying Dutchmen, disappointing thus far with two setbacks in as many contests, will attempt to snap back Friday night when they entertain at Plymouth. The 1-1 visitors are rangy but this should be the Dutchmen's first win.

Waupaca A of C Plans Meeting
